herbrooke Woman States She'll Never Get Through Praising Tanlac For Restoring Her

"I just wish every man, woman and child in Sherbrooke knew what a grand medicine Tanlac is," declared Mrs. Josephine Cartier, 12 Academic St., Sherbrooke, Quebec, recently.

"Tanlac has restored my health completely after I had suffered so much I never expected to get well. I hate to think even now of what I went through. Why, at times I had sinking spells and thought I would surely die. I had stomach trouble so bad I didn't know what it was to ever eat a good meal and I would bloat up so with gas I thought sometimes each breath would be my last. My heart palpitated terribly and I suffered a lot from nausea. Nearly every morning I got up with an aweyevery morning I got up with an aweyevery morning I got up with an aweyer.

"No One Interested in Coal.

PECULIAR STATEMENT, BY MR. COAKER. Efforts made by the firm of Joseph Salter's Sons to secure coal freights to Newfoundland ports for the dozen or more schooner craft now lying idle in this port have proved futile. A few days ago the firm wired both Premier Squires and Mr. Coaker, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, asking them if something could not be done whereby the schooners and their crews could be given employment in carrying coal from North Sydney to the various ports in the Colony. Mr. Coaker replied as follows: "Can find no one interested in coal cargoes." The Premier's message was along similar lines and held out no inducement of relief whatever.

The chief trouble to-day is that Newfoundland coal dealers are withholding the placing or orders in anticipation of securing coal cheaper than at prevailing prices. At present dealers have some stocks on hand which are sufficient to last them for several weeks, and until these are exhausted little effort will be made to renew contracts. Freight rates to-day on coal cargoes to the colony are approximately $4 per ton with $1 a ton added for discharging. This rate is $2 a ton less than that charged last year, but even with the reduction in freights, no buyers of black dia monds are in sight, according to Mr. Coaker's cablegram. In the opinion of a gentleman coning a big mistake in not placing or- concerns.—North Sydney Herald, May ders now. The companies are to-day, 114.
