There was considerable discussion as to the parliamentary status of the treaty, and after it had been explained, the resolution of Senator Davis was adopted without division. The foreign relations committee wil take up the treaty today. Its opponents in the Senate say that there will be a great deal of discussion be fore the treaty can pass, no matter if questionably the greatest light oners success of recent years, "Brian Boru, or the Magic Fiddle," a romantic comic opera, by Stanislaus Stange and Julian Edwards, whose previous works "Madeline, or the Magic Kiss, "Friend Fritz," "Goddess of Truth, etc., have been so well received. For over three months the opera was giv en at the Broadway Theater, N. Y. to fashionable, crowded and enthusias-tic houses, while the Metropolitan press was singularly unanimous in its praise The company numbers over 100 peo ple including an excellent chorus and ballet of 60, a cast requiring 18 prin cipals, the best that could be sec the light opera field, a grand of chestra of 20 musicians, while the scenery and costumes are of the most magnificent description, and in every detail the production is identical wit that seen in New York, Brooklyn, and Boston, where the work was so wel received. A few good seats are still to be secured, but from the plan, i certain that a very large house will take to be a kind provision of nature to relieve the peccant humors of the system.' A few years before his death his butler became insane and had to be sent away. When he was leaving, he begged to see the president once more, "to ask his blessing." The president received him in the garden, where the man, stooping as if to kiss his hand, bit a piece out of it. 'How did you feel, Mr. President." tried by court-martial.

"Why, at first, sir," said the president, "I felt considerably alarmed, for I was unaware, sir, what proportion of human virus might have been communicated by the bite. But in the interval of reaching the house I was convinced that the proper tion of virus must have been very small indeed. Then I was at rost. But, sir, I had the bite cauterized.' Dr. Routh believed fully in the ceremonials and conventions of life, and he never appeared on any occasion without his canonicals. Some ill disposed undergraduates determined to break through this habit, and going under his window at midnight they shouted "Fire!"

The president appeared immediately in a terrible state of alarm, but he wore his
