THE WORLD OF BOOKS.

At length, Canada has an art periodical which is in all ways deserving of her most ardent support. The Dominion Illustrated removes the reproach under which Canadian literature has been resting, viz., that it possessed no fit vehicle of communication with the Canadian public, but was compelled to rely entirely upon American magazines. There is nothing cheap or common or provincial about The Dominion Illustrated, and those who support it will get their money's worth not less surely than if they were to subscribe to an English or American journal. In a word, it deserves well of Canadians; and we shall now little patriotism if we fail to rally to its support. Its editor is John L'Esperance, one of the wisest and best equipped of Canadian men-of-letters, and a poet of true and captivating gift. Many of our best writers are already contributors, and it is greatly to be desired that Canadians may extend it such support as shall enable it to become the mouthpiece of the Canadian literary awakening. The illustrations are exquisitely printed, and admirable in subject; and in all its departments the journal is essentially entertaining and free from dullness. Canadians have been decrying and demanding just such a magazine as this. We trust they may be prompt to recognize this admirable response to their demand.

The October number of that admirable reader's companion, The Bookbuyer, is before us, tempting us to waste all our substance in headlong buying of books. The portrait for the month is that of Mr. Howard Pyle, one of the most effective illustrators of the day, and also a charming writer. He is essentially a "maker of books," as his pen and his pencil work together, to a most charming result. Mr. Ashby Sterry, in his London letter, is entertaining as usual, but might as well have dispensed with his opening paragraphs on the phonograph, which merely serve to fill up. We prefer the tone of the Boston letter. Mr. Arlo Bates is less self-complacent than the London correspondent.

Mr. Douglas Sladen, author of The Black Prince, Australian Lyrics, etc., and one of the most eminent of Australian poets, is editing for Griffith, Farran & Co., of London, an anthology of Younger American Poets. This work will include the poets of Canada. It will be a handsome 8vo volume of 600 pages, and will be sold at the popular price of 3s. 6d. Mr. Sladen will be in Boston in a week or so, preparing the collection; and those who have suggestions to make him on the subject will gratify him by addressing him, in care of Brown Brothers, bankers.

Messrs. Cupples & Hurd, publishers, Boston, have now in hand an American edition of Poems and Translations, by Miss Mary Morgan (Gowan Lea). The United States issue appears with the poetical subtitle of Woodnotes in the Gloaming.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK IN CITY SOCIETY CIRCLES.

And a Summary of the Happenings Elsewhere in New Brunswick—Colonial Talk—Moncton Society—Woodstock Whispers—Richibucto and St. Stephen News.

The latest notion among the young grown-up folks is to attend the dancing classes, that are to be held in the old club-room, under the supervision of Prof. Daniel, with a view to becoming proficient in all the latest society dances now in vogue; so I suppose we more antiquated beings may be prepared to witness some very remarkable and acrobatic extractions.

Mrs. Charles Skinner and her two daughters left this week for a short visit to Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Peters left last Saturday for a fortnight's visit to New York. Col. Warner and family will shortly be domiciled at their residence, Mount Pleasant. Some improvements are already being made among the grounds and out-houses. The residents of Mount Pleasant are glad to welcome the colonel and Mrs. Warner, who will have a great acquisition to the hill, which, just now, has a rather deserted appearance.

Mrs. S. Thompson has returned to the city, and has again taken rooms at Miss Wheeler's for the winter.

Mrs. Henry McCullough and family have taken hotel rooms at Bathurst, where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Frank Hazen has returned to the city, after visiting her mother at Bathurst. Miss Hunt, of Prince Edward Island, is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Hazen.

Mrs. D. J. Seely is visiting her friends in Weymouth, N. S.

Miss Maggie Hancock is in Boston, completing her musical education.

Miss Adams, leave for Boston and New on Wednesday. Miss McNichol will probably remain for some time.

The harvest decorators are busy at Trinity church arranging some exquisite and appropriate garlands for Harvest Sabbath. Miss Sturdee, who is still confined to the house through illness, is very much missed among the workers this year.

The many friends of Mr. R. McLeod will be pleased to know that he is recovering from a severe attack of bronchitis.

Miss Annie Parks is visiting some of her school friends at Milwaukee.

Rev. Allan and Mrs. Daniel are with Mr. T. W. Daniel, Wellington Row.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt and Miss Ingersoll, who have been visiting Mrs. Chas. Merritt, left for home last Thursday. They were accompanied by Mrs. C. Merritt as far as Boston, where she will make a short visit.

Miss Murphy the popular young matron of the Provincial Lunatic asylum, left yesterday morning for a visit to New York.

