

TENNYSON many years ago wrote these lines. "For men may come and men may go, but I go on for ever." And if he had been alive to-day he might have written in the same strain regarding many of the cheap trash imitations of coffee. They come, and after strutting their little hour, pass out. The large sale of "Mocha and Java" coffee proves it to be of undoubted merit. When you buy it from us you are getting the best that can be had—40c a pound.

COON CAME DOON

Mr. Foster Says Premier Laurier did so only Because

He was Afraid to Stay up—The Ex-Finance Minister Discusses Liberal Blunders.

The Planet had a chat with Hon. Geo. E. Foster while he was in the city yesterday.

"I don't think the general elections very near at present," said Mr. Foster. "About a month ago the Government had made up its mind to go part of January, but when they began to feel the constituencies they found the air a little too frosty. Then the blunder they made, yes, worse than the blunder in regard to the Canadian contingent, stopped any desire they might have had for a speedy meeting of the electorate. The fact that the Manitoba elections have been brought on and the Quebec legislature has been summoned goes to confirm the idea that a session of the Dominion Parliament will be called."

The prospects of the Conservative party are very encouraging from the Maritime provinces westward. The party is thoroughly united, ready for action and confident of results. They are quite willing to meet the Government before the people any time they choose. I think all the provinces will show Liberal-Conservative gains. The utter disregard that the Liberals have had for the most definite pledges and promises made in 1896, has thoroughly alienated many voters in every constituency, who trusted to their professions and expected the Liberals to faithfully fulfil them. Their whole administration of affairs has been equally unsatisfying and has not evidenced either ability or straightforwardness. Where they have kept on lines laid down by the Liberal-Conservatives they have met with results, but where they have attempted matters on their own account they have blundered execrably and failed. As a witness of this, take the last line service. After having torn up a contract ready for signature, which would have made the service a certainty by this date, and having farmed the contract out to a firm of brokers for three years, all they have to show Canada is a model of bottle-necked steamers presented by the travelling minister, Mr. Doherty, the other day to the Quebec board of trade. To this may be coupled the admission of Sir Richard Cartwright that previous orders and increased cost has rendered fast steamers impossible for years to come.

"The latest blunder was the Premier's position on the Transvaal question. He deliberately flung into the face of the most loyal colony of England, after the trouble had arisen, that the constitution forbade Canadian assistance, that no money was available and that therefore his government hadn't even considered the matter, while his dominating minister, Mr. Tarte, publicly announced that Canada had nothing to do with British affairs outside of Canada. This was a most humiliating position for the Government of the premier colony of Great Britain. Of course the coon came down when public opinion grew indignant, but that was simply because the coon hadn't courage to stay up."

Mr. Foster adds that largely as a consequence of these blunders he everywhere finds the opposition confident and united, while, on the other hand, many former Liberals are thoroughly disgusted and the party disunited.

Joan Baptiste Prevost, aged 106 years, and her sister-in-law, Esther Pilon, aged 88 years, arrived from St. Ann's, where they had spent the summer, descended unaided from the train and entered a general practice. The doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."
