

White Watery Pimples.

Five years ago my body broke out in white watery pimples, which grew so bad that the suffering was almost unbearable.

I took doctors' medicine and various remedies for two years but they were of little benefit, whenever I got warmed up or sweat the pimples would come out again.

A neighbor advised Burdock Blood Bitters, and I am glad I followed his advice, for four bottles completely cured me.

That was three-years ago and there has never been a spot or pimple on me since.

MULES IN WARFARE.

English buyers have drained the Omaha and St. Louis markets since the beginning of the Boer War. The value of the mule in warfare has been well expressed by an eminent officer of the Philippine army, who revised the proverb about heaven's giving the victory to the side with the most guns so as to make it read, "Heaven gives the victory to the army with the most mules."

Army officials expended more thought over the transporting of mules than over the carrying of troops. Until recently nobody had any idea that a mule could stand on his sea legs during a voyage of forty-one days, and trot down a gangplank in better condition than when he trotted up. The American mule has achieved this.

It has been discovered, says a daily paper, that between the Filipino, the Cuban, the Mexican and the mule there is a noble sympathy. Any of these peoples can take a mule so worn out that he will show no resentment when an American soldier tickles his heels, pets him a little, and talks to him in his own jargon, then jump on his back and ride him a hundred miles.

Mules furnish the propelling power for all army vehicles. A mule is a fine pack animal, and in his ability to do without water he rivals the camel. He is the type of roughness. He will do more work than a horse, and live on a third less food. His ears are not big for nothing. He is as watchful as a cat. Any unusual sound wakens him. He can tell the tread of an enemy at any hour of the day or night, and is not bashful about lifting up his voice and warning his superior officers.

"A mule will speak out and tell you about a thousand things that a horse would let pass without saying a word," says an old army man. "He is a better sentry than the average man."

A mule can discover water two miles off, and he always speaks up and tells his driver about it. Nothing short of an earthquake will cause a mule to run away. The sound of battle has neither terror nor charm for him. He stays where you put him, and he raises the white flag never—Selected.

INACCURATE PEOPLE ARE DISHONEST.

It is not safe to trust people who are habitually inaccurate in their work. Even with the best intentions in the world, they become dishonest. Before they are aware of it the habit of inaccuracy extends to their statements. They do not take pains to be thorough in anything they undertake, even in clearly expressing the truth.

These people never carry much weight in a community, how ever honest in principle they may be, because no reliance can be placed on their words or work. You cannot depend upon what they tell you. If they are orators they are discredited; if they are at the bar the judges always take their statements cum grano salis; if in the pulpit, they do not win the respect of the congregation. In fact, whatever those people do, they are placed at a disadvantage because of their habit of inaccuracy.

There is a great difference between going just right and a little wrong. These victims of inaccuracy did not start right. They failed to realize that what is put into the first of life is put into the whole of life.

A pebble in a tiny stream will turn the course of a river, so the seemingly unimportant habit of inaccuracy has kept many a man from success by changing the current of his life.

Accuracy does things to a finish, is one of the most important lessons that can be taught a child because there is a moral quality at stake. The whole character is often undermined by the unfortunate habit of inaccuracy. Men whose ability would have made them peers in their communities have become nonentities, and their careers mediocre or total failures, simply because they were allowed in childhood to form the habit of half doing things, and of making half or exaggerated statements—Selected.

Does Not Disappoint.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit.

A new catarrh cure has recently appeared which so far as tested has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes, or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Ked gum and similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

The safe and effective catarrh cure may be found at any drug store under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and nose, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions, which cause the tickling, coughing, hawking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poison, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays can have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy which acts upon the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says, "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectually they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach."

All druggists sell complete treatment of the Tablets at 50 cents and a little book giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Chocolate Padding.—Soak a third of an ounce of gelatine in a little milk. Dissolve four ounces of vanilla chocolate in a pint and a half of milk, and boil in a clean pan for ten minutes, stirring all the time. Flavor with vanilla essence and sweeten to taste; put in a jug to cool. Put the soaked gelatine into a pan and dissolve it; let it also cool, then add to the chocolate and mix well. Pour, when almost cold, into a mould previously wet with water. When set turn out and serve with whipped cream. This pudding must be made the day before it is required. If liked a cup of strong coffee can be used instead of chocolate.—Ex.
