ASTHMA

Choking and Gasping for Breath Relieved by "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

NEW ROCKLAND, P.Q. "In 1919, I was taken with Bronchial Asthma and no one knows what I suffered with it during the winter. I began having Choking Spells—gasping for breath and could not speak. I would have one of these bad spells in the evening, one during the night, and one in the morning. The doctor said he could do nothing for me.

"In the spring of 1920, I started taking "Fruit-a-tives" and in a few days, the choking spells stopped, and I have had none since May 7th, 1920. I have so wanted to tell other sufferers who have the same trouble about "Fruit-a-tives" for I know how they must suffer.

Some thought the Asthma would come back on me as winter came on but it has not, thanks to "Fruit-a-Mrs. J. M. PENNINGTON. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent postpaid by Spending more time indoors makes women far more subject to constipation than men.

Indoor Life

The liver becomes sluggish and torpid, the bowels constipated and the system poisoned by impurities.

If you would get away from the myriads of ills which result from constipation, it is only necessary to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

The benefits from their use are as lasting as they are prompt and Mrs. John Barry, 18 St. Amable Street, Quebec, Que., writes:

"This is to certify that I was troubled This is to certify that I was troubled for years with constipation and tried all kinds of medicines without relief. At last my husband suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so, and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last fifteen years. I may also add that I have much Dr. Chase's Claiment for piles with excellent results.

Schoolgirl Amazes Experts

the ages persons have arisen who astonished their generation by their strange gifts and occult powers. Sometimes these persons were revealed as fakers in their own day. Sometimes they got by while they lived, only to be unmasked by subsequent investigators. Sometimes they had made discoveries slightly before their time and claimed a supernatural origin for natural phenomena. Occasionally a man amases the people of his own time and leaves a mystery which is never solved. To one of these classes belongs Eugene Dennis, a Kansas City girl, who in attending High School and who appears to have some remarkable gift. She makes no claim of being in communication with the spirit world. She does not know how she performs her wonders, and is in every respect an ordinary flapper, who admits she is fond of boys and chocoadmits she is fond of boys and cheed-lates, and who is no brighter, save for her queer gift, than the ordinary girl of her age. The theory is ad-vanced that she has "paychic eyea," whatever that may be, That she is a trickster appears to be an untenable theory. She has already been investigated to establish this point by man who is an acknowledged expert.

It was about a year ago that Miss Dennis began to startle her friends by her powers, one of her first victims being a youth who was driving her in his car and chose a shady spot just outside the town where he thought he might suitably step and refresh himself with a king stop and refresh himself with a kins. He was getting himself all set for the exercise, with Miss Eugenie net averse, when suddenly a rapt leek crossed her face and she stammweelt:

"A man—hurt—an automobile—quick—if they do net—hurry he will die—send a message to the homptal—quick." Then she fainted. The amased boy shook her by the arm and in a moment she came round. She told him to hurry with his car into town, as there had been an aedident, and if help did not come immediately a man would die. He put stop and refresh himself with a kiss cident, and if help did not come immediately a man would die. He put on all speed in the direction she pointed out and presently saw two wrecked automobiles and a little group of people. They told him that the victim of the collision had been already taken to the hospital. It would appear that Miss Dennis was somehow or other made aware of tha somehow or other made aware of the accident at the moment it happened. In fact she saw it.

Some time ago she paid a visit to Omaha, and it was from there that the first public news of her queer gift smanated. One of her weman friends remarked that she had lest a valuable diamond ring the day before, and Eugenie, without going in-to a trance, but merely concentrating her mind, told her where it had been dropped. She said it would be recovered if she hurried, because in half an hour a man with a vacuum cleaner would be busy with the rugs. The matron hurried away to the friend's house, went to the room, and at the designated spot picked up the ring. She had not recovered from her amasement and delight when a servant knocked at the door and asked if it would be convenient for him to clean the rugs. There were several other similar incidents which found Miss Bertie Reid spent several days their way into the newspapers, with the result that the American So for Psychical Research in New York became interested and commissioned an investigator.

It happened that the best investigator for one phase of the problem is a resident of Omaha. He is David Abbott, whose business is the manu-facture of paraphernalia for magicians. It is said that half the tricks of the professors of lagerdemain are the invention of Abbott. He has of-ten said that he can duplicate any ten said that he can duplicate any trick of the professional mediums and was eager to interview Miss Dennis. It was arranged that she should live at his house for a few weeks. She did so, and Abbett's report, which has been forwarded to the society, will say that she remains a mystery to him, and that there can be no possibility of traud in what she performs. Nothing mere drams tic in the history of these investigations ever occurred than the incident one evening recently, when hir. Abbott invited some twenty-five Abbott invited some twenty-ave guests to meet the girl and witness a demonstration of her powers. For a while she remained chatting with them, telling them things about their

them, telling them things about their past lives, which astonished them, when suddenly she stopped and criod: "Wait! Wait!"

"I'm getting something!" she enclaimed. "Something awful is happening. A man is being killed right now—right here in Omaha. I see a street car. I see three darkfaced men running through the streets. The man is dead." She resumed her chat in normal tones, and a few minutes later the guests were leaving the house. They boarded a street car and noticed the excitement of the other passengers. They then learned that three negroes had shot and killed a policeman at the end of the car line, fifteen minutes before, at the precise moment. the end of the car line, fifteen min-utes before, at the precise mement when Miss Dennis had her vision. It is said that the girl has also unc-cessfully repeated a test message agreed upon between Abbott and a dead friend, who had promised to send this particular message if ever he found a medium. Eugenic is to be further investigated by the Society for Psychical Research.

Marian is eleven years old and thinks that she is old enough to stop lowing her hair bobbed and let it groun out and be braided as do the other littie girls in her class. But her moth er has different ideas. So, of course there is an argument every time hall cutting time arrives. Last time media or brought forth a new argument. " want your hair to be pretty and thick when you grow up," she said, "and there is nothing which makes your hair grow better than to cut it often." Marian's eyes opened wide. why don't you begin it on father?" she said. "He says himself that he is getting bald."
