ANNUAL MEETING WARD SIX TORIES

British Navy "God's Second Gift to Humanity," Says Mayor Church.

Municipal candidates practically supplanted political orators on the platform of the Temple Hall, Queen street and Dovercourt road, last night, on the occasion of the annual meeting of Ward Six Liberal-Conservative Association.

The only enthusiasm of the evening developed when Mayor Church arose to speak. He was greeted on his entrance into the hall with "Toronto's mayor for next year," Ottawa, he declared, was the proper place in which to preach economy. Of every dollar raised in taxation in Toronto, 14 cents went to pay the undonnated debt of Toronto piled up before he became mayor. 13 cents was paid over for war expenditure, and only 23 cents was left on which to run the city. The Conservative party, he declared, was the party of the people, for the people, and it would continue to receive his co-operation.

British Fleet.
"The British fleet was God's second gift to humanity," he said. "No less of a nation would ever be a substitute for the British fleet, a fleet which has always been the defender of liberty."

President Clark stated that a fund was being raised to be used in the entertainment of the returned men of the ward. More than $80 was subscribed last night and the still open.

Ex-Controller Cameron, in speaking of the returned men, said that it was they themselves who would save what was left to be done with them. They would settle the problem of the returned soldier. The men who had saved Canada were capable of controlling her destinies in the future.

Major W. McBrien, recently returned from France, said that the men now in Canada were going to look after the interests of the boys who were not yet returned.

The association will forward a letter of condolence to Lieut.-Col. W. H. Price, expressing sympathy because of the death of his mother.

Others who spoke were Controller McBride, Ald. Birdsell, A. R. Williamson, Ald. Sykes, Controller Robbins, J. S. Laxon and T. E. Alcock.

IN MEMORY OF THE NOBLE DEAD

Toronto University Decides to Erect a Memorial to Her Heroes.

Toronto University is pledged to erect a suitable memorial to its sons who have sacrificed themselves in the great war by the decision of the Alumni Association at the dinner which was held in the large dining-room of Convocation Hall last night.

The president of the Alumni Association, Hon. Mr. Justice Maclean, was in the chair and was supported by a representative number of men, which included Sir Edmund Walker, Sir Robert Falconer, president of the university, Mr. P. H. Mitchell, president of the Toronto branch of the Engineering Alumni Association, Rev. R. P. Bowles, D.D., of Victoria College, Rev. A. Gander, D.D., of Knox College, Rev. T. C. S. Macklem, of Trinity College, and many other gentlemen. Letters and telegrams of regret for not being present were read from Sir Wm. R. Meredith, chancellor of the university, E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and others.

Gem of Architecture.
A resolution was unanimously passed to erect a suitable memorial in the university grounds, and the rest of the time was spent in discussion of the form that the memorial should take.

The general trend of thought was that the memorial to be fitting should be of such a nature as to make it the most beautiful that could be erected, a gem of architecture, a material monument, and that scholarships and lectureships should be instituted to perpetuate the greatness of the men who had sacrificed so much, thru all time.

A resolution was finally passed appointing a nominating committee to consider the suggestions made and carry out the undertaking.

DESPERATE FIGHT OF BURGLARING CHINESE

Desperately trying to make his escape after he had been caught in the act of burglary, a Chinese, living at 23 Mutual street, badly wounded Chong Woo, a fellow countryman, owner of a laundry store at 22 East Queen street last night.

Woo, who was suffering from numerous razor slashes on the hands, neck and back, was rushed to St. Michael's Hospital, but his condition was reported upon favorably by the authorities late last night, and he is expected to recover.

After wounding Woo, his assailant ran back thru the store, out the back entrance and hid in an abandoned coal shed, where he was found by Policeman Dawson, No. 320, who had been hurriedly called and who appeared in time to see Look making his getaway.

UNIVERSITY REGISTRATION.

The ranks of the Toronto University are being increased every day by the registration of returned men in the various faculties. Since the armistice was signed, sixty have registered in arts and fifty in applied science. Doubtless this increase will continue, and by next spring the university body will have reached its pre-war strength.

EAST-END HOLDS RIOTOUS MEETING

Ratepayers Clamorously Denounce Dr. Noble's Double School System.

An indignation meeting of the east-end ratepayers was held last night in the Earl Grey School, Jones avenue, to protest against the school hours that are being tried out in the junior classes in that school. The meeting, as it proceeded, developed personal traits, and at last became a riot in which half a dozen men and women tried to air their opinions and none were willing to listen to anyone's but their own.

H. P. Crooks, the chairman, called the meeting to order and stated the purpose of the coming together. He proceeded to object to the east end being used as an experimental station, and asked why the board of education had not seen fit to try it out on Rosedale.

"Do the little children are all wops, out here in the east end?" he asked, hotly.

