

London Advertiser
FOUNDED IN 1863.
NOON AND EVENING DAILY.
WESTERN ADVERTISER WEEKLY.
THE LONDON ADVERTISER CO.,
Limited, Publishers.
121-123 Dundas Street, London, Ont.
PHONE NUMBERS:
Business Department..... 107
Editorial Department..... 121 and 123
Job Printing Department..... 125

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
Readers of The Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
Daily, delivered by Carrier in City: 10c
One year, delivered by Carrier in City: $10.00
Daily, delivered by Carrier Outside City: 12c
One year, delivered by Carrier Outside City: $12.00
Daily, by Mail, Outside City: 25c
One year, by Mail, Outside City: $25.00

The Advertiser is on sale regularly at the following news stands, where subscriptions may be left:
Buffalo, N. Y.—R. J. Seldenburg, Ellscoff Square.
Chicago, Ill.—Chicago Newspaper Agency, 110 Madison street.
Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky International News Company.
Toronto—Hogarth Hotel News Stand; Rossin House, 1000 Queen street.
[Entered as matter of the second class.]

LONDON, MONDAY, NOV. 14, 1910.

THE COST OF LIGHTING.

The local power situation has reached an interesting stage. This week the transmission lines from Niagara will be connected with the transforming station on the outskirts of the city. Here the power will be reduced, then carried to the distributing station at the corner of York and Ridout streets. The erection of the lines between the two stations will occupy only a few days. Unless there is some unforeseen delay, the current will be ready for distribution in the city by the end of the present month.

The water commissioners have anticipated by issuing a schedule of prices for domestic lighting. Householders who are now using electric light may easily figure out a comparison of their present charges with Niagara power rates. Instead of the London Electric's fixed charge of 25 cents a month, in the form of meter rent, they would pay for Niagara power a fixed monthly charge of 4 cents for every 100 square feet of floor space. Basements and attics will not be charged for; the measurement will include only the occupied rooms, and will be interior. In addition to this fixed charge the customer for Niagara power will pay for all the current used at a rate of 3 1/2 cents per kilowatt hour. If he has 2,000 square feet of floor space he would pay a fixed charge of 80 cents a month, and if he used 20 kilowatts a month he would pay, at 3 1/2 cents a kilowatt, 70 cents additional. His monthly bill would be $1.50, or, with 10 per cent discount, $1.35. A customer of the London Electric, using the same amount, would pay, at the present rate of 9 cents a kilowatt hour, $2.05, with no discount. Here is a difference of 70 cents in favor of Niagara power. If the customer had 4,000 square feet of floor space, and used only 20 kilowatt hours, he would pay $2.07 net for Niagara power, or about the same as the London Electric's charge. If he had 4,000 feet of floor space, and used 40 kilowatts monthly, he would pay $2.70 net for Niagara power. To the London Electric he would pay the regular fixed charge of 25 cents for meter rent and $3.60 for 40 kilowatts, or $3.85 in all. If the London Electric reduced its rate to 5 cents a kilowatt hour, he would pay for 40 kilowatts only $2.25, or 45 cents less than Niagara power.

It has been said from the platform that all the cottage homes of London will be lighted by Niagara power. Let us see how the cottager will fare. Hydro-electric engineers estimate that the average consumption for houses with 1,000 to 1,200 feet floor space will be 28 kilowatts a month, or between $1.24 and $1.33 net, including fixed charge for space. This would be decidedly cheaper electric lighting than at present, but there are hundreds of cottagers whose monthly gas bills for lighting and cooking average a dollar. It is only fair to point out, however, that the schedule issued by the water commissioners is not a final one. Necessarily the prices at present are experimental. The problem is not solved, but has to be worked out. One of the perplexing factors is the attitude of the London Electric. Its competition will have to be faced or removed by purchase. Citizens will soon know what either condition means.

THE PEACE RIVER COUNTRY.

