PLENTY OF VARIETY AT LOCAL THEATRES

Hot - Weather Offerings Should Draw Torontonians From Their Homes.

Going to prison to protect a girl, only to have her denounce him after his release as an ex-convict in the presence of the people among whom he is trying to rehabilitate himself, is Robert Warwick's experience in the role of the hero of "Thou Art the Man," the striking photoplay in which the soldier-star is appearing at the Regent Theatre next week. The locale is in the diamond fields of South Africa. The central figure, played by Mr. Warwick, is a young English soldier of fortune, who is suspected unjustly of being implicated in diamond smuggling. Lois Wilson has the role of the girl. The story was adapted by Margaret Turnbull from a novel by F. E. Mills Young. It is a Paramount-Artcraft production.

"Daddy Dumplings." For the second week of the engagement of Tom Wise with the Robins Players at the Royal Alexandra Theatre, commencing Monday evening, Edward H. Robins will, for the first time on any stage in the world, present "Daddy Dumplings," the brand new comedy from the pens of the two famous authors, George Barr McCutcheon and Earl Carroll. While "Daddy Dumplings" is described as a comedy, the authors have written a well told story, that contains one of the most beautiful love stories ever given to the public. "Daddy Dumplings," the leading character of the play, is one of those nice old duffers, whose love for all creatures causes him to think with his heart instead of his head.

Earl Carroll, co-author with George Barr McCutcheon, in the writing of "Daddy Dumplings," has been in Toronto all week assisting Mr. Robins and Tom Wise in the proper direction of the play, which is the exclusive property of Edward H. Robins, it having been written for him around the personality of genial Tom Wise.

"The Birth of a Nation." Apart from the wonderful representation of the assassination of President Lincoln, one of the most striking scenes in the historic drama, "The Birth of a Nation," there is a succession of events of compelling interest. Beginning with an exposition of early slavery days of the civil war, but each dread happening is placed in contrast to delightful romantic scenes and the horrors of war are relieved by the little human touches that Griffith knows so well how to give. There will be two performances every day at the grand next week, promptly at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m. The management again wishes to impress upon the public the great convenience of buying seats in advance.

"Father and the Boys." Another comedy treat is in store for the many patrons of the Robins Players when for the week of June 21, Edward H. Robins will present Tom Wise in the comedy ever written by the Hoosier humorist, George Ade, "Father and the Boys." This comedy, which has been seen locally in New York, pokes satirical fun at the younger generation, which thinks it is smarter than their middle-aged fathers.

At Loew's Next Week. Alice Brady plays the part of a New York society girl with the charm and grace for which she is famous in "The Heart Marker" at Loew's Yonge Street and "The Winter Garden" next week, "On Manila Bay," featuring Teddy McNamara, and eight talented players, in a mechanical-electrical comedy novelty features the vaudeville, which also embraces: Gehan and Gehan, eccentric equilibrist; Snyder's performing goats; Alie Ripon, Scotland's premier ventriloquist; Gene and Minnie, in a merry cycle of melodies, and Moore and Fields, the original jazz boys. The added film feature introduces Larry Semon in "Solid Concrete."

At the Allen. A double bill, which will cater to every taste, will be given at the Allen, commencing Monday, presenting two of the most popular stars of the present day screen, Pauline Frederick's latest picture, "The Palliser Case," from Edward Salts' novel of the same name. This dramatic tale concerns the murder of a wealthy young couple as he sits in his box at the opera. Who killed Monty Palliser and re-darkened the eyes that saddened and moved the lives of three people? The conclusion of the Palliser case, after memorable scenes in the Metropolitan Opera House and in the police court, solves a mystery that is as thrilling as it is baffling.

One of the strongest human interest and dramatic pictures he has yet had is "The Call Me Jim," adapted from the popular novel by J. C. Holland. It is filled with pathos and humor. There are tense, dramatic moments and it

At the Strand Next Week.

David Graham Phillips, the famous novelist whose powerful and entrancing stories are known to all readers of popular fiction, wrote "The Cost," the picture of which will be shown at the Strand Theatre next week. It is the story of a girl, who, becoming infatuated with a young man unworthy of her love, marries him against the strong advice of her mother. Tragic and strikingly dramatic events follow her discovery of his continued unfaithfulness after marriage. The cost of her mistake is heavy. The husband not only wrecks his home but indulges in a mad, unscrupulous chase for dollars. The story is given in variety by lively comedy scenes at the beginning. There are also exciting stock exchange scenes as the story approached its climax. The ending is surprising and happy and inspiring. "The Cost" is a masterly Paramount-Artcraft production and beautiful Violet Hanning heads the capable cast.

The last showings of "My Lady's Garter" take place at the Strand today.

"Haulan's Point." There is always a cool breeze to be had at Haulan's Point just across the bay. The ferry service from the foot of Bay street is a boat every few minutes for the balance of the summer. Every amusement at the point is now in full swing, all the rides going, the dance hall with its jazz orchestra and a new floor is proving more popular than ever before. The open air band concerts are again this season a feature. One of the best military bands of the district will be heard this afternoon and evening, also tomorrow afternoon and evening. The first of the free outdoor acts for the present season will begin an engagement next Monday afternoon. This is Van's comedy circus, dog and pony show. At White City, Cleveland, this act was one of the prominent features. The performances will be given every afternoon and evening all next week.
