ALCOHOLIC WARDS FILLING UP AGAIN

New York Charities Commissioner Reports Big Gain at Bellevue and Kings County Hospitals.

(N. Y. Times.) An increase in the sale of intoxicating liquors in New York City is indicated by the report of the Commissioner of Public Charities, that the number of persons treated in the alcoholic wards of the Kings County Hospital, to which institutions virtually all alcoholic cases of the city are sent, are approaching the number carried for before the advent of prohibition. In the last few weeks, the number of patients in the institutions greatly increased, the commissioner said.

Commissioner Coler said the alcoholic cases in the institutions are now being treated at a very unusual rate. "They are getting something," the commissioner said, "but this is not of business in a few minutes, from the reports made to our institutions. It is something like the so-called 'knock out drops.' The victim goes down in a hurry, without warning, but recovers quickly. At all events, we have had a number of such cases recently."

The lid is off, said a physician at Bellevue Hospital, as an explanation for the big increase in the number of alcoholic cases being treated there. He said there was every indication that New York was rapidly approaching the wide-open days of the legalized saloon. He reported a big decrease in the number of women patients. Virtually no women are received for treatment now, whereas formerly they were almost equal in number to the men. There are comparatively few cases of delirium tremens now. Nearly all persons taken to the institution are able to leave the next morning. "The staff gets quite a little weary," an attendant said. "In nearly every case it is found that the person has had only one or two drinks, after which his mind becomes blank. He knows nothing until he awakens in the institution the next morning."

It was said that at Bellevue the number of alcoholic cases treated will exceed 100 a month. Joseph Goldberg of 140 Charlton street, Newark, N. J., was held yesterday in $2,000 bail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense. It is alleged he sold what he represented to be two barrels of whiskey to Isadore Schwartz of 192 Springfield street. Schwartz alleges that he paid $1,800 for the barrels and their contents, and that after tapping the barrels he found that they contained water.

Massachusetts has a law framed for the purpose of giving assistance to widows, orphans, and all unmarried persons who hold but $1,000 worth of property or under, whereby these persons are exempted from paying any tax to the state. As a result, a woman in Lowell, a mill operative, unmarried, who has an automobile in which she goes pleasure riding, is exempted from paying any tax on it because she says it is the only property she has, and its value is only $500.

SAW THRILLING DAYS IN RUSSIA

Capt. Vanwart of Fredericton Here Today on His Return Home.

One of the most graphic and thrilling experiences during hostilities in the various countries in Europe and Asia were related this morning to a Times reporter by Captain H. H. Vanwart of Fredericton, who recently returned from Siberia and is now in the city at the Dufferin. He was very reluctant at first about telling of his experiences while serving with the British military mission among the Czechoslovaks in Siberia, but finally consented to say a little.

Captain Vanwart was present at the surrender of Admiral Kolchak and at the identification of his body after he was shot. He was at the investigation of the Czar's death and saw the house where the ruler was said to have been killed. He also was through the region where typhus was taking thousands of lives. He also was at the capture of Vladivostok by the Japanese.

Captain Vanwart, besides serving with the British army in Siberia, saw much service in France at the outbreak of the war and after such a varied experience and a long stay away from his native province he will be warmly greeted by a host of friends in this city and throughout the province.

Lachute, Que. 25th Sept. 1908. Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen—Ever since coming home from the Boer war I have been bothered with running fever sores on my legs. I tried many salves and liniments; also doctored continuously for the sores, but got no permanent relief, till last winter when my mother got me to try MINARD'S LINIMENT. The effect of which was most magical. After two bottles the sores completely disappeared and I have worked every working day since.

Yours gratefully, JOHN WALSH.