At Earl Grey School an unexpected state of affairs exists. The youngsters in the school are heavier than was anticipated, and in order to relieve the congestion until further plans could be formulated, Dr. Noble's plan of half-day sessions was introduced. The result is that the junior classes, the senior pupils continuing the regular routine hours, in the case of the little children, however, half of them attend school from 8.30 until 11, and the rest from 11 to 1. This makes the classes smaller and more individual attention is obtained by the child.

The system has been in operation since last Wednesday. The objecting parents think that the manual training room and the domestic science room could be utilized as class rooms. Instead of being used for the present purposes. Others pointed out that, even if these rooms were utilized, the congestion would not be relieved, as only about 100 could be properly seated.

Mrs. Crooks, who was present from the board of education, said that it was a case of choosing the lesser evil. "It is fair to put little children in the basement? Is it fair to house them in portable rooms? Is it fair to crowd them, fifty or sixty into one room? It is impossible to get a new building at once, and something must be done to avoid a fair trial. The principal here felt that he must have more room, and asked that the board authorize this method to be tried out."

Dr. Noble, one of the members of the board of education who suggested the half-day measure, was present and spoke as long as he was allowed. "I want to give you a little advice," he said, "if you get on a board and want to be popular and stay there, sit tight and do nothing. If a proposal is made, vote for it, but never start anything or you will soon find the sticks flying."

Dr. Noble proceeded to explain the reasons in his proposition, but the east-enders were out to kill it, not to hear about it. He interrupted the speaker so often that he had to give way. He endorsed technical education, and said that he thought the whole five sessions should have development, not only the hours.

Mothers' Club Endowment.
Mrs. C. J. O'Leary, president of the Mothers' Club of the school, after thoroughly discussing it, tried several times to explain the stand taken by the Mothers' Club, but was not allowed to, the chairman once going so far as to shout at her, "You sit down!" Mrs. Montgomery also spoke in favor of the manual training and domestic science rooms, and said she did not like to hear any more about it from the teachers.

Controller McBride was present and made himself solid with the east-enders by agreeing entirely with their views, and then retiring in a burst of cheers. After his departure, Fred Childs, acting principal of the school, arose and said: "Mr. McBride did not give us any definite plan for helping us at all. When the meeting thought this over they saw that all Mr. McBride had said was a large, generous statement to the effect that if the school board needed money to build an annex to the Earl Grey School all they had to do was ask for it, and the board of control would be glad to give it."

Mr. Auger voiced a clear, sane, sentiment when he said that although he liked the school system in use in some American cities, he did not like the irregular habits formed by children by not utilizing the system in its entirety, but only part of it. Mr. Crooks thru-out the meeting kept calling for the use of the technical training rooms. "Throw the equipment out on the dump," was his sentiment often expressed.

"We want these two rooms, and were going to have them by Gosh," he cried hotly at last, and then the riot started. After things had quieted down a bit, it was found that Dr. Noble had gone, as he saw no chance of getting a hearing. Several men now called for something definite for municipal honors wanted a hearing, a motion was passed that they would only send their children to school during the regular hours, one man saying he would fight the matter out in the law courts if he had to. A deputation was appointed to go before the board of education and present their objections, and ask that the basement be put into temporary use for some pupils, seat has a board floor and is only three feet below ground.

Sloan's Liniment Kills Pain

"Regular as Clockwork"

You can foretell the future

You say "The man who could foretell illness would make a fortune!" Of course no man can—in the sense you mean. But you can tell pretty accurately what to expect your own body to do.

How?

Get this simple physiology: Your body machine has to be repaired. It also must have fuel to supply heat and energy. Your food supplies both repair material and fuel. But a furnace always produces ashes and clinkers. If these accumulate, the furnace becomes clogged and cannot work properly.

If your bowels become clogged—you suffer from constipation. Perhaps you hurry to work or play and neglect to obey Nature's call. Waste matter stagnates in the bowels. You go right on eating, drinking, working. What happens? The constipation becomes established. Waste matter undergoes decay, fermentation and germ action. Poisons are formed, absorbed, carried all over the body. They attack the weakest part of you first.

Then you know you're sick. In reality you've been getting sick since you missed that first movement.

If you want to keep well—wholly well, all the time, so that you're on your toes every day, remove the waste.

Many people take pills, castor oil, purgative mineral waters to force the bowels to act. These act, but they irritate, tire out the intestinal muscles, make the trouble worse.

Others take "salts" which attract water to the intestines and flush the bowels—about as gently as a fire hose. A re-action follows that makes the intestines dryer than ever and aggravates the constipation. You needn't do this and weaken your system just because all of your ancestors did.

The Nujol Treatment moves the waste regularly, and easily. It is a purely mechanical process, absolutely harmless, based on a simple principle—that you can move a softened mass out of a tube more easily than a hard, dry one. It doesn't gripe—you won't know you have taken anything until after a few days your bowels move at the regular hour. It makes you "regular as clockwork."

Don't try to foretell illness. Foretell it. Don't wait until you're sick. Keep well now. Your druggist has Nujol.

Warning: Nujol is sold in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. Insist on Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.
