The Crisis in Portugal.

Liseon, Jan. 18.—It is stated that a British squadron has been seen entering the Tagus, and has exchanged salutes with Fort Julian. The rumor that the fleet was in the Tagus had a tranquilizing effect upon the papers. The Journal of Commerce, apopular organ, entreats the people not to prolong unjustifiably the manifestations which involve breaches of the peace, and possibly fresh national humiliation. It is stated that a leading ship-owner, who is in municipal authority, begged Glynn Petres (the British Minister) meditation to provent the fleet from entering the Tagus, and Glynn Petre intimated if such a thing happened it would be entirely the fault of the inhabitants. A committee of ladies in society have formed the resolution to boycott Glynn Petres' wife. Projected railways are beginning to loon up ominously on the political horizon.

Application is to be made for leave to construct a railway from the city of Que-bec to the extreme eastern boundary of the Province and thence across Labrador to a point west of St. Charles Bay Point. The object of this line will be to shorten the distance between Canada and England. The comparative distances given are: From Chicago to New York via Pennsylvania Railway, 936 miles, time, 23½ hours; New York to Liverpool, 3,052 miles, time, 9½ days; making a total of 3,988 miles from Chicago to Liverpool, and of 7 days and 8 hours time. By the proposed new route the distance will be: Chicago to Belle Isle via Grand Trunk and proposed new line 1,800 miles, time, 1 day and 21 hours; from Beile Isle to Milford Haven (England) 1,700 miles, time, 3 days and 13 hours; making a total of 3,500 miles and thus affecting a saving of 1,352 miles of ocean travel and nearly two days in time. There are interested in the road Sir Henry A. Isaac, Lord Mayor of London, Eng.; Sir Robert N. Fowler, M P., banker; Mr. Thomas Wood, merchant, chairman Milford docks; Charles G. The Black Sheep Bill.

London, Jan. 18.—The eventual fall of the House of Lords is again foreshadowed in the anouncement that the Government contemplate introducing once more at the next session of Parliament the Black Sheep Bill, the object of which is to keep out of the upper House those peers who are a discredit to their order. not in Quebec, the Maritime Provinces or in the great Province of Ontario. It could not be denied that never were farmers more pinched than at the present time. There was agricultural depressions all over the country, and when agriculture was depressed the country could not be called prosperous. Referring to the Northwest, Mr. Laurier said the people had been treated in such a manner that if they were not loyal they would not have stood it. Everything had been done by the Government to hamper the Northwest settler. There had been a wanton use of the power of disallowance, and only when rebellion became possible, and loyalty was strained, did the Government to see that this railway, which had cost the country so much, be made to serve the people of Canada as efficiently as the people of the United States. He did not, however, expect the Government to give redress. They neglected even the ordinary duties of administration. He made the charge deliberately. At that moment they had not nerve to discharge ordinary duties which pertain to administration. The important port of Toronto had for the past two years been deprived of a collector of customs. Word has reached Lethbridge from London, Eng., that all the funds needed to build the extension of the Galt Railway to the United States have been secured.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's carnings for the week ending Jan. 14 were $204,000.

For the same week last year the earnings were $183,000. The earnings on the Southeastern road are not included in these figures. Toronto had for the past two years been deprived of a collector of customs. As another illustration of the torpidity of the Government, Mr. Laurier instanced the fact that out of six vacancies in the Senate they had only filled two. Perhaps, however, he was doing the Government an injustice. If they seemed inactive it might be they had been intimidated. They may not have stirred for fear of a false move, because of late every time the Premier made a move he took a false step, and had to retrace it. Mr. Laurier illustrated this by references to several recent somersaults of the Government. GAINESVILLE, Tex., Jan. 18.—A wild boar entered the house of a family of Osage half-breeds on Wild Horse Creek, Chickasaw Nation, a few days ago and devoured a 6-year-old girl who was alone in the place. Dominion Bureau Printers Dissatisfied. One thing he commended them for doing for making an offer of reciprocity in lumber with the United States, but he could not congratulate them fully. The offer was too niggardly. Why not come out generously and offer reciprocity along the whole line. (Hear, hear.) Perhaps the Government were smitten with remorse at stealing the Opposition's policy was to feed the hungry, and when the Premier put his hand in the Opposition's wardrobe again Mr. Laurier invited him to take the whole suit. The N. P. was such a threadbare garment that they were moved to compassions to see the rags on the honorable gentleman's shoulders.

