VICE REGAL PARTY AT ANNAPOLIS ROYAL

Entertained at Home of Mauer an

ANNAPOLIS, N. S., Aug. 12.-The vice regal train, containing the Gov-ernor General and the Countess Grey and party, arrived here at 6.15, p. m. Their excellencies were met by Mayor and Mrs. Owen and the town council, and were accorded a most enthusiastic welcome. The vice rega party, accompanied by the Mayor and council, drove to Fort Anne. The Annapolis Royal band, stationed at the entrance of the fort, played God Save the King on the approach of his excellency. After encircling the fort, the vice regal party were driven into the square and dismounted. Here the in spite of this the local situation nayor welcomed their excellencies to the town, to which Earl Grey replied in a feeling manner. Among other things his excellency said: "That he had heard a great deal about the beauty of Annapolis Royal, and that he found it even more beautiful than had imagined." The party then visited the old powder magazine, the black hole and other points of interest in the fort. After driving to Lequille and seeing the points of historic interest there the party returned to the residence of the Mayor, where Mrs. Owen had invited a number to meet their excellencies. Their excellencies created the most favorable impression by the graciousness of their manner and by the evident enjoyment of all that was done for their pleas party left here about 8.30 for WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 12. - Immediately after the Power Company closed down their high voltage lighting lot. system, owing to the threat of Peter Clinch that all insurance would be cancelled, the company sought the advice of one of the best electrical engineers in Montreal, who advised them that their system is as near perfection os possible. Acting on this information, F. B. Carvell, M. P., one of the directors, has turned on the lights in his residence; and notified the companies carrying the risks that they may can cel the policies if they choose, Many other citizens have adopted the same course, and in all probability the ma jority of the town will be lighted this The Power Company intimate that they will look to Mr. Clinch to ful and the grounds nicely decorated make good any damage caused by his with flags. Several interesting games conduct inasmuch as they claim the statements made by him while here to different parties regarding alleged danger from the operation of the plant are nothing short of nonsense.

Several Young Campbellton Couples to Wed Soon

August Proving to be a Popular Month -Eel River Bridge Being Replaced -Gampbellton Personals.

EVEN WEDDINGS

CAMPBELLTON, N. B., Aug. 10 .-August, instead of June, is proving to be the popular month for weddings in the town of Campbellton and vicinity. Possibly the backward season is it part responsible. Everything is late this year. Wednesday of this week will be an important date in the history of four young couples at least. At 4.15 a. m. a very happy event took place in the Church of Our Lady of the Snows, when Miss Maude La Casse, daughter of Mrs. J. S. La Casse, was united in marriage to Alexander Roy of Moncton. The ceremony was per formed by Rev. Father E. P. Wallace and was witnessed only by the intimate friends and relatives of the con-tracting parties. The bride, who presented a very charming appearance, was attired in a navy blue travelling suit with white trimmings, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses and maidenhair fern. The newly married couple left on the Lady Eileen for Gaspe immediately after the ceremony was performed. They will also visit Charlottetown and Halifax, and on their return will reside in Moncton, where the groom holds a responsible position in the Peter, McSweeney Com

Another very pretty wedding took place at the home of Robert Dickie, of Charlo, on the same day, when his daughter, Miss Mary Ann, became the wife of Councillor Joseph H. Taylor of this town. The ceremony was witnessed only by the immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who who is very popular, received many beautiful and costly presents. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Camp-

At Matapedia, on the same day, Miss Mary, daughter of A. Adams, was united in marriage to James Fraser. The young couple are very popular among their friends, who will wish for Catalogue. them a long and prosperous life. Still another wedding took place in Campbellton on the same day, when David McDonald was joined in the bonds of matrimony to Mrs. J. D. Ryan. The couple will reside in Flat-

CANADA'S GREAT PART, ETC.

