Skin Diseases.

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from disfiguring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure sondition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.

Mrs. J. J. Mages.
Jr., Kinmount, Ont.,
writes: "Inthespring of 1906 I was troubled with a Rash that broke out all over me. It was the worst on my face and head, had a dry, scaly top, and when I would get warm it would become very itchv. I tried the dootor's medicine but it did me no good, so I then got one bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters and before it was all used the Rash was entirely gone."

The mouse was seen on a window ledge by a young woman who screamed. In an instant a hundred women were standing on chairs and apwomen were standing on chairs and appealing to the men to kill the mouse. The show was suspended for ten minutes. Chairs and benches were upset and window panes broken in the confusion. No one was hurt. The mouse was caught by Mrs. Martin Belleman, who prizes it for the excitement it stirred up.

THE CLOCK HAD STOPPED AT HALF PAST THREE

Schooner Nina Blanche Probably Capsized Early on Thursday Morning.

A message to the Star from Chance Harbor this afternoon, conveyed information that the clock belonging to the schooner Nina Blanche had been found. tI was located jammed under the stove in the cabin. The clock stopped at 3.30, and it is belived that this was on Thursday morning. Captain Dionne and Fidele Terrio, the other member of the crew, probably put off in the small boat during the night.

Nothing else has been found which further explains the fate of the two seamen, although the shore has been seached for some miles no signs of the bodies has been seen. The schooner is now lying at the wharf in Chance Harbor Creek, awaiting instructions from the owners.

Duke of Abercorn Wanted Former President to Hunt in Rhodesia

AMHERST, N. S., Mar. 29.—At 1.30, this morning fire broke out in the lower flat of the Dufferin Hotel, Oxford, N. S., and while little damage was done by the flames, the smoke, which was exceedingly dense, penetrated to the upper part in great voltimes, causing much excitement among the large number of guests who occupied the uper flat. These in their night attire rushed for the door at the balcony, many of them throwing their belongings to the street below and climbing down after them, it being impossible for them to get down to the lower floor owing to the smoke. There was some delay in reaching the fire by the firemen, but soon after their arrival the fire was put out, the principal damage being by smoke and water.

Former Lieutenant in British Army Asks $375,000

LONDON, March 27.—H. C. Woods, a former lieutenant in the Grenadier Guards, who was removed from the army over a year ago, after his refusal to resign when invited to do so, has thrown a bomb into army ranks by bringing suit against War Secretary Haldane and other members of the army council, claiming $375,000 dam-

Woods claims that the council acted constitutionally as an act of parliament empowers the commander in hief alone to deprive an officer of his ommission. This case awakened much I feeling at the time. SHACKLETON'S FEAT

Bernacchi Ascribes Failure to Pole to Loss

Pole Should be Accepted With Reserve, He Says.

LONDON, Mar. 27.—Louis C. Bernacchi, the scientist and explorer, writing with the experience he obtained when he was physicist to the Discovery Antarctic expedition of 1901-1904, highly praises the immense amount of work achieved by the numbers of the Shackleton expendition in a comparatively short time, which indicates, he says, restless, ceaseless energy and splendid maagement and determination. He is greatly impressed by the amount of suffering, the party must have undergone. He ascribes their failure to reach the South Pole to their losing four of their ponies at Cape Royds. But for that, he declares, there is little doubt they would have got there. Mr. Bernacchi thinks the discovery of mountain chains and the tableland seen further south definitely establishes the still disputed fact that a great continental area surrounds the pole. The finding of coal and limestone proves, in Mr. Bernacchi's opinion, that the temperature in some remote age was far warmer than it is now, while it corroborates the view formed by the Discovery exposition, that possibly the Antartic continent once joined South America or New Zealand. The raised beaches which were observed indicate that the level of the Antarctjc continent was probably raised by volcande action. The signs at present of less severe glaciation show that the climate is growing warmer nad the ice cap diminishing. Regarding the definite location of the magnetic pole, Mr. Bernacchi thinks it should be accepted with reserve until the observations have been carefuly examined by experts. He says the difficulties of instrumental observation in the vicinity of the magnetic pole are very great, as the horizontal directive force of the magnetis needle breaks down. The large mass of magnetic observations made by the Discovery expedition indicated that the magnetic Expedition of 1900-'04 writes that the really brilliant.

Shackleton.

Captain Robert F. Scott, who commanded the Antarctic Expedition of 1900-'04, writes that the really brilliant part of Lieut. Shackleton's trip towards the South Pole was apparently accomplished by the men themselves dragging their loads. Their ponies, like the dogs of the National Expedition, only helped part of the journey. Captain Scott points out that the usual record of Antarctic distances is geographical, not statute miles, honce for purposes of comparison Lieutenant Shackleton's furthest south should be 97 instead of 111 miles from the Pole.

MONTREAL LOOKS FOR A SCARCITY OF TEA

Proposed U. S. Tariff is Stimulating the Demand and Upper Canadian Dealers are Getting Heavy Orders.

