MLA's inaction

Jack Campbell, an MLA, gave one of these stories. "I was so nervous when I went to write my grade six exams that I couldn't shave," he said.

An interesting aspect of the evening was the Alberta Tory MLA's reaction to Howard Pawley's New Democratic Party victory in Manitoba. Pawley's party took 33 of the 57 seats in the Tuesday provincial elections.

Most MLA's showed shock, at what Isley referred to as the election of another socialist government.

Isley was vocal about the federal, "socialist" government. "There hasn't been a federal liberal government in years," he said. "I am aware of a federal socialist government."

He also responded that the province does not tax students for loans or grants.

"They are taxed by a socialist government in Ottawa," he added. He was also critical of the Gateway's coverage.

"You guys are part of the problem," he said. "As soon as you came in here, you wanted to take us on."

"You (media) always have the negative side," Isley added.

L'Express gets all dressed up by P. Prince

L'Express has taken on a new look this year.

Gerry Wright, new manager of L'Express, is trying to give the place a clean appearance as well as improved service.

"At lunch we are making our sandwiches early (that same morning) in order to speed up service," says Wright. This is an attempt to get rid of the traditional long lunch line up.

The cafe will also be having hot items during the lunch hour, and eventually refilling coffee cups.

"We will have a girl wiping off the tables, and refilling coffee cups," Wright adds. "We'll keep on doing this as long as no one takes advantage of it."

L'Express is a cafe, not a study area Wright says.

"It's not that we mind having students studying over a cup of coffee, but during our peak hours many people have a sandwich with no place to sit."

Wright has more changes planned. These include the extension of the coffee counter, and the partitioning of the eating area by the windows.

"...an extension of the existing flower box will be made...in order to give it a garden like appearance. In this area we are going to try to give a catering service. That is to let large groups reserve a section and let us prepare them lunch. With this, we hope to be able to handle up to two groups of 40 people each," says Wright.
