COUNTY COURT. Judgment was given by His Honor Judge Armstrong, Tuesday, in the County Court in the matter of Kelly vs. McGoldrick, an action to recover $98 for medical attendance. Another physician was called and he agreed that amputation must be made, which was done. Judgment was given for Dr. Kelly for the amount claimed, with costs. G. H. V. Belyea, K. Evidence Heard At Investigation

J. J. O'Brien Tells of Police Work When Street Car Struck Automobile.

The investigation into the charge made by the New Brunswick Power Co. against Police Constables Stinson and Tower re their activities on the night of August 24 last, when C. H. Belyea was struck and severely hurt by a street car was to have been held last evening but on account of the absence of the representatives of the Power Co. was postponed until next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The clerk of the peace, B. L. Gerow, came in for considerable criticism by the members of the board of management of Lancaster, because he was unable to advise them, as they claimed this was the second time he disregarded a notice that his services were required. The statement of J. J. O'Brien, a witness of the incident, complained of, and who is leaving the city on Saturday, was taken and adjournment made for the 26th inst.

On the evening of August 24th two autos collided opposite Sand Cove Road on Lancaster avenue, and C. H. Belyea, who held the insurance on one of the cars had gone up to appraise the damage, leaving his own car parked on the side of the road. A street car, said to be coming at an excessive rate of speed, was seen and coming from the direction of Fairville and Mr. Belyea made an attempt to stop it as he saw it would hit his automobile. Falling in his efforts to stop the car he jumped on the running board to throw his two children one of the auto, but was hit before he could do this and has been since that time very near death.

The Power Company wrote Councillor Golding complaining that officers Stinson and Tower had been remiss in their duties and asking for an investigation any time after ten days, and the councillors get last evening as the time and so notified the Power Co. Late in the afternoon they notified the county secretary that it would be impossible for them to have their witnesses there, and it was decided to adjourn until next Tuesday evening.

Councillor Golding presided and read the letter of the Power Co. which set forth their complaint that officers Stinson and Tower had not dispersed the crowd, and that Officer Tower had threatened to arrest one of the onlookers who had remonstrated with him and asked the committee what they thought should be done. Councillor Campbell thought it was up to the Power Co. to have their witnesses on hand. Councillor O'Brien thought the committee should be made until the Power Co's representatives were on hand, and also the clerk of the peace, whose duty it was to advise the committee and the officers. County Secretary Kelly said he had notified Mr. Gerow of the meeting and had been advised by him that he was going out of the city for the evening. Councillor O'Brien thought this was rather high handed on the part of the clerk of the peace who was paid $400 per year, and Councillor Campbell moved that Mr. Kelly be asked to act in his stead, his remuneration to be taken out of Mr. Gerow's salary, and this passed.

As one of the witnesses for the officers, J. J. O'Brien, was leaving the city on Saturday, it was decided to take his statement.

Mr. O'Brien, whose home is at 43 Duke street, West Side, said that on the evening in question he had got on a taxi at the ferry driven by Fred Sewell, and accompanied him to Duck Cove with some passengers. At the junction of Sand Cove road and Lancaster avenue they saw two automobiles which had been in collision and quite a crowd around. They did not stop, however, but in the return from Duck Cove they did stop, and he got out of the bus while Mr. Sewell was fixing the lights and walked around. He saw a street car coming from the direction of Fairville at a fast rate of speed, and heard the crowd calling for it to stop. He saw Mr. Belyea, and he thought Officer Stinson ran toward the car to try and stop it, but the motorist refused to stop, and Mr. Belyea ran back toward his auto. He saw the car strike the auto and heard a little girl say, where is my daddy, is my daddy hurt? or words to that effect. The street car dragged the auto quite a distance and only stopped when Officer Stinson ran after it. At the time it struck he heard the canopy switch or circuit breaker throw. He saw no stones thrown at the street car but heard a noise as if a stone had hit the side of the car, and just after that a young man, whose name he afterwards learned was Miller, say to Officer Tower, "There officer, why don't you do your duty." The officer asked who he was talking to but Mr. Miller made no reply, and the officer ordered him to move on, and followed him to his own home a few doors below. Mr. Miller did not lay hands on the officer's shoulder. Shortly after that Mr. Sewell called him and they proceeded home. Near Tilton's corner a stone was thrown which hit their auto but did no damage and the witness called out, "This is a Union bus, not a street car."

