The Peasoup outfit are yet to be defeated, and are off in the lead for the N. H. A bunting. Manager Billy Nicholson thinks that his big, busky defence will be good enough to keep out the speedy Canadien forward line, and is counting on his back division to win the game for him.

The Indians gave a good account of themselves against the classy Wanderers on Saturday night, and it was only the lack of condition and a little hard luck that beat them. The Tecumsehs learned a lot in Saturday's game, and can be relied on to put up a different article of hockey tonight.

Big Howard McNamara played a great game against Wanderers, and his individual work was excellent. He will be a big help to Nicholson's Pets tonight. The forward line will be practically the same as on Saturday, but with three more days' work and a whole lot of coaching they may turn the trick on the league leaders tonight. The game will start at 8. 15. PARI-MUTUELS ME AN CLEAN RACING SAYS JOCKEY BACK FROM FRANCE

When racing comes back to the minted States I hope that it will be inder the pari-mutuel system now in see in France, says Frank O'Neill, V. K. Vanderbilt's jockey, who is now he leading rider in France. I know hat it is customary for people going broad to praise everything European and frown upon things in our own United States I hope that it will be ! under the pari-mutuel system now in use in France, says Frank O'Neill, W. K. Vanderbilt's jockey, who is now the leading rider in France. I know that it is customary for people going abroad to praise everything European and frown usen things in our own and frown upon things in our own country, but no one that has never seen racing in France can imagine the seen racing in France can imagine the wonderful success the sport has achieved under the system. I have been besleged with questions asking me to explain the system of betting, and the American people seem to have such a vague idea of what the pari-mutuel is that an explanation of its workings cannot but prove interesting.

Everybody who has gone to the races has helped make up hat pools and has had a lot of fun out of them. In a hat pool the players are limited to the number of horses in the race. Each person puts up an equal amount to the number of horses in the race. Each person puts up an equal amount and numbers to correspond to the numbers of the horses on the program are thrown into a hat and drawn by lot. The person drawing the number of the winning horse takes the pot. The parl-mutuel is nothing more than a big hat pool, except that more than one ticket can be held on one horse, and the association takes out a percentage of the pot for the race a percentage of the pot for the race fund. In France seven per cent is taken out, a part of which goes to the government for the improvement of the breed of horses. The pari-mutuel machines are a mechanical contri-vance for the purpose of indicating to the public the number of tickets sold on each horse. Each horse has a num-ber on the machine to correspond to its number on the program.

All tickets have a uniform value, and the number makes the odds her All tickets have a uniform value and the public makes the odds because the horse on which the greatest number of tickets is sold is the favorite. To be more explicit: Suppose the uniform price of tickets was $1. If four horses were running in a race and 500 tickets were sold on No. 1, 300 on No. 2, 200 on No. 3 and 100 on No. 4, there would be a total of 1100 tickets there would be a total of 1100 tickets sold and consequently $1100 in the pool. If five per cent. was taken out for the race fund it would leave $1045 in the pool. If No. 1 should win each ticket would pay $2.10, or a little over even money. If No. 2 should win the tickets would pay $3.45, or 2 1-2 to 1, and so down the list, the odds on the

The pari-mutuel abolishes the plunger because he can never tell the odds that he is receiving, and the very weight of his own money serves weight of his own money serves to shorten the odds. It does away with the jockey briber and the middleman because there is no one to profit by the defeat of a horse. The pari-mutuel stands for clean, high-class racing with none of the features that followed bookmaking.

John M. Ward, who induced James E. Gaffney to buy the Boston National League Club last winter, and who resigned the presidency of the club last summer, received a cheque for $25,000 last week for 250 shares of stock which he purchased at the time the Boston Club passed out of the control of the Russell estate. Gaffney now owns the entire club. He was elected president when Ward withdrew, and agreed to pay the above amount for Ward's holdings on Dec. 12. Owing to the recent death of Joseph Carroll, who was Gaffney's partner in the club, Ward's settlement was postponed by mutual consent until last week. Ward said that he had been fairly treated by Gaffney, and declared that he was glad to get out of baseball, Ward recently received a cheque from Ban recently received a cheque from Bar Johnson in settlement of a suit for libel brought against the American League chieftain, so that these are happy days for the former captain and manager the Giants.

The latest from the press of Charles W. Murphy, that Roger Bresnahan has been signed as a Chicago Cub, caused a smile at Pittsburg baseball headquarters. The erstwhile Cardinal leader is practically on the Pirate roster. Fred Clarke and Bresnahan came to terms in Toledo. Ohio, several weeks ago. Their bargsin was clinched at the New York meetins.