Those who have visited the Peace River country recently are enthusiastic over the fertility of the soil of a vast portion of that region. Among the enthusiasts are the members of a party of press men, who not long ago ascended the Peace Valley by land from Vermilion. The Grande Prairie, east of British Columbia, one of the party says, cannot be surpassed as a farming country. It would be difficult to find a quarter section there that would not make a desirable homestead. The country lying south of the Peace River, and containing the Grande Prairie districts, contains about four million acres of good agricultural land. It is roughly estimated that twenty million acres of agricultural land lies tributary to the Peace River. At Fort Vermilion, which is in about 55 degrees of north latitude, about 500 miles north of the international boundary, an experimental farm has been established. Here wheat, barley and oats have proved highly productive, the first-named grain yielding 25 bushels to the acre. All kinds of vegetables, including tomatoes, vegetable marrow and cucumbers, which are a good test of the climate, thrive luxuriantly.

The story told by these recent visitors to the Peace River country serves to corroborate statements made by Professor Macoun many years ago. There was a disposition to discount his statement then, but the experience of settlers shows that he was right in this respect, as he was in many others. The Victoria Colonist recalls that when the professor first told a committee of the House of Commons that the region around Calgary would one day be a great cattle country he was laughed at. A comparatively recent years an attempt was made to convey the impression that he had been wrong about the Peace River lands, but time is demonstrating the accuracy of his observations.

There is one great need yet to be supplied the Peace River region, and that is transportation facilities. As the value of the country from an agricultural point of view is no longer a matter of dispute, it is reasonable to assume that it will not be long before the iron horse will penetrate it.

AN EXPLODED SCARE.

The German ship-building programme has been interrupted, with disastrous effects on the naval scare. The four Dreadnoughts, which were to have been laid down this year under the German naval law, have not been started. The cause of the delay is Germany's discovery that Great Britain is arming her new Dreadnoughts with a 13.5-inch gun, in place of the 12-inch gun with which all ships of the Dreadnought type have been hitherto equipped. Germany had only just begun to make a 12-inch gun, and is now pausing in her ship-building to face the new situation.

This intelligence, following Mr. Balfour's alarmist speech at Glasgow, has given the naval discussion a new turn. It is now impossible for Germany to have more than 17 Dreadnoughts in commission in 1913, and it is probable that she will have only 12. Great Britain will have not less than 25 at the same time. The London Daily Telegraph, a leading Unionist journal, which has been disposed to take the panicky view, now candidly admits that the situation has been radically altered. It says:

"It is now certain that Germany cannot possibly possess 21 units by April, 1913. The whole naval outlook has been changed by the dramatic appearance of the new British 13.5-inch gun of unparalleled power and with a 1,250-pound shell. The Dreadnought carries 12-inch weapons with an 850-pound shell, and it was assumed in Germany that this gun would be mounted in the later British vessels. The admiralty kept their secret so well that everyone was deceived. It was not until the early days of August that it became common knowledge that last year the admiralty placed orders for a number of 13.5-inch guns and gun-mountings. The new development had at once a surprising result in Germany. The ships ordered, but not laid down, in April were to have carried a 12.1 gun, whereas the earlier German Dreadnoughts had been supplied with an 11-inch weapon."

"Directly the news was received in Germany of the action of the British admiralty, the preparations for the construction of these four ships were suspended with a view to a reconstruction of their armament. The result is that not one of them has been begun, though we are now at the close of October. Instead of Germany having 17 ships built or in an advanced stage of construction she has only 12."

Moreover, adds the Telegraph, the whole of Germany's preparatory work, which had been practically completed in April last, will now have to be done afresh, and it is probable that a good deal of material in process of manufacture will have to be scrapped. Entirely new plans must now be drawn, and vessels of an absolutely new design laid down. The Telegraph estimates that Germany will have only 13 Dreadnoughts in commission in 1913. Mr. Burgoyne, the editor of the Navy League Annual, another conspicuous member of the anti-German chorus, puts the number at 17. "Mr. Balfour's guess in his Glasgow speech was 21. The Unionist leader spoke of course, before the announcement of Germany's change of plans. It is to be hoped his patriotism will be so comforted by the new proof of British naval supremacy as to compensate for his loss of such an election card as the navy scare."

The London Chronicle says the British elections will be over by Dec. 20. It will not be turkey for one party's Christmas dinner.

