ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, March 18.
Official.—On the Yser the Belgian army progressed anew and repulsed several German counter-attacks. On the British front very fierce artillery duels took place. North of Arras the enemy vainly tried, late in the afternoon, to deliver another counter-attack against trenches situated on the spur of Notre Dame de Lorette. Seizures and Rhiems were again shelled, and ten projectiles struck the Rheims Cathedral. In Champagne, north of Mesnil, and west of Hill 196, we captured, on a front of about 500 metres, an important height occupied by the enemy. In the Argonne several German counter-attacks between Bolante and Four de Paris, were thrown back. An artillery contest is reported in Woerw district. One of our aviators threw bombs on Colmar Barracks.

THE BATTLE OF NEUVE CHAPPELLE.

LONDON, March 18.
A remarkable tribute to German bravery at the great battle of Neuve Chapelle in Northern France, is paid in the Official Eye Witness narrative issued to-day by the Government Press Bureau. This account, which describes the fighting around Neuve Chapelle, reports that three German Princes, including Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern, member of the reigning family of Germany, were killed in the conflict. The narrative tells of desperate fighting, and terrible slaughter in the ranks of the Germans. On the night of March 12th and 13th, the statement says, the Germans attempted to retake their old position, but their attacks were repulsed. For three days the enemy, backed by severe bombardment, and strong reinforcements from many units that had been arriving continuously since the 10th, attempted to beat us back, but all attempts failed. The German reinforcements were thrown into the fight as soon as they arrived on the field. Captured officers were very optimistic. It was a picture, who gave us information about the three princes having been

Khaki is Best Fighting Color.

How should a soldier be clad? asks the London Standard. The answer obvious. He should be warm in the winter and cool in the summer. But this is only a corner of the question. Warm and cold clothing, can be arranged quite easily. The discussion at the present moment is what his color should be. Of course, there is a very exquisite science of color, and it would be easy to design a perfectly invisible set of clothing for any man who wants to stand still in one place.

In one corner of the Natural History Museum at South Kensington two birds are on show. One is visible, and the other is either missed altogether by the human eye or else it looks like a ghost. Both are models of doves, and the invisible or semi-visible ghost is just as solid as the other one. Its invisible coat has been given by painting darker greys on its back and all the upper edges of its head and wings. In fact, on all parts that would ordinarily catch the sunlight the grey is dark. Underneath the body the staining grows lighter, until, just opposite the ground shadow, it is pure white.

If only our soldiers could be clothed in some gradation of colors that would make them as invisible as the ghostly pigeon it would be very useful indeed. It might be done. Possibly every man that marched through London in khaki could be made more or less ghost-like by gradating the tints of his equipment. He might be colored like a rabbit, white beneath and darker on his legs, deep brown at the top of his shoulders and all over his hat. Unfortunately a soldier sometimes lies down, and so the gradations of his color become absurd.

Our English soldier in khaki is the most invisible of all the soldiers in the world. We have had our lessons in the snow-clad mountain passes of North Western India and in the deserts of Southern Egypt. We have sent our men under fierce sunlight across the veldt of South Africa, and drilled them in winter fogs over the black lands of Aldershot. Out of a million such experiments has come the sure conviction that khaki is the most invisible of all colors.—G.

Hr. Grace Notes.

Master Max Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Taylor, of the Southside, underwent an operation at his home yesterday, and had his tonsils removed. Drs. Cron and Stentford performed the operation which we are pleased to say was successful, and the patient is doing well.

It was our privilege yesterday to have a chat with an old lady who is nearing her 96th year—Mrs. Mary Simmons, mother of Mrs. Arch. Noseworthy, of the Southside. The old lady was very interested in chatting of old times and could refer to scenes in the early life with as much ease as one 40 years younger. She has been an invalid for four years, but her daughter's great care and attention makes the evening of the old lady's life very happy.

A sad occurrence took place at Riverhead yesterday morning, when Miss Effie Hickey while mentally afflicted, took her own life by hanging herself in the stable. A sister called to see her and a sick brother, and as the deceased was nowhere to be found in the house she went out in the barn looking for her, and was horrified to find the lifeless body suspended from a beam. The shock was a terrible one to the woman as it was to all the residents. The family have the deepest sympathy of everybody.

One of the best meetings of the Loyal Orange Association of Harbor Grace for many years, was held in their lodge room on Monday night, 15th inst. Past Grand Master Morison, Grand Deputy Master Penney and Bro. T. F. Butt being present.

The Worthy Master, Bro. John Butt, called the lodge to order at 8 o'clock. The meeting opened with prayer and the singing of the National Anthem. The W.M., in a few well chosen words, introduced the Grand Lodge Officers, and asked Past Master Morison if he would take the chair and preside over the meeting. On taking the chair P.G.M. Morison expressed great pleasure at being present, and very clearly stated the object of the meeting. He then called on Bro. Penney to address the meeting, and the latter gave a very able and interesting address on the Association and its principles. Bro. T. F. Butt then gave an able and interesting address lasting over an hour, on the causes which led to the great European War. The other speakers were Bro. Wm. Butt, Bro. Edward Parsons, and Bro. Grouchy, the last named of Pouch Cove.

Patriotic songs were sung between the addresses by Bros. Leonard Sheppard, Robert Morison and Past Master John Davis, music being supplied by Bro. Wm. Butt. P.G.M. Morison then very clearly explained the principles of the Orange Association and the good work that has been done throughout the country since its organization. It was then proposed by P.M. Sheppard and seconded by D.M. Rogers, and unanimously carried, that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to the Grand Lodge officers and other brethren for their visit to Harbor Grace and for the very able and instructive addresses delivered. Also that a hearty invitation be extended to P.G.M. Morison and the other Grand Lodge officers for another good rousing Orange meeting at a future date. P.G.M. Morison replied, and said he would make arrangements with some of the Grand Lodge officers to hold another meeting here in the month of November when the brethren would have returned from their different vocations. The Orangemen of Hr. Grace greatly appreciate P.M. Morison, who for forty years has worked so faithfully for the benefit of the Order, and has raised the standard of Orangism in Newfoundland to what it now is an institution of over 16,000 members in good standing, and they sincerely hope that he may be spared for many years with good health to continue his noble work.

MAKING UP.

There are ways and ways of deceiving the public, but skill must be exercised when one tries to fool other folks about one's complexion, rosy lips, or perfectly arched brows. I do not disapprove of a discreet touch of colour being added to the two pale cheeks or the colorless lips, but it must be done with discretion.

A good light should be placed overhead or at the side of the dressing table, for only in this way is it possible to observe closely the effect of one's powder and rouge. Again powders and rouge do not always blend harmoniously.

Some women have a natural colour at night, others are pale, and here judicious use of the rabbit's foot will do no harm. Shade according to contour of the face and touch the ears lightly when they are very pale. The tips also come in for their attention, just the merest touch is sufficient.

Wherever rouge is applied, it is far better to apply too little than too much, for flagrant artifice disgusts many men and it advertises a woman's vanity to an extreme. Rouge is applied before powdering the skin, for this tends to blend it to a more natural tint.

Every woman must determine the tint of her powder, one for the flesh and another oftentimes for the face. Sometimes the skin on the face has a rosier hue than on the chest and arms and vice versa.
