

Social Notes of the Week

be interested to hear he has enlisted for overseas service in the 115th Battalion, Lieut. Colonel Wedderburn in command.

The Eclectic Club met at the residence of Mrs. John McMillan, Gormin street, on Thursday evening, when a most delightful evening was enjoyed by a large number of the members of the club.

Miss Ethel Emerson, who has been visiting in Montreal and Toronto, arrived home this week.

The ladies of St. Andrew's church intend holding a party sale on Tuesday, Dec. 21st, at the Dufferin sample rooms. Christmas cakes will be in abundance and a patriotic cake will be sold. Everybody knows the delicious cooking that is done by these ladies and without doubt they will readily sell all their good things early in the day as there will be many customers.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Forbes leave next week on a visit to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Foster entertained at dinner the first of the week. Although informally most enjoyable, covers were laid for ten. The guests were Major and Mrs. L. W. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Jones, Mrs. Vasey, Captain F. W. Fraser and Mr. James Harrison.

Mrs. Kenneth Boetwick (Boston), arrived on the city on Tuesday and will spend Christmas with her father, Dr. James Christie, Wellington Row. Mr. Boetwick will come later.

Hon. W. J. Bowser has been made Premier of British Columbia, having succeeded Sir Richard McBride. Hon. W. J. Bowser was a native of Rexton, (N. B.), and has many friends there as well as St. John who will join in congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Patterson are expected home today from New York where they have been visiting Mr. Patterson's father for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sturdee, Mrs. Payne and Captain H. E. C. Sturdee leave next week for Moncton to spend Christmas with Mrs. Calhoun Robertson.

Mr. J. Bacon Dickson, son of Mr. J. H. Dickson, has been appointed private secretary to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, succeeding Mr. William Cruikshank, provincial treasurer.

Mrs. P. W. Thomson entertained at a delightful dinner on Tuesday evening at her residence, Gormin street, in honor of Major and Mrs. L. W. Barker. Covers were laid for eight. The handsomely appointed table had for its decorations red geraniums and many suggestive emblems of Christmas. Mrs. Thomson received her guests in a very handsome gown of white Genette crepe. Mrs. Barker the guest of honor, was beautifully gowned in cerise crepe de chene over cerise silk. Other guests were Major and Mrs. F. Caverhill Jones, Captain F. W. Fraser and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Fowler.

Mr. P. W. Thomson and Mr. T. E. G. Armstrong, who had been in New York returned home on Thursday.

Lieutenant Carter, of the 26th who was wounded while in active service, arrived in the city last Thursday and was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Keefe, and left for his home Point du Butte on Monday.

His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Wood entertained the members of his government at dinner at the Union Club on Thursday evening. Other guests were Hon. J. E. Wilson, Senator Daniel, Mayor Frink, Lieut.-Col. Sturdee and Mr. William Cruikshank.

Miss Kimball left on Friday night for Montreal where she will spend Christmas with her sister, Mrs. Dodd.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Daye Payson entertained delightfully at the 6th hour the first of the week in honor of several officers of the 69th Battalion, at their residence Parks street. Amongst the guests were Lieut.-Col. Danseman, Major Holly, Captain Mignon Kerr, Miss Frances Kerr, Miss Marion Magee and Miss Lily Kimball.

Miss Maude McLean will leave Boston for this city on the 23rd and will spend the Christmas holidays with brother, Colonel H. H. McLean, Horsfield street.

Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, regent of the Royal Standard Chapter I. O. D. E., received a cable this week announcing that the automobile sent to England through the Chapter had arrived safely and been handed over to Lieut.-Col. Kirkpatrick.

Mr. J. Royden Thomson leaves Halifax on Friday for Rothesay, where he will spend Christmas with his wife and family at his mother's Mrs. John H. Thomson.

Major L. W. Barker entertained his members of No. 4 Siege Battery at the Imperial Theatre on Thursday evening. The boxes were occupied by Mrs. Barker and several officers and their lady friends.

A large and appreciative audience greeted M. Marcel Andre in St. Malo.

his Hall on Thursday evening where he delivered his clever illustrated lecture on "The Fring Lise with the British and French Armies." The hall presented a very gala appearance having been tastefully decorated for the occasion with flags and bunting. Mme. Kathleen Furlong-Schmidt had the large audience with her beautiful solos. The proceeds were for the interests of the work for the Catholic branch of the Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Webster, Shediac are guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. MacNeill, Gormin street.

