CANADA'S HEROES

All Canada is thrilled by the story of the danufless courage of the Canadian suffers, many of them for twenty four hours without food or water, their renks constantly thinned by the fire of the enemy, yet steadily flighting against enormous odds as long as a cartridge remained, against an enemy that envelope them on three sides, and assailed them with poisonous gases as well as the ordinary weapons of war. When the complete story of that battle is told the herosism of the Canadians will rank with early of the Allies to hold the positions they now occupy for an indefinite period, but that would not result in a satisfactory ending of the wars. The Germans must be driven out of Belgium and France, and the fighthing transe in the battle north of Tyres amount to fully six thousand, and the fact proves how terrific the fighting must have been practically five to one of the Canadians. We know have deep rate that the casualties among the Canadians will must have been practically five to one of the Canadians. We know have the desperate character of the fighting that has been in progress for months, and that will continue for many months to come. Our own casualty list has told the story. It tells us also that Canadians would be a more and more ment to fill up the shatered ranks of her brigades. She has the satisfaction of knowing that her sons are among the brigades. THE UNSPEAKABLE ROGERS

The Hon. Robert Rogeri grossly insulted every Laberal in Canada by his ulterances in an address to the Come screative Association of Montreal yesterday. He charged that the opposition were opposed to giving the government enough money to prosecute the war. The minister of public works knew that this statement was utterly false when he made it. He knows that the Liberals of Canada are sending their sons to fight in the most dreadful war of all time and that they would not refuse anything required that Canada can give to prosecute this war to a successful issue. He knew while he was speaking that that to which the Liberals objected was the placing of unnecessary tariff burdens upon the people as a result of government extravagance in the conduct of the domestic affairs of Canada, and the scandalous graft, of which only a very small portion was revealed before the public accounts committee at Ottawa, showing how the government, of which Mr. Rogers is a member, has been and is permitting favorites to enrich themselves at the expense of the country, and to divert to their own pockets money which should be made available for the prosecution of the war. Mr. Hoger may wave the flag to his heart's content but as an advocate of a general election in Canada at this time he brands himself as a meckine publican whose chile concern is to keep himself and his friends in power. Non-political meetings in Toronto and Winnipeg have declared against the elections, and the Ministerial Association of Winnipeg yesterday adopted a similar resolution. In every part of the country the feeling is strongly expressed that the government should not authority to close up a lodging house pursue a course that would inevitably even when it is "in a state of unspeak arouse political bitterness, and distract able filth." Possibly not; but they could public attention from the very serious report it to the board of health, and if business of carrying on the war. How serious that business is the daily casualty action they could report it at City Hall, and keep on reporting somewhere unt There could be but one explanation of an appeal to the people at this time. It, would be that the government is afraid of the exposure of more of the iniquity that has marked its administration of affairs, and it wants to snatch a verdict from the people before any further revelations are made. The answer of the iniquity and seventy. This information, which appears in a Berlin newspaper, does not indicate that Germany has all the men people to such an appeal ought to be the she needs. Her losses have been enormous, both on the eastern and western fronts.

THE GREAT DRIVE. THE GREAT DRIVE.

There is naturally a great deal of interest in the probable date of the great drive by the Allies against the Germans in Belgium and France. Lord Kitchener months ago said that the war would begin in May. During the intervening months recruiting and the production of war material have been pressed forward with the utmost activity, and there has been a continuous movement of troops across the channel to reinforce fir John French. Estimates have differed as to the number of men sent over DAYLIGHT SAVING. tra hour for outdoor recreation, and last, but by no means least, there would be a wonderful saving of light, electricity, be well over three-quarters of a million men. While the Garmans have been driven back at some points, both in the morth and in Alsace-Lorraine, there has not been a very marked change in the

The Sverige has a displacement of 7,000 tons, and will carry a crew of 408 men. She is 393 feet long and has a draught of twenty feet. The vessel is designed for a capacity of 20,000 horsepower and a speed of 22.5 knots per hour. She will carry four 11-inch and eight 6-inch guns, six 12-pounders and two torpedo tubes.

The Sverige was sanctioned by the Swedish parliament in 1911, but when the Liberals came into power this sanction was cancelled. The people of the nation thereupon began a subscription for the building of the ship, and about $4,900,000 was raised. As the estimated cost of the Sverige was only $3,350,000, it was decided to use the surplus in the building of a second ship.

Contrary to popular belief, the British soldier in the field is not receiving his ration or any other form of alcohol every day.

Coincident with but not necessarily associated with the temperance agitation in England, the rum rations are now served only twice a week.

Warmer weather and the desire to cut down the use of stimulants is the explanation. So far as known there has been no protest from the troops. The two drinks a week amount to about half a gill each.
