New Napoleon of Football Never Played With Regular Team--Zuppke Couldn't Be a Star, So He Became Best Coach In West

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

This is a story of a boy who was kicked out because he was too small to play the game, and by proving that, even in football, brains beat brawn, became the Napoleon of the gridiron. It is the story of Bob Zuppke, coach of the famous University of Illinois team, which stands now in the limelight as the most remarkable team of the year.

Bob Zuppke was small. When he was a kid the big boys bumped him around, ran over him and scolded him, telling him to run along with the kids so he wouldn't get hurt. And, when they bumped him extraordinarily hard, he linked back the tears and dived at the legs of fellows who weighed twice as much as he did and brought them to earth.

When he went to the University of Wisconsin he was among the first to respond to the call for volunteers for the varsity team.

But he was too small. However, in colleges like Wisconsin they have men who weigh the spirit and the brain along with the flesh. They realized that Zuppke's spirit outweighed his body. Still there were the traditions of Pat O'Dea and other great gridiron warriors to uphold, and what could a bantamweight do?

As a reward for his loyalty and his courage Zuppke was permitted to play on the scrubs. You who never have kicked out because he was too small to play the game, and by proving that, even in football, brains beat brawn, became the Napoleon of the gridiron. OTTAWA PHOTOGRAPHER IS AT THE FRONT

Ottawa, Nov. 30.—A letter from Colonel Shillington, of the Army Medical Corps with the Canadian expeditionary force, states that he and his unit of the Army Medical Corps arrived in Boulogne on November 9. They have already had about 1,000 wounded on their hands. All his men are in excellent health. Boulogne is filled with British and Indian troops coming and going.

G. R. Lanehead, an Ottawa photographer with the same corps, writes: "I want you to tell the boys at home that they should enlist at once, as without doubt they are wanted, if not to give those who are in the trenches a rest. A man now may be worth five later on. I have been helping to transfer the wounded to the steamers. At present we are about fifty miles from the battle line, and all of us are anxious to get nearer the line of fire. I managed somehow or other to get so far, although I expected to be sent back, but Colonel Shillington and the general at Salisbury had a long talk over it, and consent was given to allow me to go over."

"All the newspaper men were sent back, however, I received a telegram in London while getting my photos ready for the paper, that the camp general requested my return to camp, a polite command which I obeyed at once. The

SAYS MODERN WARFARE ORIGINATED WITH FRANCE

In the warfare in Europe the leaders, schooled in modern methods of making war, have been taught the importance of the decision-compelling spirit. The long-drawn-out struggles which have taken place have perhaps not shown that they were able to act up to this principle.

The origin of this principle which controls in modern warfare is seen by the military authority writing in the Encyclopedia Britannica in the French Revolutionary Wars. France was then at war against the allied forces of England, Holland, Austria, Prussia, Spain, and Sardinia. She had reorganized her armies, and had introduced the division of armies into army corps.

"This subdivision of forces was intimately connected," says the Britannica, "with the general method of making war adopted by the French. What astonished the allies most of all was the number and the velocity of the Republicans. These improvised armies had in fact no supplies for armies of then unseasoned for want of the enormous number of wagons that would have been required for the transport of the equipment that would have caused wholesale desertion in professional armies was cheerfully borne by the men of 1793-1794.

IF BACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if Kidneys Feel Like Lead or Bladder Bothers

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidney and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells a quart of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Because of the scarcity of clocks in West Africa events are timed by the regular daily occurrences. For example, a native wrote that she had received news of her sister's sickness "a little while before the guinea fowls talk" that is about five o'clock in the morning.

RED CROSS CRUISER ON MOOSEHEAD LAKE

Y. M. C. A. to Have Craft Fully Equipped to Render First Aid to Injured Woodsmen.

Greenville, Me., Dec. 1.—With the opening of navigation in 1915, under the auspices of the Maine State Y. M. C. A., there will go into commission on Moosehead lake a fully equipped Red Cross cruiser to minister to the wants of woodsmen and settlers in the Moosehead valley from Sebago to Greenville. The name Horace Day has been chosen in honor of Horace Day of Auburn, chairman of the state committee, whose unselfish interest and work have largely made it possible to expand the association movement in Maine to the present dimensions.

The patrons of the New Mount Kineo House, through the manager, C. A. Judkins, who is also a member of the industrial state committee, have contributed $817 and have promised as much more. The boat is ready for the unique equipment required. Medical appliances, medicine, cots and everything calculated to facilitate the rapid transfer of serious cases to Greenville Y. M. C. A. hospital, or the administration of first aid in minor cases, will be included when fully fitted out.

As far as is known this is the only Y.