Mr. Collier, of the Bank of British North America was expected home this week in company with his sister, who will spend the winter in St. John. Mr. Collier's health is greatly benefited by his trip to the continent.

Certainly, the society event of this week was the grand party given by Mrs. John Burpee, Thursday evening. All of society's favorites were present, some of them appearing even lovelier than ever in delicate and pretty evening toilettes. It was a delightful party, but could scarcely be otherwise with Mrs. Burpee as hostess.

The large house is admirably adapted to entertaining, and it being such a beautiful evening, the guests were enabled to stroll about the magnificent grounds, while the excellent music provided happiness for the merry dancers.

CELESTIAL TALK.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 10.—Between the heavy rains and the fall house-cleaning, I have very little social news to write this week, one quiet wedding being the only thing of interest. This was celebrated at the residence of Mr. John Edwards, sr., at an early hour yesterday morning, when his youngest daughter, Jennie Edwards, was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Hodge, son of Mr. James Hodge.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. J. Mowatt. There was neither groomsmen nor bridesmaid. The guests included only immediate relatives of the two families. The bride wore a green travelling dress. After a breakfast at Mr. Edwards', Mr. and Mrs. Hodge left by the Flying Yankee for a tour to Boston and New York. They will reside in Judge E. L. Wetmore's house, Charlotte street.

The many friends of Judge E. L. Wetmore will regret to learn that a few days ago, near his home at Moosomin, N. W. T., he was thrown from his horse and had his collar bone dislocated.

Mr. Frank I. Everitt, who has been in Mr. Neil's hardware store, left for San Francisco, Monday, where a situation awaits him. His friends in this city wish him all success in his new home.

Hon. B. R. Stevenson, of St. Andrews, is in the city.

Sheriff Tibbitts, of Andover, was in the city today, on his return from Dorchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Oaks spent one night in the city on their way to their new home in Wolfville, N. S. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Gaudet.

Mrs. M. S. Hall and Mrs. Fred. Fisher are going to Augusta, Ga., and other parts of the south to spend a portion of the winter among their friends. Mr. Hall will go after Christmas and return with them.

Miss Laura Wood, of Boston, is visiting her friends here.

Mr. H. S. Carman, formerly of Fredericton, now of Boston, is visiting Fredericton friends. He will return to Boston next Friday.

Mrs. Judge Steadman will leave the city next Friday for Boston and New York. She will attend the W. C. T. U. convention which will be held in New York this month.

Mr. Wesley Vanwart and his bride arrived home this evening. The Fredericton band serenaded them and a large bonfire was lit in front of Mr. Vanwart's house, King street. Mr. and Mrs. Vanwart will board for the winter at Mr. Wm. Legg's, on the corner of George and St. John streets.

STELLA.

MONCTON SOCIETY.

MONCTON, Oct. 10.—The ladies of Dorchester have issued invitations for a leap year ball, to take place on Friday, the 11th, and the eyes of all our society friends are at present fixed upon the shiretown. Dorchester has always been celebrated for its hospitality, and when Dorchester ladies undertake anything, it is always sure to be a success, so I fancy that a very delightful evening will be spent next Friday, and that Moncton's belles will wear their freshest costumes and their sweetest smiles, and its jeunesse d'or spotless neckties and plenty of pearl powder.

Mrs. E. M. Estey left town last Wednesday for St. John, being called away by the serious illness of Mr. Estey's mother.

Miss Fenety, of Fredericton, has been paying a short visit to Moncton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Talbot.

Judge Botsford left town Friday evening for Quebec, where his daughter, Mrs. Byers, and his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dr. Botsford, have been spending the last three or four weeks, with friends. Both ladies will probably accompany him on his return.

Mr. J. Roy Campbell, jr., and Mr. A. N. Charters, of Dorchester, who have been reading with Messrs. Hanington, Teed & Hewson, went up to Fredericton on Friday to undergo their examination for attorneys-at-law. They bear with them our best wishes for their success.

Mr. J. J. Wallace, division superintendent of the I. C. R. at Truro, was in town Friday.

The flag over the Moncton sugar refinery floated at half mast, yesterday, in token of respect for the memory of the late Senator Ross, of Quebec, who was a director of the company, and one of its heaviest shareholders. I think I mentioned only a few weeks ago Mr. Ross being in Moncton, as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris.

Mr. Wallace, the Bank of Montreal, returned on Monday from his home in Halifax, where he has been spending a brief holiday. Query: Do bankers ever get a holiday that is not a brief one?