The Unionists who were prepared to accept "home rule all round" will now affect to believe that it is a dangerous thing in Ireland alone.

Twenty people died of typhus after drinking polluted water while attending the fall fair at the village of Orono, Durham County. There are too many small communities in Canada equally careless of their water supply.

An Ottawa clergyman told his congregation yesterday that a Canadian navy would be needed to keep Quebec in order. A foolish utterance in any case, and worse than foolish, in the mouth of a minister of the gospel.

Mr. George R. Sims, writing in the London Referee, says:

"For the colonial Dreadnoughts we are grateful, but their upkeep falls on England. I regret to hear the worst possible accounts of the personnel of the Australian navy. I am unable to quote chapter and verse or to give names, but I affirm that the evidence in my possession satisfies me that the navy Australia is providing for herself is useless either to the Commonwealth or to the empire in the event of a struggle with a great maritime power."

This reflection on the personnel of the Australian navy may be unwarranted, but it is true that the upkeep of the Australian and New Zealand Dreadnoughts falls largely on the mother country. Great Britain must pay $1,250,000 yearly toward the Australian navy and must pay the whole shot for New Zealand, the latter merely contributing $500,000 yearly as a bonus to the sailors. The Canadian fleet and the Canadian dockyards will cost Great Britain nothing. Agitators like Captain Wolley ignore these facts when they disparage Canada's contribution.

THE CRIPPLED TRIAL AS A POPULAR SPECTACLE.

I do not know on what system the tickets were allotted. I know that on Tuesday and on most of Wednesday the part of the court reserved for the public was nearly empty. I suppose the ticket-holders had not put in appearance. Yet it was impossible to get in without a ticket. Those who were waiting outside were told that the court was full. There was much shouting of "Red tickets this way!" and "Blue tickets over there!" The two houses-a-day system was inaugurated. All the appearances of the popular music hall were present.

You have mentioned the presence of fashionable ladies. Is it not an incongruous thing that while a man is being tried for his life there should sit on the bench on the right hand of the judge a musical comedy actress? The lady is, I am sure, charming and delightful, and as worthy of the position as any other of her sex, but her name is associated with lighter things of life than a murder trial, and her presence, I insist, detracted from the solemnity of the occasion.

In the favored positions of the court, too, were women displaying enormous hats and expensive furs, women chatting and exchanging smiles even while the jury was awaiting the verdict of the jury.

IN THE YEAR 1910.

(Toronto Star.)
The New Regime in Norway.
The New Regime in Turkey.
The New Regime in Morocco.
The New Regime in Persia.
The New Regime in Korea.
The New Regime in Portugal.
Returns not all in yet.

MOMENTARY MADNESS.

(Philadelphia Record.)
Mrs. Gnaggs—You know very well you were perfectly crazy to marry me. Mr. Gnaggs—Admit it, my dear; but it was merely a case of temporary insanity.

AS TIME PASSES.

(Washington Star.)
"Before you were married you used to send your wife flowers." "Yes," replied Mr. Meekton. "Now it takes a diamond necklace to make her as enthusiastic as she used to be over a 65 bunch of roses."

DISRAELI AND THE CABMAN.

(London Chronicle.)
To be recognized by a cabman sets the seal on fame. Disraeli was really and truly famous. Dorothy Nevill calls to mind a Beconsfield boast. He was getting into a hansom when the driver opened the trap door. "I know who you are, sir," he said. "I have read all your books, bar Lohans." It is a reverse to every medal. Beconsfield once suffered a setback. "I walked with Gladstone on Tuesday," wrote Lord Houghton, and when he left me a gentleman came up and said, 'Might I ask if that was Mr. Disraeli?' Such is fame."

HIP! HIP! FOR SARA!

(Port Huron Times.)
Sara Bernhardt attributes her remarkable resistance against the ravages of time to the liberal use of lemons. We want all the girls, young, aging and elderly, to sit up and notice Sara. "The Divine" is 65 years old. She is a great-grandmother, but looks like a bride of 20.

USE THESE BASKETS.

