AMERICANS GAIN OBJECTIVES.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 1 (By the A. P.)—The American troops in their drive beyond Juvigny, last night and to-day, advanced about two miles and captured nearly 600 prisoners, together with considerable war supplies.

The advance from Juvigny began at 8 o'clock Saturday, and the Americans had gained their objectives by nine o'clock at night. Ragged points in the new line were smothered out to-day. In addition to 600 prisoners, 2 pieces of artillery were captured and a great number of machine guns and trench mortars. Branches, shell holes and the open field were strewn with German dead.

The drive forward, from the positions north and south of Juvigny, proved a field day for the Americans and their Allies, the French. The artillery literally blasted a way through the enemy ranks, tearing down defenses and leveling the ground. While Allied planes maintained complete and uninterrupted connection by radio with battery commanders throughout the engagement.

ON BELGIAN SOIL.
OTTAWA, Sept. 1. American troops, advancing alongside the British, have their first battle on Belgian soil to-day. They captured Voormezele on Sunday and joined with their Allies in the important operations which were carried out along the sector.

THE CHANCELLOR'S ANXIETY.
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 31. Count Von Hertling, the Imperial German Chancellor, to-day expressed anxiety over the outlook for the future, in an address to a delegation of representatives of the Catholic Students Union. According to a Berlin despatch, the Chancellor spoke of the sacrifices and the demands of war, and declared significantly that in addition to the sacrifices of blood, from which hardly any families had been entirely spared, there are difficulties of food and clothing, and manifold deprivations at the present time, and he is anxious concerning the outlook for the future. War, the Chancellor declared, was and is the greatest possible experience for the nation. It manifests itself, he said, amongst Germany's enemies in the form of hatred "bordering on insanity," while among the Germans it displays its effect, principally, internally, in strengthening the inclination to criticism against the Government and its measures. This criticism intensified party antagonism, the Chancellor added, and he warned the students that "therein, gentlemen, there is undoubtedly danger."

BRILLIANT ENGAGEMENTS.
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 1 (By the A.P.)—The capture of Mont St. Quentin by the Australians was a daring and brilliant achievement. Starting out from east of Clercy, about 5 o'clock in the morning, the Australians pushed their way forward, despite heavy fire from the Boche machine guns, and swarmed into Pouilleuxcourt. They captured 200 Germans. About the same time another party of Australians "quietly" which means that they were unaided by artillery, attacked Mont St. Quentin. The Germans were taken completely by surprise, for they had no idea that the Australians would dare attempt such a feat. By 8 o'clock the Australians had fought their way to the top of the Mount, and soon after that signalled their capture. Mount St. Quentin was alive with Germans, who came from everywhere and cried "Kamerad." These who did not were driven from their retreats or killed with grenades and bombs. Hundreds of prisoners were captured at this place. When the pit was being mopped up, British guns which had been moved up close to the River cut loose and began to pour a torrent of steel back of Mont St. Quentin, as a reminder to the Germans that they had better start moving quickly. The Australians must have worked with great swiftness to make so much progress in so short a time. German counter attacks delivered east of Bapaume, on the road to Cambrai, literally withered away before the fire of the British machine guns. The road to Cambrai and the ground on either side for some distance was dotted with the bodies of Germans who dashed against the British in useless attempts to drive them from the positions. About the same time the Germans were being beaten here, the Canadians launched a fresh attack and drove in to the enemy lines for some distance. Heavy fighting is reported to be still in progress between the Arras-Cambrai and the Bapaume-Cambrai roads.

ALLIES CAPTURE.
PARIS, Sept. 2. The Allied forces on the western front have taken a total of 189,976 prisoners since July 15. It was announced in an official statement to-day. In the same period 2,969 guns, 1,787 mine throwers and 13,783 machine guns were captured.

GERMANS RESISTING STUBBORN.
LONDON, Sept. 2. The core of the whole of the battle is now between the Scarpe River and Bapaume, and it is here that the Germans are really fighting, according to the Daily Mail's correspondent at the British Headquarters in France. In this sector the Germans, says the correspondent, are fighting well to keep the Allies off their great line of defence, that winds along the most favorable ridge from St. Quentin to Drocourt. Here London, Marchmont and Liverpool troops are operating, while to the south the Canadians are fighting a fierce battle against stubborn resistance.

BARBER KILLS MINISTER.
VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 1. Tang Hui Lung, Minister of Education for China, brother of Admiral Ting Pui Ah King, of the War Department, Peking, was assassinated at 8 o'clock here to-night by a local Chinese barber, who then committed suicide.

SEEING LIGHT.
BIRMINGHAM, Sept. 1. Arthur Henderson, leader of the Labor Party in the House of Commons, declared in a speech here to-day that labor's international policy was not one of compromise with the military rulers of Germany or of surrender to the predatory aims of the German imperialists. It was not a policy of weakness and disunion, such as had the Russian people to the debacle of Brest Litovsk. It was a policy inspired in every clause by the desire to win the war for democracy and freedom. Mr. Henderson said he was utterly disappointed with the attitude of the German Socialist majority, and declared there could not be an international conference until the parties in the Great War had accepted the inter-Allied labor memorandum as a basis of discussion.

What Importers are Asking.
An example of the difficulties with which the Food Control Board are confronted is afforded by the position to-day in regard to butter and cheese. Some weeks ago the Canadian authorities put an embargo on the shipment of these articles to Newfoundland because they were urgently required for the Allied armies and peoples in Europe. Mr. Thomson, the Canadian Food Controller, was here last month representations were made to him with a view to securing at least some supplies, and he agreed to lift the embargo if our dealers would order sparingly. In response to the notification by the local Food Board that the embargo was raised, a flood of orders for these commodities followed, and after Mr. Thomson got back to Ottawa he found the situation there such that he had to put despatch the Canadian Food Controller, on the embargo again, intimating that it would only be possible to secure second grade butter and cheese. The Food Control Board therefore decided it would first seek stocks for local buttering factories, so that the great mass of the people might at least be assured of this form of substitute for butter. It is nothing also procurable, and invited the importers of butter and cheese to meet them to discuss the situation. At that meeting it was decided to invite from the importers a statement of their imports the past two years and of their requirements for the present year, and during the past week all dealers have been circled so as to ascertain their imports during the past three and a half years. The showing is as follows:

BUTTER.
July-December, 1916 . . . 229,000 lbs.
July-December, 1917 . . . 261,000 lbs.
(Asked for)
July-December, 1918 . . . 289,000 lbs.

CHEESE.
July-December, 1916 . . . 343,000 lbs.
July-December, 1917 . . . 380,000 lbs.
(Asked for)
July-December, 1918 . . . 432,000 lbs.

It will be seen from the above that there is a call this fall for much more butter and cheese than last year, a call which obviously is not likely to be met in full, so that the Food Control Board will probably have to cut down the requisitions of all importers to a considerable extent after making provision for the needs of the buttering factories.
