

The Failure of the Tyre Guarantee

The only outstanding and unalterable fact about the definite mileage guarantee is that it must be paid for even by the careful driver who does not need it—like yourself.

The good year Service Station Dealers know this well as you tyre users should know it.

The cost of such a guarantee, like every other cost of production and marketing, is included in the selling price of the tyre.

Thus the presence of such a guarantee in a tyre of normal price can mean only that the quality of the tyre has been slightly improved.

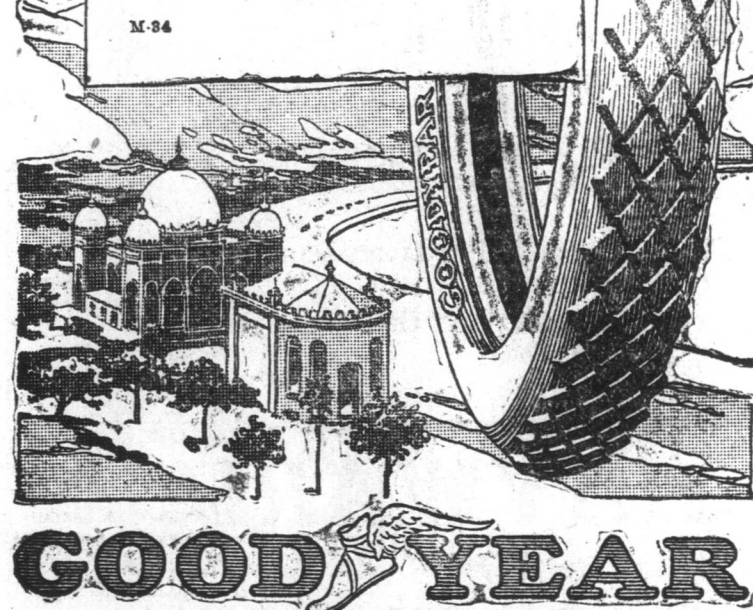

Look for the tyre with reasonable care, almost any tyre of normal price will deliver you mileage above the average guaranteed figure.

The promise you pay for the guarantee does you no good at all, and by paying for it you are buying such additional mileage as is promised quality could give.

It is only the reckless driver—the man who neglects his tyres—who can expect to profit regularly from the definite mileage guarantee.

It is wise to remember that you are paying for his neglect and helping to buy his tyres the next time you are offered such a guarantee as an inducement to purchase.

House of Assembly.

(Yesterday.)
Petitions were presented by Messrs. Winsor and Bennett (for the speaker.)
The Minister of Marine and Fisheries gave notice of bills relating to the refining of cod liver oil and inspection of food on sailing steamers.
The Prime Minister gave notice of a bill to amend the Local Affairs Act.
The Insects, Secondhand Stores, District Courts and Protection of Reindeer Bill were read a third time.

The House then went into committee on the weights and measures Act. Mr. A. B. Morine, (Bonavista) dealing with the amendment relating to the survey of lumber cut by small mills, delivered severe criticism pointing out its absurdity, and denouncing it as being class legislation, fantastic and unworkable. His criticism was so severe that nobody wanted to father the bill, and the section was dropped.

The bill later went through in amended form.
The bill to amend the Merchant Shipping Act was sent to the following select committee: Rt. Hon. Prime Minister, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Mr. Morine, Minister of Finance and Customs and the Minister of Shipping.

The other items on the order paper were deferred, and the House adjourned until 3 p. m. to-day.

The Harkins Co.

A crowded house witnessed the performance of "The Gypsy Trail" as presented by the W. S. Harkins Players, at the Casino Theatre last night. Expressions made by those leaving the theatre were to the effect that "The Gypsy Trail" is one of the strongest plays yet put on. It introduced a new member of the company, little Thelma, a fine, well-bred child, who made a hit; she is a clever child, appreciates the value of words, and speaks very distinctly. One or two members of the company should pattern after her. The three acts of "The Gypsy Trail" are replete with live repartee, with dialogue and humorous situations and kept the audience in continuous rounds of mirth as the comedy was finely acted, each and every member of the company contributing to the success of the play. "The Gypsy Trail" will be repeated to-night and those attending are assured of a delightful evening. Friday and Saturday nights "The Other Woman." There will be a farewell matinee Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

A New Purchase.