(Ottawa Free Press.)
Poor Goldthorpe stocked the Printing Bureau up with 1,551 waste paper baskets, enough to last ten years on the basis of those required for the printing of the year. Even that large quantity would not be enough to hold the manuscript of speeches not worth printing delivered in the House of Commons in one session.

WHY IS A VOTE OF THANKS?

(Ottawa Free Press.)
Why is the vote of thanks? We've been pondering it over in our minds for quite a while now, and the more thought that is bestowed on it the more it appears that the vote of thanks hasn't any excuse to live. True, it is a sort of tradition that has stuck to us since we wore knee trousers, or "pants," as we used to say at school, and perhaps goes back farther than that, but that is long enough for argument's sake. All of us who have gone to public meetings, and been fortunate enough to hear a learned discourse, or a stirring oration, or a brilliant speech, have been drawn under the spell of the speaker, have followed him point by point, have enjoyed his "bon mots," and occasional oratorical flights, and have listened with rapturous delight at his eloquent peroration, and then comes the anti-climax—the vote of thanks that gives us a far, even while we're putting our wraps. Hank Jones, with surpassing assurance, gets up and starts off with "how delighted we are all," and perhaps elaborates on the address of the evening. Then the motion is nervously seconded by Bill Brown, and "passed unanimously." By the time this ceremony is over the pleasant impression left by the speaker is almost entirely effaced. "I say give the conje to the speaker," says the nearest approach to that there will be no resurrection. It should be the duty of the chairman to not only give a few words of introduction to the speaker, but to enable him to carry on the work of deepening the results of the investigation which he conducted last session.

CHAUFFEURS WOULDN'T LIKE IT.

(Chicago Record.)
An aerial taxicab service is being organized in Paris. How can aerial taxis be satisfactory? They will have no chance to knock down pedestrians.

The Coldest Temperature Ever Recorded in the United States.

55 degrees below zero at Havre in Montana. The nearest approach to that was at Lauder and Washakie, in Wyoming, where the thermometer once registered 54 degrees.

Kingsmills Famous for Dress Goods Kingsmills

Fourteen Pieces $1.25 Tweeds, Winter Weight 50c
New Coarse Tweeds, in stylish black and white mixtures, weights for suits and dresses. Today the price is $1.25 yard, but tomorrow morning they go on sale at the greatly reduced price.....50c yard

$1.00 and $1.25 Dress Goods, In Over 100 Shades 60c
Beautiful New French Striped Materials, charming new Amazons, in plain colors, pretty colorings, in ladies' cloth, many navy blue shades. Worth $1.00 and $1.25 yard. On sale.....60c yard

$1.75 Venetians In Several Weights, 52 to 56 Inches Wide $1.00
Luxurious Satin-Striped Venetians, in about 80 beautiful shades, plain Venetians, in all the new shades, navy blue, castor shades, new greens and several pieces of black. Regularly worth $1.75 yard. On sale.....$1.00 yard

$1.00 Marquisesettes For Evening Wear 72c
This charming new fabric will be much in evidence at all the fashion events this season. Over a silk or satin slip it gives a rich appearance unsurpassed. All the wanted shades—pinks, rose, mauve, white, cream, champagne, navy, sky, etc., etc.; 40 inches wide. On sale.....72c yard

Have Your Evening Gowns Made to Order By Our Dressmakers

Fur Linings For Your New Coat
You will find it much more satisfactory to have that new fur-lined coat made by our mantle makers.

Hamster Grey, White Squirrel, Russian Grey Squirrel
All of best quality and priced moderately.
$11.00 to $50.00
In the Cloth Room. Second Floor.

Women's Hosiery of Quality
EMBROIDERED CASHMERE, black, embroidered in all colors, beautiful designs. Priced at, per pair.....75c and $1.00
SPUN SILK, heavy quality, plain and lace; colors are black, white and cream; very elastic. Priced at a pair, 75c, 80c, $1.25, $1.50

Special Silk Lisle Hose for Evening Wear
Fine quality; has all the appearance of finest silk; colors include mauve, sky, pink, rose, reseda, wistaria, champagne, castor, Alice blue, navy, bronze, grays and oxblood, also white. Special per pair.....45c
BLACK CASHMERE, of the finest quality, fine finish, soft, durable; two weights. Special, per pair.....55c

Kingsmills Carpets Carling St.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

Continued From Page One.

copy the attention of the House in some way. Hon. Mr. Oliver will have a bill relating to timber land and water regulations in the railway belt of British Columbia, and another bill to facilitate the removal of Indians from lands which they occupy, and which are wanted for settlement, to equally good lands in other parts of the country. There will be another reference to the Indian schools.

