

In conducting the focus group discussions, the focus group moderators followed an outline of topic areas which was designed by the Angus Reid Group in close consultation with client representatives at External Affairs Canada. A copy of the moderator's guide and screening questionnaire used in the study have been appended to the report.