

mentaries, and from the Greek; one of Æsop's fables, or a passage corresponding in length to one of Æsop's fables, from Xenophon's Anabasis or from the Greek New Testament, with grammatical analysis: the pages shall also be drawn by lot;—Provided, however, that this part of the tenth Article, having reference to the art of Teaching and Agriculture, shall not take effect until the Council of Public Instruction shall have approved of Text Books appropriated to the study of these two branches of instruction.

The Examiners shall word the questions in those parts of the programme in which the subject is merely indicated as they may judge proper; and there is nothing to prevent them from putting to the candidates other questions than those contained in the programmes, if they believe that it should be done; provided the required number of questions drawn by lot, in each programme, shall have been put. To the questions in the English and French grammars, shall be added the grammatical analysis of half a page taken from one of the books mentioned in the sixth Article; and the result of this analysis shall be appreciated jointly with that of the examination upon the subjects of the programmes.

Candidates for certificates to teach in one language only shall not be held to any of the tests or examinations in the other tongue.

Article Eleventh.—When a candidate shall not have obtained the diploma applied for, the Board may grant a delay, at the expiration of which he may again present himself; but the Board shall not be bound to examine a candidate thrice rejected.

Article Twelfth.—The Secretary shall preserve the dictation and composition written by the candidates. During the fifteen days following each session of the Board he shall transmit to the Superintendent of Education, a list in duplicate of the certificates granted, after the form schedule E.

Article Thirteenth.—Female candidates for diplomas to teach in Academies shall be exempt from examination in Greek and Latin. Candidates for Model school certificates and certificates for Academies may choose between an examination in universal history or the histories of England and France, the first exempting them from the two last.

Article Fourteenth.—The Superintendent of Education, or any person delegated by the Council of Public Instruction, may at all times inspect the Record and all documents of each Board of Examiners.
