Town and County News.

The good people of Galt are going to give the volunteers a public dinner on their return from Waterloo.

PENSIONERS in this neighborhood will be paid at Guelph, on Saturday, 6th July, by Lieut.-Col. Bourke.

THE CONCERT TONIGHT.—Don't forget the Grand Operatic Concert to-night in the Town Hall. We have already spoken of all the singers in the highest terms of praise.

A match game of base ball was played at Eden Mills, on Saturday last, between the Haltonville and Eden clubs, resulting in a victory for the former by a score of 65 to 9.

BASE BALL MATCH.—The Union and the Ontario, both of this town, play a friendly game of base ball on Monday next on the grounds of the latter. The game is expected to be closely contested.

SPLENDID SALMON.—Mr. Hugh Walker received to-day some splendid salmon, caught in one of the rivers tributary to the Lower St. Lawrence. The heaviest one weighed 30 lbs.

STORIES OF THE SIEMAS.—Mr. John Anderson has sent us a copy of this little book by Bret Harte. This is a cheap English edition, and will have a large sale. Copies for sale at Anderson's.

MR. P. S. MARTIN brought a basket of new potatoes to the editor of the Fergus Express this week. New potatoes in June, raised in a township so far north as Garafra, is a rarity indeed, and is worthy of special mention.

The voting on Saturday last for the By-law empowering the Village Council of Elora to issue debentures to the amount of $10,000 as aid to manufacturers commencing business in that village created very little interest, and was carried by a large majority. From present indications we do not think that the Council will find it necessary to issue the debentures.

The Listowel Banner says that a sudden death occurred near Palmerston, on the Southern Extension of the W. G. & B. Railway, on the 20th inst. A man by the name of John Weir, who was engaged on the road, fell dead, and Dr. Nichol was called upon to hold an inquest. After a careful examination it was found that the deceased had come to his death by drinking excess.

RENWAY.—This morning as Mr. David Kennedy's son George and another boy was driving a load of furniture out to Paisley Block, whither the family are moving, the horse, in consequence of a piece of zinc which was in the wagon striking his hind legs, took fright near Dr. McGuire's residence, and started off throwing out the contents of the wagon and damaging them considerably. Mr. Kennedy's son was also thrown out and sustained a severe cut in the knee and some bruises, but none of a serious nature. The other boy escaped uninjured. The wagon was badly damaged in the escapade.

WESLEYAN CHURCH STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The Drill Shed was crowded last (Thursday) evening, with members of the Wesleyan persuasion, interspersed with a goodly sprinkling from other denominations. The strawberries and cream were largely patronized by old and young, and the refreshments being presided over by bewitching fair ones, fully accounts for the very reduced state of the stock of the establishment toward the close of the festival. Duett performances by Mrs. Buchanan, the Misses Stevenson, and Miss Keating, with occasional instrumental accompaniments by Messrs. Wheatley and son, were admirably given at intervals, and contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the evening. The fruit was from the garden of Dr. Freeman, Georgetown. The amount realized was $150.

POLICE COURT. Before T. W. Saunders, Esq., P. M. Friday, June 28. James McAstokeer, for selling liquor without licence at his shop near the Pound Creek, was fined $20 and costs.

SEVERE DEATH.—Mr. Wm. Caeton, an old and respected resident of the Township of Bentinck, died very suddenly on Saturday evening last. He was engaged with several others on that day in drawing square timber for the Messrs. McKeechie of Durham, and dropped down dead. A verdict was returned that he had died of disease of the heart.

The Faneuil Hall dinner to the Grenadier Guards by the British residents of Boston and vicinity will be given on the 1st of July.

The Arthur Case.

Ostrander in Custody.

Special to the Mercury.

Arthur, June 28, 1872. Ostrander, the person on whom suspicion rests of having—according to Letitia Church's own statement—induced her to take the medicine from the effects of which she died, has been arrested, and is now in custody here. The magistrate's court met this morning, but adjourned till two o'clock to wait the arrival of Mr. J. P. McMillan, from Guelph, who has been sent for by Ostrander to act as his counsel.

