The Campbell girl told her she would pay for its keep, and paid one 50-cent piece for milk tickets. She has not been heard of since. Mrs. Scott, Dr. Hutchinson says, is not physically qualified to have the custody of children. Efforts will be made to have the Campbell child removed to the home, and Mrs. Curry will be notified to take her child away. Mrs. Scott was informed that baby farms could not exist without a license. The doctor found the two children nestled snugly on an old lounge in the corner of the room near the stove. The Campbell child has a very sore face and neck, the result of wet and rough apparel next to the skin.

Ilderton, Nov. 10.-The anniversary services in connection with the Presbyterian Church of Ilderton were held on Sunday, Nov. 7. Rev. W. Moffat, of London, occupied the pulpit in the afternoon, and gave a very able address, while Rev. E. H. Sawers, of Westminster, preached to a well filled church in the evening. The choir rendered very appropriate music for the occasion. On Monday evening a sumptuous tea was served in the Oddfellows' Hall by the ladies of the congregation, after which a grand recital was given in the church by Miss Sheldon, of Boston, interspersed with music by the choir, and solos by Miss Templeton, of London; Miss Kate McLean, of Ivan; Mr. A. H. Mc-Tavish, of London, and Mr. Fred Walden, of Ilderton, all of which were well received. The house contained but one bedthe past five months Nellie Washington has lived with Mrs. Owens. Mrs. Washington has three children—one an infant boy five weeks old, and a little girl, five years, living with Owens, while the other is with relatives near Gait. The facilities for their accommodation may be judged when it is stated that one bed, an old lounge, a small table, three or four chairs, a stove and cupboard were practically all the furniture the house contained. Asleep in the buggy was the infant, oblivious to the poverty in the midst of which it had been born. Mrs. Henry Becher, who had been the kindest of all friends to the deceased woman, has endeavored to have the Washington infant taken to the home. Mrs. Washington stated that her husband had left her a few months ago, penniless, and with the three children, and when he went, as is usual in cases of -Miss McCarthy, who has been suf- the kind, she asserts he took another She said she had done all she could for Mrs. Owens, and this was corroborated by Mrs. Becher, who stated that each time she had called she had found Nellie busy. A Veteran of the British Army Dies in London.

The Respected Father of Ex-Mayor Taylor Succumbs at a Ripe Old Age.

The people of London will hear with deep regret of the death of Sergeant-Major Taylor (late of H.M. The Annual Banquet to the Seniors Huron College - Songs and Toasts. The freshmen of Huron College last night gave their annual supper to the seniors. It is in consideration of this banquet that the seniors graciously refrain from "hazing" the mild and unsophisticated freshmen. "Hazing" is the immemorial right of the seniors, and is not to be sacrificed for nothing. The "freshies" are only too glad to purchase peace and concord by providing the supper, which never fails to mollify the seniors and to resolve the old and new elements into one harmonious whole. An elegant repast at the freshmen's expense was served in the college dining-hall. Will George was the chairman and H. Langford the vicechairman. "The Queen" was honored by the National Anthem, and the other toasts and respondents were: "Huron College," Rev. Provost Watkins; "Sister Colleges," Rev. Principal English; "Our Country," Rev. Prof. Burgess and Rev. G. B. Sage; "The Church," Rev. Canon Smith; "The Faculty," Rev. Canon Smith; "The Faculty," Prof. James and Prof. Tupper; "The Freshmen," proposed by R. Herbert and replied to by R. Willoughby; "The Seniors," W. J. Dougherty. The programme was interspersed with songs by Mr. Farney and Mr. McMillen; quartets by Messrs. Fox, Smith, Farney and McMillen, and an address by Fred Hewitt.
