A Grand Success!

The honest merits of the

BERLIN BICYCLE

are now widely known and its sale has been remarkably large this season. Every owner of a "Berlin" becomes a warm friend and spreads its fame.

Four hundred have been sold this season up to date, and we have just completed a shipment of "Berlins" to Toronto and Montreal.

The $50 BERLIN meets the average purse and is giving the best satisfaction. There have been no complaints, but an increasing demand for this mount. It is now fitted with the same crank hangers and other improvements as the $65 Berlin. New features are being added for the buyer's benefit.

Hundreds of citizens are whirling where ten rode before. You don't know the fun you're missing if you don't ride. Get into the procession and ride a BERLIN. Come and see it at

NECK OR NOTHING.

By JEANNETTE H. WALWORTH.
(Copyright, 1897, by the Author.)

All the scorn was gone out of her face, leaving it white and sad. She lifted startled eyes to him, where he stood close to her chair. Stern resolution was written in every line of his worn face.

"I don't think I quite understand you, Strong."

"No?"

"Do you mean to say that you are going to do something that your conscience does not approve of simply because you think I want you to do it?"

Evidently she did not understand him. He would not enlighten her. Poor little one, he would not by one feather's weight add to her sorrows or her anxieties. He smiled wistfully down into her upturned face and answered evasively:

"Conscience generally does get worsted in a hand to hand combat with love, don't you think I simply mean that I am going to do battle for my principles. I am going out to take my chance of being shot at along with countless letter men, perhaps a few worse ones."

She leaned back wearily in her high chair and closed her eyes. Her head was crowded hot and fast under her lids. "I don't know what to say or what to do. It seems so wicked for you to keep all your strength and health and vigorous young manhood shut away from the world in this way—but, Strong, Strong!"

She stood up swiftly and stretched both hands toward him with the look of a terrified child in her eyes.

"Mamma! My dear! What is it?"

"If anything should happen to you?"

"You will respect me—dear."

"If anything should happen to you—I would be your murderer. And the world—Strong, the world would be so horribly empty."

He held her in his arms a moment, just long enough to press his lips reverently upon her shining hair. That was all. Then he stood back, holding her small trembling hands in a tight clasp.

"I had not meant to say anything to you until I could look you and the professor squarely in the face. Everything in the future is veiled by a black cloud of uncertainty. We will bide our time, my sweet, and I will grow strong, knowing that you believe in me."

She swayed, closed her eyes, clung to him for a brief moment, and then, with abandonment and then asserted her customary self possession with a pathetic little smile.

"I have grown so absurdly weak all of a sudden. It must be because I am so tired. We won't talk any more to-night. Good night, Strong." Then, as if in concession to the pleading in his eyes—"dear Strong," she whispered it into his love lit eyes and fluttered away from him as softly as a swallow on the wing.

As the bedroom door closed behind her the opposite one, leading into the kitchen, opened abruptly, and black Suzanne stood before him, quivering with repressed excitement. "Is you heard the news?"

"What news?"

"He turned upon her in irritation. Her low, intense voice had snapped in twain the golden thread of a blissful reverie.

"Up to the big house everything turn upside down. Mars Adren hurt. Ole marster goin to him. He goin to turn the folks and the folk back from the river bed?" he start. "Folk b'en packin up ever since dark. Only the ole folks and the cripples goin to be left in the quarters. The men and the boys is goin first with the carriage horses and the work stock. They gettin ready to start soon as day-break."

"For where?"

"Way over on the Lakelock place. Marster say if freedom can fin 'em there he'll give up. These is queer times sho."

"Who goes with them?"

"Ole Eben Martin and your brother Charlie. They done pick out the primers ones in the lot for to go. That boy looks fitter for his bod."

"Hold your gab, Suzanne. Send Viny here and tell her to fetch my valise."

The shadow of a black cloud fitted across Suzanne's grave face. She made no motion to carry out his orders, just stood still, hand on hip, pallid fingers in and out, and in.

"Well!" savagely from Strong.

"Is you a-goin'?"

"And her—your sweetheart," nodding toward the room suddenly converted into a guest chamber.

"Suzanne, do as I tell you."

There was a new air of self assertion about him. It was as if had suddenly come into recognition of a self entitled to some respect. Suzanne turned and left the room puzzled and awed. By the time Viny arrived, amazed but deliberate, he was sealing the envelope which inclosed his hastily written explanation to Miss Colyer.

