SLIPP & FLEWELLING

"MARRY HIM! KILL HIM!" CHIEF SIR CONAN DOYLE.

Sherlock Holmes will Make His Truly Farewell to the Public on Christmas.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—Sir Conan Doyle announces the definite final retirement of "Sherlock Holmes," saying: "Absolutely his last appearance will be in the Christmas number of the Strand. He will not again emerge, as he did before. I am tired of him, and so probably is the public. He has long nursed the idea of country life, with its simple delights, and will take a small place and go in for bee-keeping. He won't marry. When Gillette called me asking whether he might marry Sherlock, I instantly replied: 'Marry him! Kill him! Do what you like with him!'"

WONT CATCH SARDINES.

No Money at $2 a Hoophead the Fishermen say—They Want $5.

The latest catch of fish in the local fishing business. Last night not a boat set out from the harbor or along the coast as far as Pictou, and the fishery is a quiet one. The fishermen say that the present price of fish is not high, and that they have agreed to stop further fishing until the price rises to $5.

It remains to be seen whether the price will come up, or the local dealer will it cheaper.

GOOD FOOTBALL PROSPECTS.

Local Team Will Play U. N. B. Acadia and Others.

Dates have now been arranged by the St. John senior football team with U. N. B. Acadia and possibly Monmouth. The local fifteen will play the U. N. B. team on the 22nd, and Acadia on the 27th of this month. Monmouth wished to play here on the 20th provided they got a guarantee of $40. As neither the date nor guarantee are satisfactory to the local, it is probable that some change will be made before any definite arrangements are made. A trip to Halifax is also a possibility of the future.

WHERE HORSEWHIPS ARE PROHIBITED.

There is a notable law in force in most of the large Russian towns concerning horses that deserves special mention. Among the curious things that arrest the attention on arriving in Moscow is the entire absence of whips and drivers of cabs and carriages and all sorts of vehicles. There is a law prohibiting their use. There is not a single whip in use in Moscow. The excellent condition of the horses attests the benefit of this humane law. Nothing can exceed the beauty of the sleek and well groomed horses used in the carriages of Moscow.

COLD WEATHER EARLY.

The atmosphere last night and early this morning was decidedly wintry. The streets were frozen hard and ice formed in different parts of the city. The lowest temperature during the night was 28 degrees above zero. At nine o'clock this morning it was two degrees below the freezing point, but after that the temperature rapidly moderated, though a chilling blast was all day prevalent.

The cold weather is setting in somewhat earlier than last year. The thermometer did not go below the freezing point last year before October 12.

AN AUDACIOUS BOY BURGLAR.

Robbed a Slumbering Sea Captain.

Went Through His Clothes and Got About $9—He Might Have Had $300.

The captain of the fishing schooner Hustler, lying in Union slip, is the poorer by $8 or $10 because of a little boy who took the other afternoon. He was sleeping in his bunk in the cabin, when a small boy boarded the schooner and asked the one sailor that happened to be around where the captain was. He was told that he was in the cabin asleep and as his informant had just then the lad waited on the deck.

When the road was clear he entered the cabin and went through the captain's pockets, getting about eight or nine dollars in loose change. Luckily he did not get his hands on an apartment which held over $300, or the captain would now be in deeper mourning.

The man who saw the boy come aboard says he can identify him, and that the youngster is, are at work on the case. They say, though, that the lad will be too sharp, however, to have any money on him when they eventually catch him.

POLICE COURT.

Officer Perry Badly Used Up Last Night—Fined $10 for Smoking at Sand Point.

The police court had an unusually long session this morning and the cases that came up furnished the magistrate with material for an instructive lecture for the prisoners, the public and the reporters.

John LeFave was the first called forward. He had been given in charge by James W. Smith for assaulting and beating him in his home on Sydney street. He pleaded not guilty. Smith went on the stand and stated that the prisoner had seized him by his whiskers and hit him three or four times. This was denied by the prisoner, but the truth of the denial could not be proved to the satisfaction of the magistrate, who fined him ten dollars or thirty days in jail.

John Emery and Wm. Carroll drunk on St. John street were fined eight dollars. Carroll paid his fine, but Emery will serve out on the back of the charge.

George Ryan, son of Patrick Ryan, of Charlotte street, appeared to answer a charge of loitering on Caledonia street and assaulting Officer Perry. The elder Mr. Ryan wanted the case adjourned on the ground that the charge against his son had not been made until some hours after the arrest and he wished time to get witnesses.

Officer Perry, who has been travailing in hard luck lately and looked like a bungled-up football player, with his arm in a bandage and cuts on nose, cheek and lips, then gave an account of the affair. Ryan and a number of other young men were loitering around the York theatre about a quarter of eight last evening, and as they were interfering with the entrance of theatre-goers Perry told them to move along. Ryan said they were in a public thoroughfare and didn't have to move; he also added that if Perry was badly as to make his right arm useless. He gave chase to Ryan, however, and landed him the lookout. The reason he could not enter the charge at once upon the books was because of his urgent need of assistance. His honor, who had remarked on the absolute necessity of immediately writing the charge on the arrest of the British-born subject, said that Perry was excusable under the circumstances, and also granted Mr. Ryan's request by adjourning the case until Friday at ten a. m. Ryan had previously made a deposit of twenty-eight dollars and was allowed his freedom.

Jeremiah Sullivan, charged with smoking on the Sand Point wharves, had to give the magistrate a lot of gas, about only going through the motions of lighting his pipe but was fined ten dollars or ten days in jail.

Magistrate Ritchie remarked that while the fine was heavy the danger arising from the breaking of this law was very great, and the common council in its efforts to avert such fires as occurred at Sand Point some time ago, had made the penalty a heavy one.

Charles Roy, a sailor from the State was charged with frequenting a house of ill-repute on Sheffield street. He was remanded until an opportunity is offered him to get work on some vessel.

BANK OF N. S. FRAISED.

To the Editor of the Star:—

Cheer upon cheer I could give for the action, the noble action of the Bank of Nova Scotia for the act to keep their young men employees from the curse of tobacco. For it is a curse; I know it from my own experience. It is a poison weed. I won't call it a plant. I want no weeds in my garden, only nice plants or flowers. The boys in other banks; better be careful of their fun over their brethren, for the tables may or will soon be turned. Out here I love to talk with a pure breath, and with a man with both pure heart and breath. It is only the pure in heart that can see God. I have once been young, and now am getting old, and I have never seen the man addicted or a slave to tobacco in any good work.

I say all honor to the Nova Scotia Bank for it will take the lead of all the other banks in the city.

One of the members of the Anti Tobacco Society of Saint John, New Brunswick.