Mrs. Clifford McAvity was at home for the first time since her marriage on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Mrs. McAvity received her guests in her drawing room which was most attractive and artistic as are all the rooms, and were a beautiful gown of white chiffon taffeta with corsage bouquet of roses and pearl jewelry, and was assisted by Mrs. George McAvity, who wore a most becoming dress of navy silk with navy crepe sleeves and bodice. The very black liberty velvet gown with princess lace with black velvet hat, and Mrs. Kaye the bride's mother owned in King blue silk with a becoming hat to match. Assisting with the party were Mrs. Rosemond McAvity, Miss Catherine McAvity, Miss Marion Knowlton, Miss Gertrude Phillips, Mrs. Frank McDonald and Miss Dorothy Kaye.

On Thursday Mrs. Kaye and Mrs. Daniel Phillips, who were a handsome couple, were the guests of the evening. Mrs. Mullin was a very handsome gown of cerise crepe de chene with black velvet and mink hat.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Sanction and little daughter, Helen, are spending the holidays with Mrs. J. Penwick Fraser, Horsfield street.

Mr. A. P. Allingham, Mr. G. Earle Loun, Mr. D. Stuart Bell, Mr. Lloyd Campbell, Mr. Ormand Perley, Mr. Winfield Allingham and Mr. W. I. Patterson arrived home from Halifax this week where they had been taking a military course.

The concert given on Monday evening by the Harmony Glee Club was an unqualified success and thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience, which completely filled the Opera House.

Too much praise can be given the conductor, Mr. Ernest S. Peacock, who has been untiring in his efforts in training the Glee Club, which gave a most successful performance on Monday evening. The proceeds were for the Patriotic Fund.

The beautiful doll "Fluette" donated by Miss Helen Ewing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ewing, the proceeds to be given to Dr. Murray MacLaren is being very much admired. Little Miss Ewing, who was one of Dr. MacLaren's last patients before he died, was a beautiful girl who was ill in the hospital, which she has had so prettily dressed and generously given for the good cause. No doubt many will purchase a ticket—twenty-five cents for this worthy object.

Mrs. T. William Barnes, Hampton, spent last week-end with Mrs. J. F. Harding, Gormin street.

Mrs. Gallagher, Newcastle, was a guest at the Clifton this week.

The very many friends of Mr. Royden McLean will be glad to hear he arrived in New York from Brazil on Friday and will spend Christmas in this city with his mother, Mrs. J. Frederick Harding, Gormin street. Mr. Harding has not been home for nearly three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell, Rothesay, are leaving on Tuesday for Baltimore. Miss Bell will join her parents.

Miss Dorothy Cheesman, Miss Esther Burgess, and Miss Eleanor Haddell also had tea. Many of the fraternal lodges held chapter dances in Earl Hall.

The theatre was popular, especially "Peter Pan" for "Cheese" is in the cast. "Cheese" is really Miss Dorothy Cheesman, an ex-member of 1911; instead of returning to college this fall Miss Adams asked her to join her company. She did so and has been touring the west and south as Nibs, the little lost boy, and also dancing the pillow dance. In states where labor laws prohibit Michael from playing his role, it is played by Miss Cheesman, and Wendy's understudy is also Miss Cheesman. So she really is a quite an addition to the cast, but a much greater loss to college. For "Cheese" was college cheer leader, captain of the basketball team, leader in all athletics, considering cheer leading most justly as an athletic sport. Of course she was the star actress at college and also played so well that she won all poster contests. All these qualities were centred in one little person, almost the smallest person in college, and all these honors rested on the shoulders of one whose leading charm was her modesty.

Josephine Alberta Sweeney, wife of Paul Sweeney, of St. John, N.B., Montreal, P. Q., and New York City, died very suddenly at Frederickton, N.B., Sunday, December 13th, while visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas MacLeod. The funeral was in Sussex, N.B.

The following taken from the N. Y. Times refers to a member of the W. S. Harkins' players.

