Patriotic Concert.

The literary and musical program given in the opera house on Friday evening, in aid of the ladies' patriotic work, proved to be very enjoyable.

The splendid lecture entitled "The Road to Berlin," given by Mr. Walter McKay, touched a responsive chord in the listeners, shown by the hearty applause interspersed throughout.

His description of Belgium—the country, people and history—the causes of the war, the position and influence of Germany among the nations, the unity of the British empire in the crisis, were brimful of information and interest and couldn't but enlist the sympathy of the audience for the down-trodden Belgian.

His recitation of one of Lloyd George's able addresses during the present crisis and the "Toast to Paul Kruger" were especially well given and gave variety to his lecture.

The address by Peter McArthur on "Canadian Citizenship" is one of the latest products of Mr. McArthur's literary talent. He showed the need of developing a Canadian nationhood and his address was thoughtful and intensely patriotic.

The musical numbers by Misses Morrison and Humphries, Mrs. Moore, Miss Bechill and Mr. McCracken were very appropriate and much enjoyed.

Total proceeds, $53.00.

PREACHER AND BRONCHO

Wild West Experience of Glencoe Old Boy Clergyman.

The following interesting comedy, in which a former Glencoe boy played the leading role, is related by the Rev. Deer (Alberta) Advocate:

Rev. Principal Keith of the Ladies College likes to drive a good horse, and occasionally he even goes so far as to give a demonstration of his ability to handle a fractious cayuse. Last Tuesday, he left his faithful old "George" standing in the stable and hitched up a western blood; and for a while things were distinctly interesting on Gaetz Avenue.

Indeed comedy and tragedy were fairly well blended: for when the whirling act was at its height, some unknown man was frightened through the Day Hardware Co.'s window; and it certainly looked as though the reverend gentleman was going to get the worst of the deal.

All accounts agree that Mr. Keith drove up at an honest pace, before the W. E. Lord Co.'s premises, and that he was proceeding to tie up, when suddenly, and quick as a flash, his Prairie Pimpernel, with a bound made for the opposite side of the street. The reverend driver, with some agility, caught the lines but failed to gain the cutter seat. On demand Mr. Keith can run well but a coon skin coat must be regarded as somewhat of a hindrance.

At the close of the first ten seconds, the driver prone on the ground was being dragged in a circle, but still hanging on to the lines. The first time around the course, all went well, on the second lap, the cutter upset and Gaetz Avenue was littered with robes, cutters seats and other articles too numerous to mention.

Then came the climax with the fall of the broncho, in a heap, on the slippery sidewalk. As he leaped to his feet, several of Red Deer's stalwart citizens rushed up and registered their objections against his further progress in such a reckless manner Mr. Keith then slowly gained his feet; and the spectators seemed to agree that while the reverend gentleman may or may not be much of a jockey, he certainly is a terror to hang on. If President Keith can stick to his proposition on College Heights during these war times with the same tenacity that he stuck to his runaway on Gaetz Avenue, he ought to win out eventually.

Death of an Ekfrid Pioneer.

The death occurred on Saturday last of Duncan S. Campbell, in his 85th year. Mr. Campbell was in comparatively good health up to two years ago, when he started to decline. He was born in Luss, Dumbartonshire, Scotland, in 1830, and after coming to this country sailed the great lakes for a number of years, then settled on the farm, north half lot 10, 2nd range north, Ekfrid, where he lived ever since.

Mr. Campbell was married in 1867 to Mary Morrison, whose former home was in Scotland, and who survives him, together with five children—James, of Hamilton; Katie and Margaret, of Briley, Mich.; Sadie of Chicago, and Duncan, at home. One son, Angus, died six years ago.

The funeral was held on Monday from his late residence to Eddie's cemetery. The pall-bearers were Neil A. Galbraith, Robert Webster, Alex. McDonald, Ellis Gibbs, Mr. Hathaway and John Mann.

STOCK JUDGING AT APPIN

Keen Interest Taken in the Department's Short Course.

Judging from the attendance and interest taken by the people, the short course held at Appin on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, Jan. 13th and 14th, was a decided success.

On Wednesday afternoon, Mr. A. C. Hallman, of Breslau, the successful Holstein man, discussed The Dairy Qualities. Three typical Holsteins were brought by Mr. McLean, and these animals were used for showing the desirable and undesirable points in a dairy cow. The animals were also placed by the men in attendance, and as a result not only a good discussion followed.

Beef Cattle were taken by Mr. W. J. Gardhouse, of Thistleton, who was discussing for some length the principals of breeding, and qualities to look for in a good beef animal, the class placed three Herefords which were brought out by Mr. Arthur Perry. They were good animals of the breed and a good deal of discussion followed as to whether the cow or the heifer should be placed first. However, after comparing the points, it was decided that the cow was the superior animal.

In the evening a meeting was held in the Town Hall. Although the attendance was not large, it was made up for by the enthusiasm of those present. A good discussion took place, led by Mr. Hallman and Mr. Gardhouse, that dealt principally with the feeding and management of their respective breeds of stock.

On Thursday sheep and horses were the subjects of discussion. Mr. Gardhouse had charge of these classes. Messrs. Johnson Bros. brought out three Shropshire sheep and Mr. D. Campbell three Lincolns, prize winners in their classes, and it was hard to pick out which really was the best. With the horses, Mr. Neil Galbraith supplied the Clydesdales and Mr. Sinclair the Percherons. As a rule everybody has an opinion about a horse, and the discussion was exceptionally lively the whole afternoon. About 100 were present at each session.