The Rev. Mr. Duxton, of Halifax, officiated at St. John's Presbyterian Church last Sunday, and will, I believe, remain in town during the week. Mr. Duxton is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris.

Mr. E. B. Chandler, of Dorchester, paid a short visit to Moncton last Saturday.

Mr. J. H. Price's many friends will hear with regret that he has again been confined to the house by serious illness, but I am glad to say that he is now progressing towards recovery.

Miss Lyons, of Halifax, is visiting her brother, Mr. John Lyons, of the I. C. R. passenger department, at his residence on Highfield street.

Mrs. Hazen, of Sussex, is in town visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris.

Mr. Herbert Arnold's friends will be glad to hear that he has so far recovered from his long illness as to be able to be down stairs once more. Mr. Arnold has had a dreary stage for some weeks past, having suffered a relapse when almost convalescent, but he is now on the high road to health.

Mr. and Mrs. Collingwood Schrieber, with their daughter, Mrs. Fletcher, arrived in Moncton last Friday morning, and were the guests of Mr. Pottinger, until Monday.

On Saturday the party inspected the sights of Moncton, chief among which are ranked the sugar refinery and the cotton factory. I do not know whether the famous "bore" of the Petitcodiac came in for a share of attention from the distinguished visitors, or not, but I trust that his shoreship made his appearance on a reasonable hour, and was duly noticed, and admired, for he has reigned so long as the chief wonder of the "railway town," that to be slighted at his present age would be indeed a shock to his self esteem.

Rev. Mr. Gwilym, rector of Richibucto, paid a short visit to Moncton, on Monday, en route to St. John. I hear from Richibucto friends that Mr. Gwilym grows, if possible—more popular than ever. Our friends at the little "Shiretown of Kent" have indeed been fortunate in their selection of a rector.

Mrs. R. B. Rogers, of Amherst, is spending a few days in town, before proceeding to Halifax, to recruit after her long and severe illness.

Rev. Mr. Vroom, rector of Shediac, spent a short time in town, yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Ryan left Moncton last week for their new home in Truro. They were followed by the sincere regret of the many friends they have made, during their stay in our town; and it will be long ere the void they have left in our little circle can be filled.

CECIL GWYNNE.

BORDER JOTTINGS.

ST. STEPHEN, Oct. 11.—St. Stephen owes her thanks to the kindly offices of Mrs. Bolton, for the handsome drinking fountain now being placed at the corner of King and Union streets.

And now a something, called a paper festival, is to be forthcoming on Hallowe'en. As the ladies of Trinity are the leading spirits, it will, of course, be a success.

On Thursday afternoon last Mrs. James N. Clark held a very pleasant reception for her friends in Calais and St. Stephen.

On Wednesday evening of last week, a merry party of young people assembled at the residence of Mr. W. H. Stevens, surprising the hostess, Miss Alice Stevens, and passing a most delightful evening.

Miss Mabel Burn has left us to spend the winter at her home in the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones, who have been for some weeks the guests of Mr. Z. Chipman, returned Saturday from a trip to St. John and Fredericton. During their stay in the latter city, they were the guests of Sir Leonard and Lady Tilly.

Rev. Mr. Shore has returned from his trip to Charlottetown. Rev. Mr. Mowatt, of Fredericton, will be present at the reopening of the Kirk on Sunday next.

Mrs. Harry Broad is enjoying a trip to Boston.

Miss Minnie Thomas, of Nova Scotia, is spending a few weeks with Mrs. Henry Hill.

Mrs. Dr. Todd left last week to attend the state convention of the W. C. T. U. at New York.

Inspector McLaren of the customs was in town last week.

Mr. Jas. Hinds, at present the guest of Mr. Dan. Sullivan, leaves on Monday next for his home in New York.

Mr. Andrew Todd is again on our streets.

Mr. Arthur Hill, who has been recruiting for several weeks at St. Andrews, is again at home.

Mr. Frank Todd was in St. John last week.

Mrs. Emily Moore was in town on Wednesday.

Mr. O'Kief, of the customs, is the guest of Mr. J. D. Bonness.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Worden are spending a few days in St. John.

Mr. Alexis G. will return tomorrow from his summer trip.

Miss Furlong, who during her stay in St. Stephen has been the guest of Mrs. Hugh Cullen, has returned to St. John.

Mr. Percy Gilmore, of St. George, was in town on Tuesday.

Miss Annie Brown, of Lowell, is visiting at Mr. Philip Breen's.

