

Parade.

Mr. Forth spends the early part of this week in Halifax.

The 24th holidays were taken advantage of by teachers to visit their homes.

The families of Mr. Jackson and Mrs. Z. Phinney are held by measles.

Mr. D. Daniels has returned from spending the winter with children in Mass.

Stephen Loxie, the six-year-old son of Haggis, caught with a fly, on Monday, six trout, each weighing over a pound.

Mr. J. Leavitt, agent of the Union Bank Annapolis, and sister and Mr. Young and son, and Miss Margeson, of Kings county, spent Sunday among friends.

The ladies of the Mission gave a literary entertainment, followed by cake and ice-cream, at their regular meeting on Saturday evening.

The prayer-meeting is held on Tuesday evening, six weeks, to give place to Prof. Paville's lecture, which will take place in the vestry on Wednesday evening.

At the meeting of the B. Y. P. U., led by Miss Ella Wilson on Sunday evening, Messrs. E. Morse and I. Eaton were appointed delegates to the Association at Niagara.

One candidate was received for baptism by letter on Saturday, and with another received some time previous, were baptized and received the hand of fellowship on Sunday morning.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

At a meeting of the literary society, held Mrs. J. S. Leonard on Thursday evening, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Forth for the interest he had taken in the society and the able assistance he had given.

Personals.

Mr. H. R. Shaw returned home yesterday from a business trip to St. John.

Mrs. George Robinson, of St. John, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Sanction.

Mr. R. M. Walker, of Digby, was the guest of his sister, Mrs. A. Foster, on Wednesday last.

The Misses Beattie and Edith McMillan, of Annapolis, are visiting their aunt, Mrs. J. W. Rodwith.

Mrs. Reginald Miller and infant son, of Annapolis, were guests of Mrs. E. Frazer on Monday and Tuesday last.

Mr. Chas. deArvy, of East Boston, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Langley for several days.

Rev. Josiah Webb and daughter, of Springdale, were guests of Pastor Young on Friday and Saturday last.

Mrs. R. C. Grant and Mrs. A. Russell, of Clarence, returned from a pleasant visit to St. John Friday last week.

Rev. E. P. Caldwell and wife, of Port Lorne, are on a visit of four weeks to friends at Lower Argyle, Yarmouth county.

Mr. A. Caldwell, of Halifax, was the guest of his brother, Mr. W. A. Caldwell, agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the past few days.

The Misses Beattie and Emma Crowell, of Annapolis, are guests of their sister, Mrs. L. R. Miller, who remains for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ansley, of Kentville, are in Halifax on a visit of several days.

J. B. Elliot Again Favors Our Readers with an Interesting Letter.

LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND.

DEAR MONITOR.—When I last wrote you were working about the Irish coast, and the Channel.

We kept a late watch on deck that night, for every light was welcome. The "Fastnet," then "Gallybaird," a post station, and then the signal stations and watchtowers of Killybegs with its garish and fortification, and then come Queenstown. Steamers now fill by an outward bound and inward bound.

Four or five vessels were seen carrying trade between the Irish ports, Cardiff, Queenstown, etc., with Liverpool. We watch and talk with one another, and at last bid the captain good night, at one o'clock.

We do not wait for the rising gale the next morning. Before six o'clock our port light is opened for a sail from Bristol Channel. It is lovely; warm and calm; but laxy, and no land to be seen.

We peer and bow, but nothing comes in. The breakfast gong sounds, and just as we get ready on our way to the table the words come "Wales on the starboard bow." We rush on deck, for first sight of the Welsh coast, for those who love the sea, and as it is at the height of the tide, it is as though the sea is so thick. Breakfast over and the anchor had increased 50 per cent, while the population had increased 25 per cent.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

Over Ten Thousand Murders.

A TERRIBLE RECORD OF UNPUNISHED CRIME FOR 1895.

(New York Herald.)

The last meeting for the year of the Paris Club was held at Sherry's last night. President Ellis H. Roberts presided, and the announcement that Andrew D. White, formerly president of Cornell University, would speak on "The Problem of High Time in the United States," drew an exceptionally large number of members to the meeting.

Mr. White began his address by stating that it was a matter of fact that there were more murders committed in the United States than in any other country in the world, and that in this country murderers were less frequently punished than elsewhere.

Statistics, he said, showed that since 1889 there had been a remarkable increase of murder. In that year there were 3,677 murders, but in 1895 there were 10,000 murders. In other words, in 1895 there were fifty-eight murders to every million persons, but in 1889 there were only thirty-five murders to every million.

Executions of murderers had decreased in like proportion, he said, in 1889 one murderer out of forty-five was executed, while in 1895 but one murderer in every seventy-four was executed. Lynchings on the other hand, had greatly increased. There had been 1,000 in 1889, but in 1895 there were 1,500.

Mr. White declared that communities were frequently stricken by time to time by such cases as that which had recently occurred in the case of a man who had committed eight murders who was only slightly molested, and that the power to punish by the government was being completely nullified.

Another great defect in our present system was that through long imprisonment the lives of the United States Supreme Court had recently. The taking of life for the highest crime had become a thing of the past, and the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for soon the sun clears the haze and mist away, the ship comes upon an even keel and everyone is smiling and glad. We are now in the bay of St. David's. The officers have less leisure to perform, and consequently less time to lounge by the gun. We soon want to know if the highland is Holyhead. It is, and no ship ever touched it more satisfactorily to her guests than did our ship, the "Oswin." Furthermore, the officers are so kind to us, that we are obliged to have such a delightful and calm time for the voyage.

We are now getting close to the fine view of the Welsh mountains, the Welsh green fields and the wild winds and the smoke stacks. The sea is calm, and in now or then, the only way of taking life is that the average American has objection.

"I'll tell you, for