WRAP THE BREAD, SAYS O'CONNOR, COMMISSIONER

Makes Strong Recommendation for Rescinding of Regulation of Canada Food Board

(Ottawa Journal-Press.)
In the January report of the cost of living commissioner, Mr. O'Connor, a feature is the commissioner's recommendation that the regulations prohibiting the wrapping of bread be rescinded. In this regard he says:

"Since I issued my last statement concerning Canadian bread conditions, the Canada food board has put into force a regulation which prohibits the wrapping of bread. This regulation, whether or not sought by the bakers, was welcomed by them, and they seem quite content therewith, but in my judgment (admittedly fallible) it conduces to waste and contributes to make higher yet the cost of living. I therefore respectfully suggest that it should be rescinded.
"If the object of its being made was the reduction of the cost of bread to the consumer (I was not consulted, so I do not know), that object has already been achieved. Some bakers have raised their prices. I know of none who have reduced them.
"If the object was the prevention of waste that object has been worse than failed, for the evil of waste has been accentuated. The wrapped loaf kept fresh and sweet at least forty-eight hours longer than does the unwrapped loaf. All stale bread does not go to waste, but a very much larger percentage of stale bread than fresh does go to waste. As the unwrapped bread goes stale much more than fresh bread is bought, replacing it.
Costs Consumer More.
"The baker does not object, but apart from the matter of conservation, which is not my business, all this costs the consumer more money. Meanwhile, notwithstanding all our hard-earned provincial sanitary laws, the one article necessarily and universally used at our tables is delivered there under conditions which we have been taught to regard with disquietude, if not with disgust. I submit that sanitary precautions are worth paying for. The sanitary requirements which surround the supplying of wheat and milk add very materially to the cost, but these laws remain unimpaired.
Carrier of Germs.
"Why favor one or more species of bacteria? Let us have them all. Why clean meat or milk, but dirty bread? Why not dirty water as well? Thus could we save money and conserve supplies. Water systems receive anti-typhoid treatment at great expense while a baker's driver who happens to be a 'typhoid carrier' may infect a thousand loaves of bread a day. I refrain from imagining various other possibilities, (they come all too easily to one's mind) but in view of the fact that the house fly will soon be abroad in the land, I suggest that at least those who wish to purchase wrapped bread should be at liberty to do so, whether or not the wrapping of all bread is again made compulsory. I think, however, that wrapping should be made compulsory. I think so, as I may lawfully and properly think, and think in this open fashion, because wrapped bread costs less than unwrapped bread. With such matters I am directly concerned."

POST OFFICE A PLUM NO LONGER

New Civil Service Rules Provide for Filing Office of Postmaster by Promotion or Transfer When Possible

Ottawa, Ont., Mar. 22.—Temporary regulations have been framed by the civil service commission for the governance of the civil service of Canada, pending the adoption of a new civil service act by parliament. They provide that persons employed in a temporary capacity in the outside service of any department, on February 12 (the date of the recent order-in-council relating to the civil service), who have passed the preliminary or qualifying examinations may be considered eligible for permanent appointment in their present positions, provided they are recommended by the deputy heads of the department. Under regular competitive examinations are held, all positions in the lower grades and all clerical positions in the outside service in any department shall be filled by the commission. When employees are requested on short notice to place outside of Ottawa, the official of the department requiring such assistance shall report to the commission the names of the persons to be employed. Where the appointment of a rural postmaster is desired, it is provided that the civil service commission shall, through the responsible official of the postoffice department, institute enquiries in the locality in which the appointment is to be made, with a view to securing a suitable person, suitably located, for such position. Having satisfied themselves that the person chosen is properly qualified a certificate, required for his appointment, will be issued. In the case of a large postoffice, where an assistant postmaster is employed, a vacancy in the postmastership, shall, as far as possible, be filled by promotion or transfer. Where such procedure is considered inadvisable, the commission will invite applications for the position by public advertisement and select from among those applying the person whom in their judgment, is best qualified for the position. The procedure to be followed in connection with the securing of unskilled labor by a department will be the same as when other employees are required. In other words, the department will report to the commission the names of the persons to be employed, with full particulars in regard to them. Such employees will not be engaged for a period, beyond thirty days, unless the commission issues a certificate.

"Rouse Up"

At the call of Reveille in every Military District, Canada's latest contribution of sturdy manhood awakes each morning to a soldier's life and duties of a new day.

Your friends are there, your sons or brothers perhaps, and now seven mornings a week these men will rise at the call, to perform the first duty of every soldier shave. It is easy to see, then, why the soldiers appreciate a real razor—one that shaves clean with speed and comfort—and without fuss or fiddle.

Gillette Safety Razors

have proved their mettle with Canada's previous contingents. In camp, barrack room, billet or trench, it's just the same—a piece of soap, a little water, a Gillette—and in three minutes a clean, smooth skin that will pass any officer's inspection.

Our old army knows the worth of the Gillette Safety Razor—and wants thousands more. Our Allies' army from across the Line is getting them by hundreds of thousands. Our new army should leave our shores with shaving equipment to match their other accoutrements. If your brother, son or friend in the new army doesn't get a Gillette, see to it yourself that he is supplied!

Your friend of the new army needs the comforts you gave your friends of the old. Make his shaving easy under all conditions—give him a Gillette.
