Ald. McGowan had a narrow escape from an accident last evening. He was watching his men putting up some advertising signs on Henderson & Hunt's store at the corner of Germain and King streets. In order to get a better view, he was backing up over the crossing towards the north side of King street. He felt his foot give way and, looking down, saw that the asphalt had caved in, revealing a hole several feet deep with running water in it.

The dredge W. S. Fielding is now dredging the shoal places outside the bell buoy. Gravel is the principal material being brought up, and it is being placed into the hopper of the dredge. The dredge then steams out and dumps instead of using the small scows, which were not found satisfactory. The tug Kitchener left Tuesday night for Lunenburg (N. S.), to bring two of the large scows which were brought down from upper Canada last year. Each has a capacity of 700 yards and will be attached to the dredge on arrival.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

HARBOUR MATTERS

Owing to rough weather the dredge W. S. Fielding was compelled to abandon work in the harbor channel this morning. The dredge went out to the channel but was forced to come back to her wharf. The dredge Dominion has about completed her work on the west side and there is a possibility that she may be put at work below Sand Point in preparation for the building of new wharves there in the future.

The site for the new wharf to be built

The site for the new whart to be built by the government at the end of the Clark & Adams structure is now about completed, and it only remains for the board of works to approve of the amended plans sent down by the minister of public works, for the construction of the wharf to be commenced.

Ore

Halifax, N. S., April 2—(Special).—
Officials of the Dominion Iron and Steel and Nova Scotia Companies are in a little flurry of excitement over the prospect of a big lawsuit that may rival in magnitude the famous Dominion Coal-Steel case. The dispute has its origin as to the right of way in certain iron areas at Wabana and coal area delimitations at Point Aconi The Wabana ore deposit in question, it appears, only came to light after the transfer of the million dollar areas to the Dominion Iron and Steel Company to the Nova Scotia Steel Company, those of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company lying below them.

St. John Man Foreshadows Results of South African Customs Conference

Ottawa, April 2.-Mr. J. A. Chesley, Canadian trade commissioner in Cape Town, in a report to the department of trade and commerce, foreshadows a cust oms conference in South Africa as a step-

The conference will be held next month. It is expected that a return will be made to a ten per cent. tariff, which prevailed before the ad valorem duties were raised to 15 per cent. two years ago. There may also be an extension of the free list, and the adoption of some moderate form of protection in order to stimulate local in-

INQUEST UNNECESSARY

William McIntosh will give an illustrated talk on "the animals found near St. John" in the Natural History rooms tomorrow, Friday afternoon, at 4 o'clock. Free to children over ten years of age.

It is improbable that the civic assessment will show much of an increase this year over last year, as the time is rather short for the members of the new board to go over the city. There will be some increase, however, and next year it is expected the total assessment will be considerably larger than for some time past.

Nowlan

After an inquiry, Coroner Roberts last night decided that an inquest into the death of Frank Nowlan, who was found dead near the Golf Links, Tuesday, was unnecessary. The evidence showed that the three mem were drinking to excess and Nowlan being helpless, was frozen to death.

It has been learned that the liquor the mem had was procured on Sunday morning contrary to law and the dealer who sold it will be prosecuted.