He looked up as his old nurse, panting with the unusual excitement of this midnight demand on her energies, came to a halt by his table.

"W'at's this yer foolishness I hears from Suzanne? She says you goin out with the folks?"

"I am going out with father and Charlie."

"Then you is goin into trouble, that's all I got to say. Hi, w'at you think black folks is studyin about to let themselves be driv out reach up freedom w'en it's knockin at de do'? Times is gone by when ole Ben Martin and one of his boys nor two of 'em nor the whole lot, kin drive more'n 100 black folks plum' back inter the swamp, lak so many head er cattle. Folks is folks now, Strong Martin, and you kin climb you cliff and go tell ole Eben Martin that ole Viny say so."

"Father is simply carrying out Governor Strong's orders. And I am going to assist him to do so."

"All right. He'll need all the help you and a lot mo' lak you kin give him."

The look which accompanied these words was so sinister that Strong searched the old nurse's face anxiously.

"What do you mean, Viny? Speak plainer, old woman."

HEROES OF THE MERRIMAC.
Lieut. Hobson and His Men Exchanged for Spaniards.

Courteous and Formal Ceremonies Attended the Event, Which Took Place Under a Short Truce—Exodus From Santiago—15,000 Refugees Leave the City to Escape the Threatened Bombardment—War News.

Off Juraguá, July 6, evening, by the Associated Press despatch boat Wanda to Port Antonio, Jamaica, July 7.—Assistant Naval Constructor Richmond P. Hobson of the flagship New York, and the seven sailors who composed the crew of the collier Merrimac, which was sunk by Hobson and his companions in the channel of the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, on June 25, were surrendered by the Spanish military authorities to day in exchange for prisoners captured by the American forces.

Hobson and his men were escorted through the American lines by Captain Chadwick of the New York, who was awaiting them. Every step of their journey was marked by the wildest demonstration of the American soldiers, who set up cheer after cheer for the men who had passed through the jaws of death to serve their country.

The Spanish authorities consented this morning to exchange Hobson and his crew and a train of supplies for that purpose. The place selected for the exchange was under a tree between the American and Spanish lines, two-thirds of a mile beyond the front positions occupied by Col. Wood's Rough Riders, near General Wheeler's headquarters. The American prisoners left the Reina Mercedes Hospital on the outskirts of Santiago where they had been confined, at 8.45 o'clock this afternoon, in charge of Major Ties, a Spanish staff officer, who speaks English perfectly. The prisoners were conducted to the meeting place on foot, but were not blindfolded.

Joseph Astor and Count Mile, accompanied by Interpreter Maestro, were in charge of the Spanish prisoners. These consisted of Lieutenants Amelio, Votaw, and a German, a German belonging to the 99th regular infantry, who were captured at El Caney on Friday last, and Lieut. Adolfo Aries of the English 2nd Battalion, who speaks one of the most aristocratic military organizations of the Spanish army, and 14 non-commissioned officers and privates. Lieut. Aries did not know how many were wounded in the fight at El Caney. The Spanish prisoners were taken through the American lines punctuated and blindfolded.

The meeting between Col. Astor and Major Ties was extremely courteous, but very formal. The truce ended at 5 o'clock.

THE EXODUS FROM SANTIAGO.

15,000 Refugees Leave Santiago to Escape the Bombardment.

El Caney, July 8.—Fifteen thousand refugees yesterday filled the roads leading from Santiago to El Caney, Boniato, San Vicente and San Juan, adjacent places.

The proclamation gave the people only from 5 a.m. to 9 a.m., and as short notice was given, and the removal of horses was forbidden, the early water to carry them to the trenches—there was small opportunity for the fleeing people to carry household effects or comforts of life.

The road is long, and the weather hot, and the absence of water caused great suffering.

The women and children lay alongside the road, wherever there was a small patch of shade, begging passersby, particularly soldiers with dangling canteens, for water, which was always freely tendered.

Spanish Prisoners Cheerful.