WOODSTOCK WHISPERS.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 10.—On Wednesday evening the residence of Mr. John Riley, Upper Woodstock, presented a very brilliant scene. About 50 guests assembled to witness the marriage of Miss Edith Riley and Mr. Archibald Plummer, of Jacksonville.

The interesting ceremony was performed by Rev. James Grey, of Sussex. The bride was handsomely attired, and was the recipient of many elegant presents.

Mr. E. McAlpine, of Wickham, Queens county, is visiting a few of his many friends in this locality.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bridges have removed to Denver, Colorado. They have many friends who join their correspondence in wishing them success in their new home in the west.

Miss Carrie Dawson has gone to Boston for a short visit.

Miss Lizzie Smith will go to St. John tomorrow.

Mrs. W. M. Kenney, of Wareham, Mass., is spending a few days in Woodstock.

Senator Dever of St. John registered at the Exchange last week.

Mr. R. English Brayley of Montreal was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Connell go to Boston Thursday. They will probably remain two weeks.

Mr. W. S. Jones, who has been here for some time, returned to his home in Boston Monday. He was accompanied by his mother, who will remain in that city for some weeks.

The hall which was to have taken place in the Opera House this week has been postponed, owing to the committee being unable to procure suitable music. It is hoped, however, that the energetic managers will not let it lapse, as very many would be thereby greatly chagrined, especially those who have prepared elegant dresses for the occasion.

THE SHIRE TOWN OF KENT.

RICHIBUCTO, Oct. 11.—Principal Harrison, with Messrs. Fred. Ferguson and Arthur O'Leary, gave a dance in the basement of the Masonic Hall, on Tuesday evening. Refreshments in the shape of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the committee a la "Beaches," and as the clock struck the midnight hour the guests departed blessing the committee and trusting that this was only the commencement of what was to follow. Prof. Goldie presided at the organ. Among those present were:

Mr. McMillan, Miss Phinney, Mrs. Carter, Miss Ferguson, Miss McAlmon, Kingston, Miss McAlmon, Kingston, Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Ferguson, Kingston, C. T. Weeks, M. D., Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson, Mr. Clifford Wise, Chatlam, Mr. H. A. Foster, Mr. Andrew Walker, Mr. Robert Phinney, Mr. Wright Walker.

Mr. W. D. Carter, of the firm of McInerney & Carter, left for Fredericton this morning. His name will be added to the roll of barristers before his return.

Wm. Doherty, M. D., now practicing at Campbellton, is visiting his father, Dr. I. W. Doherty.

Miss Jamie Haines is visiting friends in Moncton.

Rev. Silas James and Mrs. James are visiting Halifax.

Rev. Mr. Taylor will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church during the absence of the pastor.

Rev. D. V. Gwilym returned home from St. John to-day.

Mr. George McMillan left for Summerside, P. E. I., last Saturday. Mr. McMillan will visit Halifax before his return home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Noble returned home from Nova Scotia, Saturday.

LEILA.

Notes and Announcements.

Blossoms of a Believer's Garden is a new work by Frances Ridley Havergal.

The Royalties on Uncle Tom's Cabin are said to amount to $1,500 annually.

Michael Davitt is writing a history of the Land League in Ireland, and America.

Some sensational announcements of new publications are Strife of Hells, Omicron Letters on the Confession, etc. These are all alleged religious works.

Mr. George Moore writes in the Universal Review, protesting against the worship it is now popular to pay to actors. The art of the stage he ranks low, and the morality of the stage lower.

Miss Caroline B. Le Row, who compiled English as She is Taught, which Mark Twain found funny enough to introduce to the public, has in press another and companion volume, The Young Idea, or Common School Culture, which Cassell & Co. will publish.

Presentations of Flowers.

A hint to gentlemen desiring to present flowers is given by a writer of much taste, as follows: "Let the salesman send them loose, in a box, that the lady may select those she chooses to wear, and may arrange or use the rest according to her own taste." A bouquet is, after all, an affair of artifice and formality. They are rarely beautiful—generally infinitely less beautiful than a single camellia or a single rose. A basket of flowers is better; but if it have a "design," it becomes, as a rule, hideous. Nothing can be less attractive than gilt paper horns of plenty etc., made of flowers. The same is true of tin foil, wires and handles. Nature can not be improved upon in this manner.

Done With Disposition.

Mrs. Pompadour—"Would you like to go with me this evening to the church? They have just introduced a new boy choir, and the service is said to be very interesting. Very high church, you know."

Miss Heavyside (in mourning for her father)—"I hardly know what to say, Mr. Pompadour. You say I have been to no amusement since poor papa died."—Life.
