LONDON, FRIDAY, FEB. 22.

MR. HYMAN'S NOMINATION.

For the eighth time, covering a period of twenty years, the Liberals of London have nominated Mr. Charles Smith Hyman for the House of Commons.There are few constituencies which can show the same record of attachment between a party organization and its standard bearer. These long-continued relations would not be remarkable if London had been a party hive, but Mr. Hyman has had to wage a continuous and often discouraging fight and has held the seat for only eight of the twenty years since his first nomination. A candidate less plucky would have thrown up the sponge. A candidate less worthy would not have had the undivided support of the Liberal party. The reverses which Mr.
Hyman encountered between 1891 and 1896 only served to strengthen the ties of personal affection between himself and the Liberals of London. The knowledge that Mr. Hyman had not been beaten fairly, that he had been defrauded of his rights by chicanery and corruption, deepened the constancy of his following.The Liberals of this city refused to desert Mr. Hyman in the years of his reverses; they demanded that he lead them, and would have no other. Now, after he has won and held London for seven years, has forged his way to the front rank of Canadian statesmen, and administers the greatest department of the public service, they are not likely to see him deprived of the fruits of his long and gallant struggle for want of effort on their part. Mr. Hyman has been suffering from acute nervous prostration, brought on by overwork.
He is on the road to recovery, but if the by-election is to be brought on at once he will not be able to safely plunge into the campaign. His friends will not ask him to take this risk, but will cheerfully shoulder the burden of the contest if there is to be one. Some of the local Conservative managers are opposed to contesting the seat at a time when the general elections are not more than two years off. We believe that all but a minority of heated partisans share this opinion. Citizens of London, without respect to party, should have a pride in the public achievements of their talented member.
There are scores of constituencies in this country that would consider it a privilege to be represented by a man capable of qualifying for so great a post as minister of public works.If the portfolio passes out of Mr. Hy-man's hands, it may be lost to London forever. The city has much to lose and nothing to gain by opposition to Mr.
Hyman at this juncture. In a general election, where there would be a chance of the Conservative party being returned to power, there would be some justification for opposing him, but there is no common sense in any attempt to defeat him now, and send a member to sit in opposition in place of a cabinet minister, who has given London prestige in Parliament and in the country, and who would serve the city's interests as no other man can.

EDUCATION AND CRIME.

Though results most gratifying have followed the establishment of the present common school system of England, the mother country is still far behind Canada, Ontario particularly, in this respect. But if the system has accomplished no more than in greatly reducing the number of inmates of juvenile prisons and reformatories, the experiment—for the system is as yet but in its infancy—most assuredly proves the wisdom of its authors. Official reports show that in 1904 the population of England was 34,000,000, as against 22,500,000 in 1870, the year of the introduction of the school system. In the latter year the number of juveniles in prisons and reformatories was 11,733, or 52 per 100,000 of population, while in 1904 the total dropped to 2,321, or 7 per 100,000. These figures have regard to children under sixteen years of age.
Equally significant is the fact that the prisons were not filled by those who had come under the beneficent influences of the education act, but by those who, when young, managed to escape compliance with its provisions—in other words, the incorrigibles. Indeed, it is estimated that at present less than 5 per cent of the prison population can read and write well. That there is still leeway to make up is evident. Discussing the question before the Ethnological Society of London recently Dr. Macnamara, M. P., a foremost champion of common school education, said there were still horribleslums, foul-smelling back alleys, vicious excesses in drink, and so on, but the country was moving ahead, and the common school was the directing and guiding force. Take London, for example. A fine board school stood on the site of the Horsemanor Lane jail, the Tate art gallery had risen in beauty from the ruins of Millbank, the Queen's Bench prison had gone, and with it the Clerkenwell House of Detention. It was indeed a portent. Let any man or woman over 50 recall the scenes at election time in the days of their youth.
Let them recall the state of the streets at night or on the occasion of any great public ceremony. Would it be argued that the schools had not enormously developed the sense of propriety, of courtesy, and of considerate demeanor?
Such splendid results should and, no doubt, will prove an incentive and encouragement to English legislators to endeavor to still further improve their common school system until it more nearly approaches our own, which is a pattern for the world, and will continue to be to unless incompetence and bungling undo what wise statesmanship has accomplished.

THE TORONTO JAIL INQUIRY.

The Toronto jail investigation has convicted the Ontario Government, not Governor Vanzant.It was not the governor's fault that with a change of Government came insubordination and attempts to undermine his authority. Some of the under-strappers made no secret of their desire to get rid of him, and they could be excused for thinking this could be easily managed when they saw the Government putting a premium upon tale-bearing in the Bastado case, and reaching out for the heads of Liberal appointees in every branch of the service. At any rate these mutineers made Governor Vanzant's post as uncomfortable as possible, and carried stories, reflecting upon his character and official conduct, to the spoilsmen. The testimony against the governor has been discredited by the exposure of the intriguing and plotting of jail officials, and of the partisan nature of the charges. Politics is shown to be at the bottom of the affair. The persecution of Vanzant, first by his subordinates, and then by the spoilsmen, would have been impossible but for the encouragement of the Government and its head-hunting policy. There have been conspiracies against the principals of other public institutions on the part of subordinates in league with place-hunters and patronage jobbers. The Government is playing the game by appointing partisan commissions, but it must not be allowed to escape responsibility for the spoils system by this device.

