FINE WEATHER AND BIG CROWDS AT LEUC FAIR

Second Annual Exhibition a Huge Success. Propriety of Fun and Recreation. Excellent Exhibits of Stock. Athletic Events. Speeches in the Evening.

The members and executive of the Leuc Agricultural society, assisted by the citizens of town and district, united in their efforts Friday to make their second annual summer fair a distinct success. The attendance on the grounds in the afternoon was over 1,500, comprising hundreds from the country and some train loads of excursionists from Edmonton and Strathcona. The wet weather of the previous two days suspended haying operations in the country and forced a holiday upon the busy farmers. The weather for the fair was bright and clear and the new ground covered with the lush natural grass of the virgin prairie, afforded splendid facilities for the conduct of the various athletic racing and stock judging events, and at the same time a splendid relief from the muddy roads and streets.

Fine New Fair Grounds.
The new fair grounds are 24 acres in extent and have been acquired by the agricultural society and town only a few weeks since, but with comparatively small expense they can be fitted up to form a recreation and exhibition park second to none in Alberta.

Little was wanting to interest the visitors in the afternoon. As described by one of the prominent guests of the directors as "a program affording a combination of fun and wholesome recreation."

Exhibits Were Good.
The general quality of the exhibits in each department was up to the high standard the people of Alberta set before them. In the horses and cattle some creditable animals took prize. Mr. Bryce Wright of the Winton, judged the horses and Mr. W. R. Winstow, of Lacombe, the cattle, sheep and goats. The horse who has been identified with the live stock interests of Alberta for 20 years, in a few general remarks to visitors at the show ring said that no part of Canada was such steady improvement in breeding horses being made as in Alberta where the conditions here were such as to produce individuals of strong lung power and vigorous disposition, two of the most important factors in equines of quality and substance.

In the horses J. S. Johnston carried off the greatest number of prizes, especially in the light horse class, while the red ribbon in the cattle exhibits was Mr. E. T. Buckell's, his Shorthorn being the winning animal. The ewe and sheep were represented by a small exhibit, many of the farmers finding it too difficult to transport their exhibit over the muddy roads.

Athletic Program.
A long program of athletic sports, baseball, football and real, genuine and exciting pony races over the rough prairie, divided the interest of the spectators and kept the crowd well distributed over the ground. Edmonton won in baseball from Taskwin by a score of 10 to 3. Leduc defeated Millet 2 to 0 in football in the tug of war ten Leduc stalwarts easily dragged the Clearwater team over the line.

The Speakers.
The day's events were concluded by a round-up at the grand stand, where a number of the prominent visitors at the fair addressed the crowd. Mr. Karl Martin, president of the agricultural society of Leduc, acted as chairman. He thanked the gentlemen on behalf of the agricultural society and the citizens of the town of Leduc. Some of the words upon patriotism, which he said, was loyalty to the laws and the climate of the country. There was cause for real patriotism in this country because it was the best country. Wrong, oppression and greed were not to be found here as in any other country in the world. Neither culture nor wealth could save the wrongdoer from the law under Canadian justice. The aim of patriotism was to preserve and improve the state. There was a patriotism of sentiment which appealed to the old-fashioned citizens. The virtue and patriotism of the people would bring it to pass.

Strathcona's Mayor.
Mayor Mills, of Strathcona, spoke in terms of praise and admiration of the success of the second fair at Leduc and congratulated the management and the intelligence, virtue and patriotism of the people would bring it to pass.

Mr. Telford's Address.
Mr. R. T. Telford, M.P.P., concluded the feast of oratory. He supplemented the words of congratulation that had been expressed by previous speakers and particularly the executive of the Agricultural Society.

EAST ENDERS SELECT E. BAYFIELD WILLIAMS

As Candidate for Aldermanic Vacancy. Judge Harland Declined to Accept Endorsement. F. W. Brown Scores Commissioner Kincaid and the City Engineer.

