

SUBMIT ARTICLES OF CONSTITUTION FOR IRISH FREE STATE

Instrument Makes Southern Ireland Member of British Commonwealth of Nations—Embodies Adherence to Crown—Legislative and Court Systems Strikingly Like Canada's

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

London, June 15.—The draft of the new Irish constitution made public tonight on the eve of the Irish elections gives, as the document itself states, force of law to the Anglo-Irish treaty and expressly declares that any provision of the constitution or any amendment thereto, or any law enacted upon the constitution which is in any respect repugnant to the treaty, shall be void and inoperative.

The constitution thus embodies connection with the British crown as already established in the treaty, and generally places the relations between Ireland and the empire on the same basis as Canada and the other dominions.

The constitution requires every member of the Free State parliament to subscribe faith and allegiance to the constitution and swear to be faithful to the king in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland and Great Britain and Ireland's membership in the British commonwealth of nations.

Modern Document.

The document contains seventy-nine articles and is considered an up-to-date instrument, not only granting female suffrage, proportional representation and a referendum to the people, but also empowering the people themselves to initiate legislation. It gives to the chamber great powers with respect to money bills, without control from the senate, thus duplicating the position as between the British House of Commons and the House of Lords. It exempts the Free State from active participation in war without the consent of parliament, except in the case of actual invasion, and gives the Irish supreme court the fullest powers, only stipulating for the right of citizens to appeal to the king in council against the supreme court's decision. It provides for freedom of religion and conscience, gives Free State citizens full protection against the arbitrary power of court martial and extends to parliament exclusive control over the armed forces, as stipulated in the treaty.

Ireland, the Nation.

Article 1.—The Irish Free State is a co-equal member of the community of nations forming the British commonwealth of nations.

Powers From People.

Article 2.—All the powers of the government and all authority, legislative, executive and judicial, are derived from the people and the same shall be exercised in the Irish Free State through organizations established by or under, and in accord with this constitution.

Article 3.—Citizens of the state shall be those persons who were born in Ireland or of whose parents were born in Ireland or who have been domiciled in in medicine, as in every other necessity, the public is satisfied with nothing but the best. This explains the ever-increasing demand for Zam-Buk. Not only is this great balm the best household remedy to-day, but it is also the most economical.

Zam-Buk's superiority is due to the fact that it is all medicine, containing none of the coarse animal fats or harsh mineral drugs found in ordinary ointments. Again, the medicinal properties are so highly concentrated that they contain the maximum amount of healing, soothing and antiseptic power, so that a little of this balm goes a long way.

Another reason why Zam-Buk is most economical, is that it keeps indefinitely and retains to the last its strength and purity. But for skin diseases, insect bites, blood-poisoning and piles. All dealers, 50c. box.
