PHILIP JAMIESON
Canada's Greatest Clothier. - Rounded Corner - Yonge and Queen Streets

the subdivisions courts of Toronto to the honored and returned Chief, Dr. Ononhyatka, Supreme Chief Ranger I.O.F., who was seated at the head of the long hall, swelling in the interests of the order, in Italy, Switzerland, France and Egypt.

They heartily welcomed back the Father of Forestry, without whom the Institution would be as helpless as the blind men of Sherwood Forest in their own Wood. The outer porch was gay with electric light flashing out "Welcome" in brilliant letters.

In the Hall, the subdued electric lights shone on the beautifully decorated interior, the darkened faces of the members black of their escorts. The room was redolent with the perfume of flowers, and the fragrance of the forest of another scene from fairyland; draped one on either side of the platform were two large pictures of Dr. Ononhyatka were a British and American flag.

The Chief's Entrance.

Suddenly there was a stir at the entrance, the doors swung open and a double file of Foresters, with gold epaulettes and mail facings, marched to the platform, halted under the glare of the faced arches, and then clashed the swords, as arch of steel was formed, and through the ranks emerged our returned Supreme Chief Ranger, Dr. Ononhyatka, whose arrival was received with a sympathetic shout of welcome by all present. A gentleman: Rev W J McLaughan, Dr Milman, G A Stevenson, H C R and H A Bannister.

As the Rev. W J McLaughan read the presentation address, a beautifully illuminated scroll was unfolded by the Grand Doctor, those on the platform all stood and remained so till the end.

Those who were also on the platform: S Herbert Luke, P E Cammer, J.R.S., G A Stevenson, H.C.R., P Milman, H.A.Bannister, J.E. Morgan, H.V.C.R., D Albert Ross, M.D., O Fitzgerald, S.W. R Sanders, H.C.R., J.E. Morgan, H.V.C.R., J.E. Morgan, H.V.C.R., Rose, Major F F Manly, E J Heam, H.C.R., W.B. Grider, S.A., P M Breton, D.S.C.R., J.E. Morgan, H.V.C.R., J.E. Morgan, H.V.C.R., James Harper, W W Dunlop, W J McMurray, Col commanding, C A Stone, R.P., H.A.Bannister.

The Address.

To Ononhyatka, M.D., Supreme Chief

"We, the undersigned representatives of our courts, take great pleasure in tendering you a warm welcome to our midst, and your return from the Old World, where you have been for the past four months on tour, and we hope will find you at the same time looking after the interests of the Order in Europe.

We, the undersigned, congratulate you on your appearance of good health present at a High Court in the United Kingdom, I have been misled on various points," doubting Thomases. I have not asked a single question of that character, and I have no right to do so, which, I have attended. The misgivings which formerly prevailed, even among our own membership, have all been removed. The place now is, we have not only confidence in the order, but a zeal to crowd on all sails on the old ship.

"We must be advised that in your absence you did not altogether cut loose from the cares and responsibilities of your exalted position, and that you have maintained communication with the head office, and the knotty problems, which must always be solved by the head office, and the I.O.F., with about 140,000 members, have been solved by yourself the same as ever."

"Statesmen and patriots here and in the United States, as well as in the Mother Country, have been watching the progress of the Stars and Stripes, now so often grouped together as an evidence of that sentimentality in the International Order, which is the English-speaking world. Anglo-Saxon unity has long been an established fact, and the Stars and Stripes are the symbol of our brotherhood. In the United States and in the British Isles have been the same sentimentality, and the Stars and Stripes, and British and American hands have time and again been joined in the same sentimentality, and the Stars and Stripes, and British and American gatherings. Nothing could be a more fitting consummation of the principles of the Order, than a close union between two nations who are one in blood, and who, for the good of mankind, to be one in purpose."

"With renewed expressions of the pleasure we feel at your presence, and your efforts, to bid you a cordial 'welcome home.'"

The allusion to the "Circle of Concord" was received with applause.

The Royal Foresters.

After the conclusion of this presentation, the officers of the Royal Foresters, in spite of the fact that they were not a reply, Messrs. Luke and Stone addressed the following:

To His Majesty the Supreme Commander Orangethaka:

The officers and knights of Temple Equipment, No. 1, Royal Foresters, desire to express to their very great gratification and pleasure at the return of their Supreme Commander Orangethaka, and to bid you to continue to prosecute his glorious work with unimpaired vitality.

The members of the encampment feel that they are very proud to have you for our many acts of kindness and consideration, your willingness at all times to render assistance to the poor, and to the sick, and us in strongest fellowship, promoting peace,

The Foresters. The Canada Life paid out the sum of $890,000 to the I. O. F., in benefits by Supreme Council alone, paid out $692,000 in this year. What does this mean? It means that every day we distributed to widows and orphans over $200, and yet we are only a baby! I have been a member of the I. O. F. for thirty years in the world, and distributing millions yearly.

I, E. J. O. F. is never surer of the future than it is to-day; we have less than ten per cent. of premium income to meet all our liabilities, at rates more than one-half of the old-line companies."

The Doctor closed with thanks for the cordial and brilliant reception, which was extended to him by the audience. The order had only to be understood to receive the sympathy and support of all who loved their fellow-men.

Congratulations.

His Worship Mayor Shaw was expected to give the address of welcome. He was unavoidably absent. In the interim Mr. Alex Fraser made a complimentary speech. The name of the subject, "Chert Kaur," was his thoughtfulness and ability, would be a more lasting monument than the superb building confiding the order.

A exceedingly attractive program was contributed to by Miss Maud Gordon, who played several piano pieces. Mr. J. W. Bonney sang two songs. Dr. J. H. MacCallum, a strident of the very small crowd, caricatured others present, and giving several clever remarks. The singing of the hymn, "Nimble Land Return, who charmed the audience with the compass of her low contralto voice. Mrs. G. Williams sang "For All Eternity" with great expression.

The gathering dispersed after Mr. McGillivray's prayer. At nine o'clock on Tuesday night by Dr. Oronhyaketha to the Royal Foresters at McConkey's, with "God Save the Queen."