Laurier wants Hyman.

If youth is really a fault, Mr. Duncan Ross will outgrow it.The Conservatives, not the Liberals, are delaying the by-election.Mr. Stewart's cause in West Middlesex was not helped by the importation of Ganeys.The revelations in Toronto show how completely Whitney was taken for the license business out of politics.The Prime Minister knows a good Minister of Public Works when he sees him. He doesn't care to lose the present one.Cul bono? Hard-headed Conservatives may ask this question when they are asked to oppose the Minister of Public Works at this time.Politics is a hard master. For instance, Mr. Borden, who has the reputation of a gentleman, has to tolerate Fowler, M. P.THE WORLD'S GREATEST LIBRARY [Chambers' Journal.]The library of the British Museum, which now contains between three and four million volumes, is without exception the largest in the world, the only one which approaches it in size being the Biblio-theque Nationale, Paris, and it is interesting to note that for the accommodation of this immense number of books upward of 45 miles of shelves are required.DISAPPOINTED.
[Hamilton Times.]"All will surely be rejoiced at Mr.
Hyman's full recovery," says the London Free Press; but, interpreted by its manner of saying it, the remark would read: "Why didn't he go off and die like a rat in a hole, and make the way easy for us?"PLUGGED FOR FARE.
[Toronto Star.]No minister of the Gospel should have to admonish his congregation not to put their clipped, plugged and otherwise mistreated coins on the collection plate. The proper place for his junk, as many people have figured out, is the fare box.ASHAMED OF ITS SPYING.
[Montreal Herald.]The Star begins to act as if it were just a little bit ashamed of its insinuations that Mr. Hyman was shamming illness. It now says the day its correspondent caught Mr. Hyman looking pretty well was just the day before Mr. Hyman wired Sir Wilfrid that he would retain the Public Works portfolio. Then why all the fuss?"HELLO" GIRLS ARE MARRYING.
[Pittsburg Dispatch.]"It's so easy to complain," sighed an agent of the New York Telephone Company, as he listened to the twentieth complaint of the morning, "but if you knew the facts—it isn't the girls' fault; it isn't that they are not properly trained; the trouble is that each girl is doing the work of two. We simply can't get operators enough, and those we do get we can't keep. Why? Because this is the greatest marrying mania that ever a woman engaged in. We turn out between seventyand eighty girls a week from our instruction school, and marry off between ninety and one hundred a week over 4,000 last year in Manhattan alone. Many of them leave without a day's warning; do you wonder the service is poor? And it's all our own doing, too, for most of them meet their future husbands over our own phones. Now, how are we going to cope with a situation like that?"

GREAT GIFTS.

[Chicago Tribune.]

As for Mr. Rockefeller, there is no danger of his dying a poor man. He has given away less than $100,000,000, and he still has several millions left. This is a schedule of his gifts to education alone: Chicago University $21,000,000 Rush Medical College 6,000,000 Other colleges (estimated) 10,000,000 General education board, original gift 11,000,000
General education board, new
gift 32,000,000
Total $80,000,000And here is a list of other notable gifts to education in America: Andrew Carnegie—Libraries, universities, etc. $150,000,000 George Peabody—Total education benefactions 7,000,000 Stephen Girard—Girard College 8,000,000 (Now increased to $21,500,000.) Leland Stanford—Leland Stanford, Jun., University 20,000,000 William Marsh Rice—Rice Institute, Houston, Tex. 6,000,000 P. A. B. Widener—Widener Training School for Crippled Children 9,000,000
D. B. Fayerweather—Various colleges 4,000,000
Marshall Field—Field Columbian Museum 5,000,000 Cecil Rhodes—Anglo-American scholarships 10,000,000

FOWLER, M. P. AND CUR.

[Hamilton Herald.]

That such a speech could be made by a member of the Dominion Parliament is a disgrace to that body and to the country.
But the fact that Mr. Fowler received support and applause from the Conservative members is even more disgraceful. The man should be sent to Coventry.

WHITNEY'S SIMPLE SYSTEM.

[Windsor Record.]

So Hon. G. P. Graham is advocating civil service reform. What is the matter with Mr. Whitney's system of reform, which uses only a block and a broadaxe?
It is simplicity itself, is not patented, and makes a united party. If Mr. Graham comes to the throne he might look into it, but at present no other will go to Toronto.

SAYING IT.

[Yale Record.]

"They say that he fell overboard as the ship rolled on its side. I don't know."
"You might say that he left the ship in the lurch."

SOME ANIMALS.

[New York Press.]

A spinner with money to burn recently paid $5,000 for a building. A man in Massachusetts has just bought a cow for $5,000.
Walter Garvey has a hog for which he refused a cash offer of $4,000. James Keene refused $200,000 for Sweeney, a race horse.
There are several roosters of fashionable blood as high as $800 each. You can buy a fine lion for $300 and a tiger for $700. By and by we shall have a craze for breeding fishes. It is not a bad idea. A fish would be a good thing to have in the house. It would be a good thing to have