MONTREAL, March 29. — There is going to be a scarcity of tea in the near future in Montreal, and the prices near future in Montreal, and the prices are going to take a jump. The proposed increase in the U. S. tariff has sent the U. S. buyers into Canada. One house has sold 1,500 cases to American dealers, and several of the importers have not a box more until the next shipment comes, which may be a couple of months. The only tea which will be in any quantity will be the low grades which the buyers will not take. There has been no increase in the price as yet but it is expected to go up in the next ten days.

CHRISTIANA, Thursday, March 18.

—Captain Raold Amundsen has now completed arrangements for his drifting expedition in search of the North Pole in Nansen's famous ship, the Fram. He has selected as his captain Lieutenant Engel tad of the Norwegian army. The Fram is being overhauled and strengthened and she will probably be ready to leave Christiana early next year. Captain Amundsen will accompany the steamer out of the flord, but will return and later proceed to America and thence to Nome, Alaska, where the Fram, which goes by way of Cape Horn, will pick him up. From Nome the expedition will enter the Arctic Ocean through Behring Straits.

in a trunk owned by Mrs. Farmer and in her possession. Mrs. Farmer and her husband were given separate trials, and although the evidence was circumstantial, both were convicted and sentenced to be electrocuted. Mrs. Farmer's counsel attempted at the trial to establish that she was insane and irresponsible for the crime, but the court of appeals declared that it was clearly a deliberate and intentional act, "and that there was no circumstances that mitigated against its heinlousness."

cumstances that mitigated against its hednousness."

Mrs. Farmer came to the country from England in 1900 and worked for a time as a domestic in Binghamton, going from there to Buffalo, where she married Jas. D. Farmer in 1904. Barly in 1905 they moved to Brownsville. Months before the homicide in October, 1907, Mrs. Farmer went to a lawyer's office in Watertow, produced a deed of property owned by Mrs. Brennan and impersonating Mrs. Brennan, had the deed transferred to Jas. D. Farmer, signing the name "Sarah Brennan." The deed was returned from the clerk's office to Jas. D. Farmer on November 26 and on Jan. 7, 1908, Mrs. Farmer and her husband went to another lawyer in Watertown and had the deed drawn to Peter J. Farmer, a child who had been born to them the preceding September. On the day of the crime Mrs. Bennan's husband left early for his work, his wife telling him she was going to wisit a dentist in Watentown. Between 9 and 10 o'clock she was seen to leave her home and enter the Farmer house. She was never seen alive again.

LOCAL NEWS.

MILLINERY OPENING, Wednesday and Thursday, at M. R. JAMES, 282

The meeting of St. Andrew's church Guild tonight has been postponed on account of the death of Mrs. C. W. W. McLauchlan. Alex. Gregory met with a painful accident this afternoon, having his right leg badly bruised by being struck by a gangway while at work on the Manchester Mariner.

There will be a group picture of the senior class of the Y. M. C. A. taken tonight at 8.15. A full attendance is desired. Tomorrow evening the third and last of the series of contests for the intermediate boys will be held at

The Bias Filled Corsets have scored quite a victory over all other corsets this season, as the peculiar bias cut gives the present long style of corset a much prettier curve than all corsets gored towards the front. Miss McClelland, the expert corsetiere, is demonstrating these celebrated corsets at F. W. Daniel and Company's store, Charlotte street, this week.

Opening of Grand Bazaar Tuesday afternoon, the event of the season will be inaugurated when the doors of the new Seamen's Institute will be opened to the public. The ladies in charge of the booths with the delightcharge of the booths with the delightfully suggestive names, will present an endless variety of tasteful and elegant handiwork, besides which there will be many attractive features. Teaserved at five o'clock. Band concert at eight p. m. The sale will continue on Wednesday afternoon and evening. General admission 10 cents.

The death of Mrs. Maria Wilson, wife of Amon A. Wilson, K. C., of 144 Carmarthen street, will come as a severe blow to her many relatives and friends. She leaves behind a husband, three sons and two daughters to mourn their loss. The funeral will take place on Tuesday at 2.30 p. m., from her late residence, 144 Carmarthen street. At the morning service of Leinster street church yesterday, Rev. Wellington Camp made reference to the death. He spoke of long weeks of illness borne with wonderful patience and Christian fortitude and of Mrs. Wilson's untiring work in the interests of that church.

POPULARITY OF THEATRES

The popularity of a theatre does not differ greatly from that of any other business. A shop becomes popular through the class of goods it has for sale, the courteous treatment of its customers and the popularity of its management. And so it is with a theatre. This fact has been more than proven by the record business at the Opera House during the past two weeks. The goods for sale have been first class, well displayed, courteous treatment extended to all, and a general air of good will and good fellowship shown to a remarkable degree. Over forty thousand people passed through the doors during the past two weeks and with the invitation of the daily change of play to go into effect this week it bids fair to bring this number close to the hundred thousand mark. When one stops to consider this, it appears really remarkable.

New vaudeville acts have been engaged to strengthen that part of the programme and a mammoth amateur contest announced for next Friday, night. The play for tonight is "A Bowery Queen," a story dealing with the under-life of a great city.

In an advertisement the idea must be true and convey an impression of seri-ousness and veracity.—Geo. A. Mac-
