considerable force because the spider is protected by a web.

Mealy bug is sometimes found on house plants, looking like a small tuft of white cotton. Sometimes the plants are affected with thrips, which are small slender black or brown insects, about a quarter of an inch long. Both these may be controlled by a free use of the insecticides mentioned.

If angleworms infest the soil in the pots, they may easily be removed by watering with lime water. A few applications of this at intervals of two or three days will generally drive out the worms.

A Tip For The Boys.

Don't Worry—Just Work!

While every young man should be ambitious to aspire to the leadership of his fellows, it is a fact that all cannot be at the helm, for some have to serve in the ranks. If there were none faithfully serving in the ranks, leaders would not be needed.

One fact should be forever in the minds of all young men — there is just as much honor in faithfully serving in the ranks as in the leadership. The leaders could not accomplish anything worthy of note if their subordinates did not do their allotted share of the work that has to be done faithfully, for a faithful worker gets the credit that is due him, whether he is in the ranks or in the lead.

The young man entering upon his career in the business world must keep one fact before him at all times—faithful work is not always rewarded with promotion. If he goes ahead faithfully performing all his duties, he can have a clear conscience, for he has earned the salary that he draws; in other words, he gives his employer a fair exchange in labor for what he receives in his pay envelope.

To be successful in his position, which is the stepping-stone in the ladder that leads to promotion, the young man must go ahead with his work and not worry whether it is appreciated or not. That comes with time.

He need not worry whether his employer seems to notice the hard work he is doing, for the employer does not exist that does not have his working force divided into two classes — the workers and the shirkers.

If he is doing his best for his employer, working to the best of his ability, the young man will be advanced when the period of promotion is at hand.