Base Ball Match.

PASTINES VS. MAPLE LEAF.

The base ball match on Thursday afternoon between the above mentioned clubs was but poorly attended, which fact was probably owing to the interest being so much absorbed in the forthcoming struggle with the "Yanks." The game was the tamest we have witnessed in a long time. On the whole our boys played very well, (with the exception of the first two innings, when some very loose play was made), and gave their opponents 5 goose eggs in double quick. By a sad fault in the eighth inning, the "Pastines" thereby saved themselves from being white-washed six times. The playing of the champions is greatly improved, and as this is the last game before the international match our surmises as to their prospects on that occasion are entirely based upon it, and judging accordingly we feel certain that a close match will be witnessed. Jackson, the new short-stop, has fully realized the expectations of his most sanguine backers, and his reception of a hot-ball yesterday was a good specimen of his abilities. Cameron and Hever, as substitutes, filled their respective positions admirably, which term is rather mild to express the excellent play of other members of the club, with the exception of some miffing as previously mentioned. The play of the Pastines is ordinary, although their batting in some instances was good, but they have not got the material in them to compete with our boys, and we would advise them never to aspire to the championship again without some good cause. The Action boys were entertained by their opponents at the Royal Hotel in a most hospitable manner, and left by the evening train highly pleased with their reception, although not so much with their success. The following is the

The Grand Trunk Accident.

BELLEVILLE, June 27.

No more deaths have occurred up to this hour, 6 p. m. The news agent, Mophon, is rapidly improving, and is cheerful and able to get about; there is no doubt that he will recover. Both the McLennans are at the house of Mr. Marshall, one of the Grand Trunk road-masters, and they are rapidly getting well. There are now 23 patients in the hospital, and about five of these are hopeless cases. Drs. Tracey, Hope, Holden and Stewart are in constant attendance, and the nurses are unremitting in their attentions.

The holding of the fresh inquest has created quite an excitement here, and the conduct of the Attorney-General in ordering it has been universally approved by all those who view the matter in a proper light. The Grand Trunk officers say they count the fullest investigation of the particulars of the accident.

The wife of the fireman, Andrew Kidd, who was injured in a late accident, was last night confined of a daughter. With all the devotion of a true wife, she had travelled from Toronto to nurse her husband when she was hourly expecting the birth of her child. Kidd is doing remarkably well, and will soon be able to be removed.

Arrival of Lord Dufferin at the Capital.
The Governor-General arrived in Ottawa on Thursday. An immense crowd of citizens had assembled at Queen's Wharf, and the bill presented a lively scene, with the gay coloured uniforms of the soldiers, firemen, and societies of all kinds with bright regalia and rosettes. Flags were displayed at all points, and on the wharf itself was an immense streamer with the words—"Welcome to the Governor-General and his lady." Ladies were present in thousands, and the heights were crowded.

As the boat came in sight, the cry of "Here she comes" was taken up by hundreds of voices; and, as she swept gracefully alongside there was a general rush as the gangway was run on board, and Sir George E. Cartier, who was the only Minister in town, accompanied by Mayor Martineau and Mr. J. M. Currier, M. P., went on board. Addresses were presented by the corporation and all the national and other societies.

Wisconsin boasts that one of its mosquitoes would be more than a match for six of the Jersey gallinippers. The lumbermen say that the hogs bored through four inch planks by these insects ruin them for market.

Local Gossip.

"They say! What do they say? Let them say!"

They say that, whether the Town has been rated too high or not by the County Council, the actual fact remains, that whilst the Town Assessors have returned the amount of their valuation at $1,587,715 the County Council rate will be issued on $1,251,000, or a reduction equal to $336,715.

They say that the appeal against the County Council's assessment will be the first step towards abolishing the system of log-rolling which, they say, has been so unblushingly prevalent in that honorable body, and which has led to such a heavy load of County Municipal debt.