In answer to Councillor Campbell, the witness said there was no disturbance and the police officer did their best to keep the crowd moving. He judged there would be 150 persons in the crowd. As near as he could say the time was between nine and ten o'clock in the evening.

This completed the evidence and adjournment was made until Tuesday evening next at eight o'clock.

Hatheway-Chestnut. Fredericton, Sept. 7.—Miss Mary Chestnut, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Chestnut of this city, and Lesley Hatheway, of Montreal, former resident of Fredericton, were united in marriage at Christ Church Cathedral this afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. Dean Nealen and was witnessed by a large congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Hatheway will make their home in Montreal where the groom is engaged in business.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court

Evidence Heard in Liquor Stealing Charge — Fines Struck in Traffic Cases.

Policeman Dykeman testified in the case of William O'Brien, charged on suspicion of breaking and stealing liquor to the value of $500 from the Great West Wine Co.'s warehouse, Water street. The officer told of finding the defendant in the rear of the warehouse at 3:45 Sunday morning. The accused said he had just been rowed across the harbor by his brother, and that he was to a dance at Seaside.

There was a man in a boat near the wharf whom the officer identified as the defendant's brother Frank. The officer said the rowlocks of the boat appeared to be muffled. The rear door of the warehouse was ajar at the time, and on searching the building a window in the lavatory was found broken.

Sergeant Detective Power told of searching the warehouse Sunday morning. He conversed with Frank O'Brien who told him he had not been out of his house after 11:30 Sunday night. J. A. Barry appeared for the accused and U. H. V. Belyea for the prosecution. The members requested Frank O'Brien was detained in connection with the case.

Five traffic violators were before the court, Walter Kenney and Lambert Stockford, were each fined $10 for parking their cars on King street. Leonard Ward, conductor of bus 2155, reported by Policeman Dykeman for allowing passengers to stand on the top and running board of his bus, pleaded guilty and was fined $10. Albert Henderson was fined $10 for not having a proper rear light on his automobile.

Charles Henry Bigney, motorman of street car No. 106, who was reported by Policeman Dykeman for not sounding the bell at the intersection of King and Charlotte streets, pleaded not guilty. Policeman Dykeman gave evidence, and the case was postponed until Friday morning.

Convention of The Funeral Directors

Secretary-Treasurer's Report Received — Greeting to Canadian Association.

The convention of New Brunswick Funeral Directors was continued yesterday in the Seaman's Institute, sessions being held morning and afternoon. Today the session of officers will take place and adjournment will be made.

At the morning session the secretary, N. J. Brennan, read and submitted his annual report and submitted his financial statement, showing increase in membership and finances in a healthy way. A resolution was passed to be wired to the Canadian Embalming Association, now in session in Toronto, extending greetings. Another resolution pledging support to the National Funeral Service Association of Canada by the New Brunswick Association was passed.

At the afternoon session, which met at 2 o'clock, the committee appointed to report on the address of the president and the report of the secretary-treasurer made its report and endorsed many of the suggestions. A considerable discussion took place and the report was adopted.

F. W. Wallace, who for many years has acted as secretary of the Canadian Funeral Directors, or of the association, tendered his resignation and this took up the time until the closing and will be further considered this morning. The committee appointed to accept the resignation, but Mr. Wallace feels he has earned a rest and the somebody else should take up the burden.

At four o'clock, Col. Sturdee, E. L. Rising, F. A. Kinner, Miss M. O. Magee and J. P. Clayton called for the delegates in automobiles and conveyed them to the meeting place. A field of honor and chapel and receiving tomb were inspected. At the field of honor the delegates as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased buried there stood for some time with bowed head. They were deeply impressed with the receiving tomb and the beauty of the cemetery.

This morning the election of officers, appointments of committees and unfinished business will be taken up.

Women's Institute Advisory Board

Plans for the annual meeting to be held at Woodstock in October were discussed at a meeting of the Advisory Board of the Women's Institute which met at the Exhibition Building yesterday. Mrs. C. J. Osman of Hazelton, presiding.

