A DASTARDLY TRICK.

$1500 Worth of Fire Hose Destroyed by Being Punctured.

It was made public yesterday that the dastardly stab at the reputation of their Maltese Cross hose. Lately Mr. T. Moness in this city, sold 5000 feet of hose to the usual way and everything found as uaranteed, with the exception of some guaranteed, with the exception of some fourteen lengths of fifty feet each Holes which had been cut with a sharp, flat pointed instrument were found in these fourteen lengths. Chief Ardagh notified Mr. McIlroy, and yesterday afternoon Ald. Farley; chairman of the fire and gas committee, Ald. Millichamp, Piper and Woods, ex-Ald. J. B. Boustead and others went to the Bay street Boustead and others went to the Day street fire hall to make an investigation. Mr. Boustead, who is probably the best hose expert in the city, examined the cuts very minutely and gave itas his opinion that they were made by some person who understood what he was doing. They were all exactly alike, cut very clean and of necessity done with the same tool. The hose was put to the bijects test and the punctures promiwith the same tool. The hose was put to the highest test and the punctures prominently showed themselves.

What can possibly be the object of this outrage Mr. McIlroy is unable to understand. The hose was shipped from the Brooklyn factory in perfectly good order, and was not tampered with after being handed over to the fire department. Mr. McIlroy is of the opinion that the outrage was perpetrated while the goods were lying in the freight shed. The value of the destroyed hose is $1500, which has to be made good by Mr. McIlroy. If this is the work of rivalry, surely business principles have got to a very low

Mr. Yarker's Successor. No decision has as yet been arrived at inquest touching the death of an infant found in a closet in rear of 110 Terauley street Tuesday morning. Mrs. Harrison, who lives at 110, gave some evidence regarding certain alleged suspicious movements of two girls named Ellis, who lodged with her up to a few days ago. The elder of the girls, she said, was sick, and a mysteriously covered bucket was carried to the water closet by one of the girls.

The youngest of the girls, named Mary Ellis, was in court, but refused to make any statement. She wouldn't say where

DEATH OF MRS. EDISON.

The Celebrated Inventor's Brief Course ship and Happy Married Life. Mrs. Mary Stillwell Edison, wife of the inventor, Thomas Alva Edison, died sudchildren. The story of her marriage Mr. Edison, says the New York Journal is a singularly strange and romantic one.
When he first formed her acquaintance he When he first formed her acquaintance he was about 25 years of age. He had just invented the chemical telegraph, by means of which could be transmitted, he claimed, on a single wire 3000 words a minute. The telegraph, notwithstanding this, however, became subservient to the Morse system. While working on the chemical telegraph he employed soveral young women to punch the holes in the paper. Among them was Miss Mary Stillwell. One day he was standing behind her examining a telegraphic instrument.

"Mr. Edison," remarked Miss Stillwell, "Mr. Edison," remarked Miss Stillwell, suddenly turning around, "I can always tell when you are behind me or near me."
"How do you account for that?" mechanically saked Mr. Edison, still absorbed in his work.
"I don't know, I am sure," she quietly answered; "but I seem to feel when you are near me."