mission to learn from Dutchmen and Scotchmen how to pack and cure fish, Mr. Laurier expressed the opinion that the Premier was simply trailing a herring across the path to conceal a bigger game. The speech from the throne had no reference to agriculture. With the exception of monopolists made wealthy by tariff restrictions, there was not a class in Canada today which did not sigh for some sort of a reform from the restrictions of the tariff. (Hear, hear.) The great majority of those who ten years ago put their faith in the N. P. were now reluctantly forced to the conclusion that the N. P. has been a failure. (Hear, hear.) It had improved the price of land in one or two great railway centers, but it had reduced the price of farm land all over the country to the extent of $22,000,000 and more in Ontario alone. It had nailed up the doors of many homes and sent their inhabitants to foreign lands. "Tarraign the Government on this score," he said. "The leader of the Government boasted that his policy would check emigration, but never has emigration been such a curse as it this moment. I appeal to those who believed in the promises made if any of them can say that the expectations aroused in 1878 have been fulfilled." (Hear, hear.) Even among the Premier's own colleagues the impression was deep-seated that the country needed reform; that the N. P. was not what it should be, and especially that the farmers need relief. The policy of the Opposition was the best policy, and one bound to be carried out at no distant date. (Hear, hear.)

Turning to the paragraph in the speech alluding to the Behring Sea seizure, Mr. Laurier described it as "so cautiously, curiously and diplomatically worded that it was most unsatisfactory." It seemed peculiar that in three years no conclusion could be reached. It was hard to believe that the Government had been diligent. (Hear, hear.) Mr. Laurier concluded by saying that according to the customs he refrained from dwelling on any matters not alluded to in the speech. (Cheers.)

Sir John Mac CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 18.—Last evening, as the Glendale accommodation, bound for Cincinnati, was leaving the station near College Hill Junction, the Chicago vestibuled train ran into the rear of the accommodation. The locomotive of the College train ran half way through the rear car of the accommodation, piling the passenger cars in a heap, and setting them on fire. Four persons have thus far been taken dead from the wreck. Several persons have been rescued fatally injured. Among the latter are James Staley, terribly burned; William Klamitz, aged 19, burned. Bob Stephenson, baggage master of the vestibuled train, was so badly hurs that he died in a few minutes after being taken out. The body of John Wilson, superintendent of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of Cincinnati, has been identified as one of those burned. The engineer of the vestibuled train is seriously hurt.

Patrick Barrett, a resident of London West, by occupation a resident of London West, by occupation a teamster, was the unfortunate victim. It seems that deceased, who owned a farm in Westminster, left there this morning with a load of straw. About 9 o'clock a.m. he was found lying on the road on Queen street, partially under the load. He was at once taken to his home, but the doctor said that death must have been instantaneous, as his skull was completely crushed. The accident was caused by the "reach" of the wagon breaking, causing the load to be thrown forward. Deceased was on the top of the load, and must have fallen on to his head.

blow off the froth before he got down to the porter. He said the mover of the address being a practical, a prosperous and a wealthy farmer, ought to know, and he said the farmers of Quebec were never so well off as now. The honorable gentlemen had become prophets of evil and would remain so until they changed sides in the House. Lord Palmerston, when he tasted some wine sent to him as being good for the gout, said he would rather have the gout. So the people of Canada would prefer to be ruined by the Conservative Government than give power to the Liberals. He declared the country was prosperous under the N. P., which he asserted Mr. Laurier himself once favored.

Here Mr. Laurier shook his head in the negative, and, Sir John, continuing, said he was glad, as a party man, that Mr. Laurier had induced his party after a great deal of vacillation to nail their colors to the mast of free trade. That was the issue. Mr. Laurier would find that Canada would remain protective, as were most of the civilized nations of the world, with the exception of England alone. He had the satisfaction of knowing that when he left the scene the patriotic Conservative party would remain in power as long as the honorable gentleman opposite adhered to the fatal, unpatriotic and unwise policy indicated that day. The address was adopted and the House adjourned till Monday.