They say that some of the extremists among the Tories are especially jubilant over what they consider a great municipal victory for them in the matter of the Exhibition buildings. They say that if it is any consolation to them to see their screaming eloquence after this fashion, Reformers should interpose no obstacle, even should they do so till they split. They say that then a "crown's inquest" would be necessary, and they say, further, that a verdict of "sacred on right" would be correct. They say that it should never be forgotten that the objecting majority of the Town Council was pretty evenly divided between Conservatives and Reformers, with the head of the Council thrown in by way of cohesion, unity, and ornament.

They say that His Worship the Mayor of Guelph has been selected by his party as the unfortunate victim for political immolation in the South Riding of Wellington. They say, however, that His Worship knows what's what, and that it is very unlikely that he will permit himself to enter that political manse, with the memorable line engraved above its portals "That bourne whence no traveler returns," which the Reformers of the Riding have generously and munificently erected, for the reception, in due electoral state, of all Conservative Government who have hitherto ventured to disdain the unpretending modesty and unerring deadly precision of David with his sling and stone. "VIDEIT."

Turning Out a Liberal Conservative Member.

(From the Fergus Express.)

On Saturday last, at two o'clock, p. m., about fifty electors of Centre Wellington—professing Liberal Conservative principles—assembled in the billiard hall of the North American Hotel, Fergus, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Dominion Parliament. The meeting was presided by a public one, but was composed principally of men of the Old Tory School. No sooner was the meeting opened by the chairman, than the fun began. There was one man in the room, whose name was J. M. Shaw, who was not a "thick and thin" supporter of Sir John A. Macdonald. Who had not loved the knee to Baal. How to get rid of him was the question, and for a whole hour the following gentlemen used every manoeuvre in their ingenious brains to solve the problem: John Bates, John Jacob, Alex. Harvey, James Cross, Dr. Munroe, and Thomas Gordon. In solemn conference did they sit, and so soon as an idea would strike one of them a loud report was heard, and then all was silent as the grave again. The suspense, at times, was painful to many. One man read an editorial in the last number of the "Lightning Express," and triumphantly exclaimed "away with him, guilt" another man—and we are sorry to say that he hailed from Peel—occupied quite a time in billingsgate abuse of J. M. Shaw, and the "Lightning Express," although he admitted that he knew nothing more about the paper than what he had heard. He was very Cross indeed. Another of the worthies would give the best of his judgment, and he suggested the application of a strong dose of "physical force" to the patient. The remaining two shouted, with stentorian voice, "up with Sir John A. Macdonald, and out with J. M. Shaw." Oh, what a scene. How our poor heart beat within us. Oh, the wild throbs. The agony of parting. Gentle reader, we hope you will never fall into the hands of the "thick and thin" supporters of Sir John. We would not wish our worst enemy such a calamity. These are the "Liberal" Conservatives of Centre Wellington!! What searching investigation would be requisite to find a particle of liberality in their whole composition. "Liberals" indeed. Well, to make a long story short, J. M. Shaw took pity upon the party, and assisted them in a solution of the problem in this wise—Make a motion, secure a seconder, put it to the meeting, carried unanimously, and only "thick and thin" supporters of Sir John A. Macdonald shall be found within the four walls. The advice, gratuitously given, was acted upon, and the "Liberal" "intelligent," "independent" electors of Centre Wellington breathed more freely. They were left alone in their glory, not with a martial cloak around them, but with one of such gauze-like material that those who run may see the deformity it is intended to hide.

A shocking accident took place in the Township of McGillivray, on Monday last. A man named John Foster was gored by a bull and injured to such an extent that his life is despaired of. The animal, which was a very vicious one, killed a man about a year ago, and was destroyed last evening.

The disturbances in the labor market are already increasing a prejudicial local influence upon trade. Contracts for the building of 36 locomotives at Patterson, New Jersey, have been thrown up, some other city must necessarily benefit by the transfer of this order.

Upwards of 138,000 coolies have been brought to the West Indies during the last 37 years.

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHS

Affairs in Spain.

The Row in Central America.

The Erie Railway.

The Geneva Arbitration.