Guantanamo, Monday, July 4, 6 p.m., per Associated Press despatch boat Dandy, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 4.—(6 p.m.) Resolute arrived in transmission. The steamer Resolute arrived to-day with 508 prisoners, including 18 officers and crew of the Spanish cruiser Cristóbal Colon. The prisoners being needed to carry them decided on. The number of killed and wounded on the Cristóbal Colon is very small. The captured Spaniards were remarkably being needed to carry them they had nothing to eat for 24 hours before the destruction of the fleet, and they had great difficulty in getting the men to the point, and there large amounts of liquor were given out. Many of the captured sailors still showed the effects of drink when put on board the Resolute.

Watson's Squadron to Be Detached.

Washington, D.C., July 8.—Secretary Long yesterday called Admiral Sampson, ordering him to detach immediately Commodore Watson's squadron, and directing the latter to proceed at once upon his mission. The vessels will be the Iowa, Oregon, Newark, and three cruisers, besides coal ships.

U. S. Troops Landed at Manila.

Washington, July 8.—The Navy Department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Dewey:

Cavite, July 4, via Hong-Kong, July 7.—United States troops have landed, and have been comfortably housed at Cavite, Luzon Island. Insurgents still active. Aguinaldo proclaims himself President of the revolutionary republic July 1. Dewey.

To Protect the Queen.

Rome, July 8.—The Austrian fleet is concentrated near Ragusa ready to start for Spain in case of danger to the Queen Regent. The Emperor of Austria yesterday telegraphed to the Pope, indicating his readiness to bring all the power of Austria to bear to protect the Queen in any emergency.

The War Must Go On.

Madrid, July 7.—(3 p.m.)—A Minister declared after the Cabinet meeting today that in view of the destruction of the Spanish fleet the war must be continued lest Spain be accused of cowardice.

Brooklyn Was Hit 45 Times.

Guantanamo, July 4, via Port Antonio, Jamaica, per Associated Press despatch boat Dandy, July 5, via Kingston, Jamaica, July 6, 7 p.m.—When the Spanish fleet left Santiago, it was with the intention to make for Cienfuegos, the nearest port to secure coal and provisions. All the ships were very short of coal, the Cristóbal Colon having only two days' supply, which she had secured at Santiago. The Spaniards concentrated their fire on the Brooklyn, hoping to disable that vessel, as they considered her the fastest of the American warships, and thus give an opportunity for at least one or two of the Spanish boats to escape. The Brooklyn was hit 45 times.

CERVERA'S REPORT.

Admits the Death of 600, Including the Commander of Torpedo Boat.

Washington, July 8.—The War Department has received the report of Admiral Cervera to Gen. Blanco, on the disastrous naval fight to the Spanish cause off Santiago. It is as follows:

"To the General-in-Chief, Havana: In compliance with your orders, I went out

DARED NOT GO TO BED.

Smothering Feeling and Palpitation, Together with Rheumatic Pains, Rendered Sleep Impossible.

Miss Mabel Jackson, 78 Huron Street, Toronto, made the following statement: "Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cured me of serious heart trouble of three years' standing. My physician said my heart trouble was caused by rheumatism. It was with great difficulty that I could go upstairs, or even walk a short distance, because such exertion set my heart palpitating so violently that it made me positively sick. I could hardly breathe and suffered greatly from smothering, often so badly that I dared not go to bed, and had to walk the floor all night for fear of suffocating. I became terribly nervous and weak, and was in a bad state, indeed, when I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

"My rapid recovery was a surprise to myself, as well as to all my friends. Four months since I have not had the slightest trouble with my heart; I sleep well, my nerves are strong and healthy and not subject to any starting. I walk as well as ever I did. The good effects of these pills have been a boon to me, not only because they rescued me from a condition of misery, but because their effects have been lasting. I am as well and strong to-day as ever I was in my life, although I have not used any of the pills since they completed their marvellous cure months ago."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure palpitation, fluttering, throbbing, dizzy and faint spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, pale and sallow complexion, weakness, debility, female troubles, etc. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. A box or 5 boxes for $1.25. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

WHAT ONE BUYER SAYS:

A gentleman walked into our store last week and commenced with "You make a big blow in the newspapers, but I don't take much stock in that." When he went out he said "I would have paid $5.00 more for this hardware if you had asked it, and it would be a big bargain then."

We are very careful to advertise FACTS only, so when we say an article is worth $3.00 but will be sold for 2.50, it is the

and you can prove it. Our price on the same qualities of hardware are from 5 to 10 per cent below any of the other stores, and this statement is a plain fact which you can prove.

We set the Pace, Others must Follow.