(Continued from Page 1) tirely to my approval-and I firmly believe that in any city where a good Canadian Club exists the reign of boo-die and graft for more than a very hort time will be an impossibility. Now gentlemen my visit to St. John where I and my party are being so hospitably entertained by the city, completes the tour of my official visits to the provinces of Canada, and I think. I may say without fanning a slight spark of jealousy that if you are the last you are certainly not the least of the reat Provinces which I have visited. Gentlemen, the prosperity of a nation lies not in its area or in the numbers of its population, but in its soul. And I do not know where I should look for the soul of Canada in preference to the province where the spirit of

hear with undiminished force, in the hearts of the people. "I have learned and with greatest satisfaction, that the generation of to-day have inherited the wisdom, loyalty and ambition of their ancestors, and that the City of St. John which was reared on the basis of loyalty and high social and moral conditions, still rests its civic, social and political life on the same solid and noble foundations. If this is so, then I venture to predict there is no limit to the ulti-mate horizon of your greatness. "The indomitable spirit in which you met the crushing disaster of the fire which overwhelmed your city about 30 years ago was an example of the manly British pluck which animates your people. Again, the spirit with which, notwithstanding the heavy losses you sustained through the fire, concentrated your energies upon you concentrated your energies upon the improvement of your port by your own efforts and without waiting for government assistance, so as to make a worthy inlet and outlet of Canada's expanding overseas trade, affords another proof of your strenuous character. "When I consider the great advantages with which Canada has so libe ally endowed you, when I look to your fisheries, to your forests, to your lands, to your climate, to your maritime position which brings you into close touch with the markets of the world, I feel that a great destiny awaits you, if you only have the necessary soul. Perhaps it is because I come from a maritime province myself that I feel so much at home when I come to the Maritime Province of New Brunswick, but I confess to a belief that it is the maritime provinces of the world, which from time immemorial have been the centre of culture, influence, power and civilization. The Phoenicians, the Greeks, the Carthagenians, the Romans, the Dutch, the English, all provide examples of the way in which natgreatness can be sought and won by energetic thrift and patriotic people whose lands frontier upon the sea. The history of Holland is part of and should also be an incentive and a warning to the peoples of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. When the Dutch land the foundation of their national life which gave them a world smpire and to us our ideas of civic and religious liberty, science, art, medicine, banking and philosophy, there was not in the whole of the Netherlands a spot of ground that did not yield under the footsteps of man. Thousands of windmills had to pump solid foundation for their feet-in the pring cold winds destroyed their fruit essoms, and in the autumn much fruit was blown down before the ripening stage, and yet this country so cirmstanced with no minerals, no timber, no stone, became, for a time through the virtue of its citizens, the first country in the world. From the earliest time the fishery industry has been the mother of maritime and commercial greatness and it was the ishery industry of the Dutch that made them a nation of sailors and tradesmen and laid the foundation of their greatness and wealth. The istorian tells us that the economic and political greatness of the Dutch wes based on fish and it may interest you to know that an obscure Dutch fisherman, one William Beukelszoon, of Biervhiet, laid towards the middle of the fourteenth century, the foundation of the supremacy of the Dutch by discovering a method of curing and barrelling herring, whereby these fish could be preserved for many months. It is interesting to note that the great Emperor Charles V., visited Beukelszoon's grave in 1550, nearly 100 ears later and ordered a magnificen monument to be erected to the memory of the man whose services had thing else to increase the maritim wealth and power of Holland. "Gentlemen,I have referred to this exmple of the way in which the Dutch built up their national greatness upon the basis of fish, because you have in the pastures of the ocean which lap your shores, opportunities not less than theirs, and because I am under the impression from what I have learned during my visit to your Maritime Provinces, that owing to the conservative tenacity with which you people cling to crude wasteful and unscientific methods of catching and curing their fish, your great fishery industry has contributed more perhaps than any-not yet been fully developed. The history of the Dutch also shows that greatness won by individual effort disappears before the want of co-operative union and in this respect the istory of the Dutch is a warning for British Empire. The Dutch States were a loose conglomerate of independent political units each of which worked for their own parochial interests rather than for the welfare of the whole and their fate is a warning of what the British Empire may ex pect if local individual interests are ever allowed to override those of the Empire as a whole. "I understand a part of the pres have described my speech to the Can adian Club at Halifax as an impassion ed appeal to Canada for an immedia contribution to the Imperal fleetthat is not a correct description of m ech-I never suggested that Can ada should be asked to make an in mediate contribution. It is true th I pointed out that in the opinion of governments represented at th Imperial Conference, the safety of you