Madrid, June 27.—Senor Zorrilla, President of the Council, addressed a circular letter to the Governor of the Spanish provinces, in which he says he relies upon the loyalty of the army and navy, and citizen militia to combat with the insurrection against the Spanish Government. He promises to govern the country strictly in accordance with the constitution, and establish a system of trial by jury, abolish conscription, reorganize the army and the navy, rendering them really national, oppose all intolerance, and secure universal liberty of conscience, reduce expenditures, increase the revenue and respect the rights and conditions of the State. He says the Government wishes above all to crush the Cuban insurrection and maintain an integrity of national territory at any sacrifice, without making concessions repugnant to Spanish patriotism and honor. He announces that when the insurrection is quelled Spain will give the colonies the promised constitution and reforms.

New York, June 28.—A Matamoros despatch of the 25th says:—Camargo letters of the 25th announce the capture of Saltillo by the revolutionists under Gen. Trevino. The same report says that the Government troops constituting the garrison were taken prisoners. The revolutionary General, Quiroga, is marching on Camargo which is now occupied by Government forces under Gen. Corralos. The latter is preparing to evacuate that place and retire to Matamoros, where he intends to make a stand against the combined forces of Trevino and Quiroga. The revolutionary leader, Gomez Portugal, is still operating out of Matamoros, capturing mails, levying 25 per cent on merchandise passing out of the city and committing other depredations. Many merchants in Matamoros are closing their business to avoid the new ten per cent State tax, and anticipate a forced loan by the Government.

New York, June 28.—James McHenry and J. W. Cunard, who arrived here by last steamer, are in constant private consultation with S. L. Barlow, counsel for the Erie Company. McHenry said last night to a reporter: "You are aware that I have mail control of the Atlantic and Great Western. I own a large amount of stock in the Erie. What I intend to do is to conduct the formation of a new Board of Directors for the government of the latter corporation, and if possible to place under the control the Atlantic and Great Western. We have hold of the better end of the stock and not only intend to keep our hold, but to use it well and vigorously for the advantage of the owners of property upon which so many speculators have fattened. Mr. Honan, of the Great Western, and myself represent more than half of the Erie stock." Gen. McClellan was present at the above interview with the reporter.

A Geneva despatch says:—Yesterday (Thursday) was signalized the production, in Court, of the English argument. How much progress has been made in the solution of difficulties may be inferred from this small fact. It of course follows that England is now fully in Court, and it is taken as equally necessary consequence that the famous indirect claims, if not distinctly withdrawn, are so far neutralized by agreement of either side that they are practically out of Court. The difficulty in regard to the indirect claims was overcome before the English agent consented to lodge his agreement. The exact point of the solution is that each of the arbitrators shall give a written opinion on indirect claims, which will thus be formally shut out. It has already been a matter of understanding that the several members of the Court held views inconsistent with the maintenance of the indirect claims, but becomes certain that with written opinions of five arbitrators on record, there would be on this point a formal and positive verdict against the United States, ruling out, by adjudication, that part of case to the very presentation of which England objected. No fair opposition could be made on the part of the United States to adjudication on this point previous to the presentation of the English argument, because it is the opinion of American Counsel that the said argument is a part which she may present or not as she chooses, in short she is and has been in Court all the time and any judgment made now would be fully valid. This important point would have been settled yesterday (Thursday), but for technical objections in regard to lodging of the written opinions of the Judges. For this purpose another delay of six hours was therefore agreed upon, and Court adjourned until to-day (Friday).

Later.—Tribunal has stated in effect that the claims of the exact nature of those presented by the United States could not be admitted to compete as a subject for damages between the two nations. United States sustains responsibility of bringing these claims before the Court and receiving judgment upon them. England grants the point of having them formally ruled out. United States formally accepts this as valid, and unimpeachable opinion of a Court fully possessed of the whole subject, whereupon the British agents formally filed the English argument. Thus everything is most definitely and satisfactorily settled, arbitration goes on, and both sides are content with the result.

Cleveland, June 28.—A tremendous hail storm passed over this city last night. Several houses were struck by lightning and one woman killed in bed.

An Indiana woman last week accomplished the rapid feat of procuring a divorce, marriage license, and a fresh husband, all within eight hours.