There was a large, representative and enthusiastic meeting of the residents of the east end of the city last night. It was held in the hall of Paul Rudyk, adjoining the International hotel. On motion Mayor Magistrate T. H. Wilson was elected chairman, and Alderman Daly the secretary.

Mr. Wilson, in opening the meeting, outlined the object as being that of selecting a candidate to contest the seat vacated by late Alderman Dr. Macaulay. He suggested an open discussion and afterwards the selection of a candidate whose name would later be put in the hands of the citizens of the city.

F. W. Brown moved, seconded by Judge Harland, that it is advisable that a candidate be put in the field from the east end of the city. The motion was unanimously and enthusiastically carried. Judge Harland stated that he was strongly of the opinion that the people of this section should make the selection of a gentleman whose name would later be put in the hands of the citizens of the city to be held at a subsequent date, probably next Monday evening.

Ald. Daly, in response to an invitation from the chair, briefly addressed the meeting, the actions of the east end aldermen, he thought, had been fairly well before the people. He thought during the past year had been a hard one and had frequently had to do much work as to how to keep the city in a good state. He had reposed in him. Through a number were new to the work, those elected for the first time had done their best. He thought during the past year in the waterworks and sewerage improvements the east end, as being made in the city. There had, of course, been some trouble about Namsay avenue and as the east end had lost one of their men it was up to the citizens to elect another to take his place and see that the east end part of the city got what was coming to it. He hoped and believed the money stringency would soon be over and that all the city improvements now somewhat retarded would rapidly proceed.

Ald. Anderson said the east end aldermen had tried to do the best for the entire city, as for the east end itself. There had been complaint of private secretary to Sir Louis Davies, judge of the Supreme Court, Ottawa, and was also allied with Hon. Mr. Aylmer, minister of Justice, as counsel for the Maritime provinces in the case for increased representation heard before the Privy Council, England.

Street Car Conductor Arrested.

They alleged methods of defrauding the company was when passengers put tickets into the box the accused took them out and resold them. They were, it is charged, detected in their crooked work by the Thiel detective agency, the detectives being employed by the Winnipeg Street Railway company.

Journalists in Calgary.

Tupper did not sail, owing to Lady Tupper not feeling sufficiently strong to take the voyage.

Archbishop Bruchesi's Jubilee.
Montreal, Aug. 8.—His Grace, Archbishop Bruchesi celebrated the tenth anniversary of his consecration as archbishop of Montreal yesterday. A pontifical High Mass was sung by His Grace, assisted by the canons of the Cathedral, the superiors of the colleges and seminaries, and the parish priests of the archdiocese. The members of the different communities of the city and the lady also assisted at the ceremony. A banquet was held, after the church service, at which His Grace presided.

Vegetables and Grasses.
The statement of Dr. McIntyre that Leduc was the best fodder-growing district in Northern Alberta was attested by the fine exhibits of grasses and vegetables. Nothing could surpass the substance and quality of the cabbage, cauliflowers, onions and beets. Strathcona was represented in this department, Mrs. McIntyre exhibiting several firsts in onions, cauliflowers and beets.

Dairy Exhibits and Bread.
There was a splendid exhibit of dairy butter, attesting pre-eminently the industry and careful attention to the preparation of the cream, the butter after it is churned, also the neat and tasteful manner in which the bread was prepared. There was a large exhibit of home-made bread of excellent quality, and in which the loaf was prepared by some manufacturers compared favorably with the best imported brands.

Poultry.
There was a good representation of the various classes in this department, including geese, ducks, turkeys, pigeons and fowl. The barred rocks were the largest class, and some fine specimens of the breed were on exhibition. The leghorns were a good second, while minors, bantams and brahmas, well worthy of mention, were in evidence. From the conversation of the people who thronged the pens, it is evident that an intelligent and lively interest is being taken in the raising of poultry and realizing its importance in the economy of a mixed farming district.