Sir Richard Cartwright will probably have a bill dealing with the control of terminal grain elevators, and this will likely be based on the Minnesota act. Hon. Mr. Aylesworth will have a bill relating to the establishment of a commission to look after fishery regulations under the terms of the recent Hague award. He will also have some amendments to the criminal code, and in this connection the moral reform association will probably have something to say again as to the further restriction of race track gambling.

Hon. Mr. Templeman will have a bill to promote safety in connection with the manufacture, transportation and use of powerful explosives.

Hon. Mr. Fisher will have a bill to amend the copyright law so as to give Canada greater control.

Traffic Regulations.
Hon. Mr. Graham will probably introduce legislation respecting a commission to regulate rates on international traffic passing between Canada and the United States. He will also present to Parliament the report of the committee on the Intercolonial Railway with a view to their acquisition. He may ask Parliament to make an appropriation for the deepening of the Welland Canal, for the construction of the Quebec Bridge, and for the building of the Hudson Bay Railway. There will be no provision this year for the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux may have a bill for the control of cable rates, as he has been working out this problem in connection with the British postal authorities.

Hon. Mr. Murphy will have a bill for the reorganization of the printing bureau, and will lay before the House the results of the investigation which he conducted last session.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur will ask Parliament for appropriations to enable him to carry on the work of deepening the St. Lawrence to thirty-five feet.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley will ask for funds to enable him to continue the great work of developing water terminals at Fort William, Georgian Bay ports, St. John, and other Atlantic ports. He will also ask for drydock subsidy at Montreal and possibly at St. John and Lewis.

Militia Report.

Sir Frederick Borden will be able to give to Parliament the report of Sir John French on the Canadian militia, and may have a bill to enable the system of military commands to be substituted for the present system of military districts. If this bill is presented it will be necessary to make financial provision for the equipment of additional artillery and cavalry units for some of these commands.

Parliament will likely have something to say about the tariff, in view of the reciprocity negotiations with the United States, which will be completed at the end of the session before Parliament opens. There will also be some discussion on the Belgian and Italian trade agreements which were made since the last session.

A substantial appropriation will have to be made at the request of Hon. Sydney Fisher for the census which will be taken throughout Canada in June, 1911.

Representatives from the Maritime Provinces can be counted upon to bring up the question of an amendment to the British North America act which will act as a stay upon their diminishing parliamentary representation.

Contracts for cruisers and destroyers will be let before the session has far advanced, and there will have to be appropriation to provide for expenditure on that account.

The session will probably last for a full six months, and "prorogation" will doubtless be planned to enable the Government to participate in the ceremonies at the coronation of King George on June 22, and the imperial conference which will follow that event.

MEXICANS FURIOUS

Continued From Page One.

ing him outside of the city, bathing in petroleum and setting fire to him. We can imagine the infernal scene on a lonesome plain of Texas, among cowboys filled with anger and whiskey, showing the race prejudice which they feel towards us. We can see Rodriguez among those executioners, alone, tied, beaten and what no hope, being led to the place of execution and among the harsh phrases of the mob in a rabid and barbarous way we can hear the burning of the clothes, the bones and the muscles, without extorting from the victims so much as a cry.

"Take the American magazines—the American Magazine, Scribners, etc.—which have published in their columns everything that is prejudicial, exaggerated, malicious, intentional, and malicious, in order to discredit not only this country in its march of progress, political and economical, but also the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."

They are followers of the Torquemada. They are the ones who invade the road of the law and snatch its prisoners. They are the cowardly assassins of an unarmed man. They stood by and were sprinkled with the blood of their victim, which also besmirched the escutcheon of their vaunted civilization."