We had the pleasure of viewing the new purchase of the genial and enterprising Capt. R. F. Hollett, of St. John's. "Smuggler" is a fine, staunch, well-built vessel of American oak, Oregon pine spars and well found in sails, rigging and running gear. She was built in Essex, Maine, U.S.A., and has been employed out of Gloucester in the fishing industry, and pronounced to be a fast sailer. She made the run from Boston to St. John's in 20 days, remaining 3 days at Halifax and 7 at Burin; notwithstanding that she encountered head winds during the passage, 10 days run showed her sailing qualities. The "Smuggler" will be employed in the coasting and foreign trade of the country. She has a general cargo of Yankee notions from the Robinson Export Co. Capt. Hollett's other vessel the La Barge is now loading with fish at Burin and will shortly sail for Oporto. We wish our enterprising young countryman every success in his new purchase.

C. L. B. Old Comrades Reorganize.

With President K. Ruby in the chair, the adjourned meeting of the C.L.B. Old Comrades was held in the C.L.B. Armoury last evening. Lt.-Col. R. Goodridge was present, addressing the meeting on the history of the formation of the Brigade. He dwelt on the work of the brigade in connection with the great war, pointing out the great assistance given by the C.L.B. and sister corps in the formation of the regiment. Every eligible member of the C.L.B. had offered for military service, and while many had made the supreme sacrifice, the number of distinctions won was a credit to the organization. He spoke of the letters received from ex-members existing abroad, as well as from those joining up here, in which their promotion was credited to their early training in the Brigade. Referring to the Old Comrades, he warmly praised their work up to the outbreak of the war, and felt sure their reorganization would stimulate interest in the brigade and be an encouragement to many lads to join up. The C.L.B. is now in better condition financially and otherwise than ever before. Next week the shrine to the memory of those who fell fighting with the Regiment will be unveiled by ex-Lieut. Col. R. G. Rendell. Col. Goodridge was elected Honorary President of the Old Comrades, and the election of officers resulted as follows: President, R. Williams; Vice-Pres., J. Wiseman; Secy., R. G. Chafe; Treas., H. Peckham; Guard, R. Pike. It is the intention of the Association to hold a reunion in the near future, and a meeting will be held next Wednesday night to make arrangements for the affair.

Regatta Discussion.

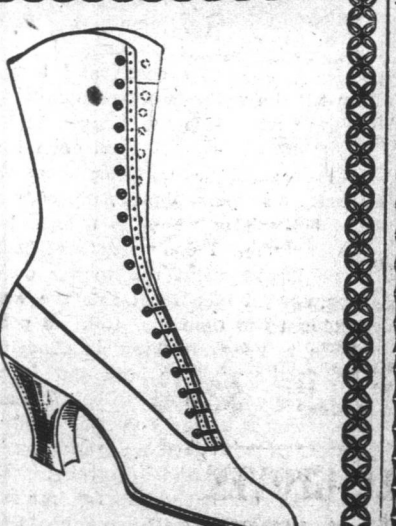

Messrs. Hiscock, Higgins and Ellis, the executive of the old Regatta Committee, met yesterday and decided to call a public meeting on Friday night to discuss the idea of holding a Regatta this year. This meeting, which will be held in the T. A. Armoury, will doubtless be well attended; as, after five years without one, the citizens of St. John's are now anxious to resume the good old national sports day.

of any Horse Power.

You are under no obligation to buy, but come in and let us demonstrate this fact to you, and you may do it yourself.

Do you own an engine, the complete ignition of which can be put UNDER WATER? Of course you don't. Better buy a "CHAMPION"—SAVE TROUBLE.

"CHAMPION" ENGINES are sold on their merits. They are not the lowest in price, and they don't take second place when power or speed are demanded. If you want an engine, and you see the "CHAMPION", you will buy a "CHAMPION". That is why more "CHAMPION" Engines than any other have been sold since January of 1919.