Others present were Mrs. C. J. Osman, President of the Advisory Board; Mrs. Ogilvy, Woodstock; Mrs. Bridges, Gagetown; Mrs. John Harvey, Fredericton; Mrs. Harry Croker, Moncton; Mrs. J. P. Paulin, Tracadis, and Mrs. Elizabeth Nutter, Assistant Supervisor of the Women's Institute.

Johna Ward, Dorchester street, and Joseph, arrived home yesterday afternoon from a seven weeks' trip to Seattle and Western Canadian cities. While in Seattle Mr. Ward attended the marriage of his son Walter.

Crowds Attend The Exhibition

Thousands Who Visit the Big Show Are Delighted With the Many Attractions.

The Exhibition continues to be crowded and those in charge are delighted with the splendid attendance. All attractions are well patronized and visitors agree that the fair of 1921 surpasses any previously held. The general appearance of the booths, their neatness and the lack of anything tawdry has been most generally commented upon.

The rats of Tuesday somewhat interfered with the balloon ascension, as it is difficult to fill a hot air balloon from a wet trench. The ascent was however successfully made yesterday by William Bonnette who lighted on the South End playgrounds. Today if weather permits the double parachute drop will be made by Bonnette.

Those who have charge of the Child Welfare and Public Health exhibits are very much pleased with the interest shown by visitors. Questions are asked of the attendants at each department and very frequently accounts given of benefit resulting from last year's instruction or information.

The Pure Milk booth is one which has opened the eyes of many persons to the necessity for improving the milk supply and the care of milk. Tests which show the large number of bacteria present in some milk force the lesson home. Both consumers and farmers are deeply interested in this matter and the latter are endeavoring to bring their samples up to standard. Dr. William Warwick and his assistant, Mrs. Edmund Fiewelwing, have given much valuable information regarding the need for a proper care of milk.

Next to this booth, a milk can has been placed to receive contributions from the Local Council of Women's Milk Fund. This fund supplies pure milk to ill nourished babies and the appeal has been answered by many persons.

The value of training the hand and eye is clearly demonstrated in the Free Kindergarten booth where examples of work done by pupils is exhibited. Each school made a poster for this booth. A house completely furnished with paper articles shows clever cutting and folding. A fairy story is very cleverly illustrated.

In the Women's Work Department are examples of kindergarten work proving what can be made of waste materials. Boxes, samples of waste paper and otherwise useless scraps of cardboard have been utilized to teach cutting and free coloring. Mrs. W. Caldwell, head of the Free Kindergarten Association are delighted to give any information.

The booth were children are made. At the afternoon session the secretary, N. J. Brennan, read and submitted his annual report and submitted his financial statement, showing increase in membership and finances in a healthy way.

Explosion On Street Car Track

Torpedoes Placed on West End Rails Nearly Caused Death of a Woman.

It is reported that on a few occasions some person has placed explosives on the car tracks in King street, West St. John, causing no little annoyance to motorists and passengers who are straddled by the explosion. As the result of one of these explosions Tuesday night about eleven o'clock, a lady who was lying ill in her home was so shocked that she went into convulsions and nearly lost her life.

It is said that explosions are caused by torpedoes used as are used by employees on the C. P. R. or C. N. R., but the latter is being investigated and should the person responsible for placing them on the street railway tracks be apprehended he will be severely dealt with.

Who some believe that it is the work of some would be joker, others think that the explosives are placed on the rails by an enemy of the Power Company for the purpose of causing fright to citizens who wish to use the street cars as a means of conveyance.

Capt. William Bowie, physical instructor for the Y.M.C.A. left last evening for Halifax to meet Mrs. Bowie and child who are to land there today from the steamer Saxonia after a visit spent at Mrs. Bowie's old home in Scotland.

Another Suspect Is Being Held. A suspect in the McAuley murder case who has been under police surveillance for some few weeks was taken to police headquarters yesterday and will be held pending investigation. No information regarding the suspect could be obtained from the detectives last night, beyond the fact that the man answered in some respects the description of the accused. As to whether the little girl who saw the murderer had identified the detained man as the same, the deaths were non-accidental.