"Forgetting books and classrooms, the Barnard College girls joined in the social life that floods New York and all 'home towns' during Christmas week. Several of the girls entertained their friends at tea. One of the most enjoyable was that held by Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Annie Nathan Meyer, a Trustee of the college. Miss Louise Walker assisted. Miss Meyer and Ruth St. Denis entertained the guests. Mrs. Dorothy Fitch, St. John.

Mr. John Winter and Miss Kate Winter returned on Tuesday from a seven weeks' trip to San Francisco. They attended the World's Fair and also attended the San Diego Exposition. During their travels Mr. and Mrs. Winter passed through Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fawcett and Miss Nan Chapman have returned from a trip to Montreal.

Lieut. S. L. T. Harrison has returned from Halifax, where he took a course in the Royal School of Infantry.

Miss Jessie McDougall has returned on an extended trip to the Pacific Coast.

ROTHESAY

Rothsay, Dec. 16.—This has been a week of closeness for the Christmas vacation. At Netherwood this Thursday evening the annual turkey supper was held, many of the graduates of the school being present. Tomorrow evening the school will spend Christmas at their homes.

The Woman's Auxiliary local branch prepared a box of useful and fancy articles which was sent to the Church of England Institute, St. John, to be distributed as usual in country parishes. The monthly business meeting was held on Monday afternoon, Mr. Daniel presiding and postponed until the 19th, as the school was in session. There will not be another session.

In the Presbyterian church hall, kindly loaned for this evening, the public school pupils gave an entertainment while a silver collection for the Cross work. Home-made candy was sold by the senior girls during an intermission and the proceeds added to the collection. An interesting programme of choruses, recitations, songs, etc., was successfully carried out and enjoyed by a large audience. The tree provided annually for the school was a feature specially appreciated by the pupils, the gifts being placed by the children at the close of the programme by the teachers, Mr. Murray and Miss McMurray. Several patriotic numbers in which our own Union Jack and flags of our allies were used, were very popular, and the many Christmas time selections emphasized the season of loving thought and kindly deed. The school closes tomorrow. Mr. Murray goes home to St. Stephen and Miss McMurray to St. John, both expecting to return next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bell expect to leave next Tuesday for Baltimore to spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John A. Calhoun. All Boston they will be joined by their daughter, Miss Katherine Bell.

Miss Emma Christie's many Rothesay friends will be glad to know she has returned from St. George, where the summer was enjoyed and expects to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. L. R. Morton, Renfrew, and her niece, Mrs. Fred Foster, here.

Quite informally on Monday Miss Allerton entertained a few friends at luncheon.

A wedding of much local interest takes place today at Pictou, N.S., the principals being Miss Marjorie Harris of Pictou and Mr. Stuart Mitchell of Rothesay. Miss Harris visited here last summer and will be welcomed back. The happy couple expect to spend the winter here at Pictou and Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell plan to visit their daughter, Mrs. Freeman and Dr. Freeman at Sydney, C. B. after Christmas.

For the week-end Miss Lillie Raymond of St. John was guest at Netherwood.

In honor of Mrs. R. E. Puddington's birthday, Miss Puddington on Saturday invited a few friends to afternoon tea. Everybody had their knitties, many brought gifts. There was sincere good wishes not only from those present but from hosts of friends outside. Among those attending were:

RICHIBUCTO WILL HAVE ABOUT 200 TROOPS QUARTERED THERE

Moncton, Dec. 17.—At the request of F. J. Robidoux, M. P., Lieut. Col. Dean, Lieut. J. A. L. Cavanagh, with Lieut. Col. W. E. Forbes, commandant of the 14th visited Richibucto today to look over the ground with a view to quartering troops in that town. Richard O'Leary kindly placed at the disposal of the military authorities his large warehouse free of rent, and also offered to have drilled a well for water supply. There will be about two hundred soldiers quartered at Richibucto during the winter.

G.P.R. DECLARES AN EMBARGO ON CARS

Moncton, Dec. 17.—The C. P. R. has declared an embargo on cars out of lake front and interior terminals to West St. John.

The embargo was placed in the east, and is said to be only temporary, due to the large number of late cargoes arriving at Port McNichol. To make room for these cargoes it had been necessary to rush cars from Port McNichol to
