This is to certify that I was suffering very severely from a cold, which had continued about three months, which caused me to cough terribly and raise farge quantities of mucus from the lungs. After trying various remedies I applied to Dr. M. Hilton Williams, January 28th, 1882, who prescribed for me, and after using his remedies for ten days I was entirely cured, and I can recommend his to any who may be like afflicted, believing it to be the only true method of treating lung diseases.

decided attempt was made to surprise the British outposts. Six hundred men approached the British line when the 38th regiment opened fire. The enemy retreated precipitately. During the remainder of the night the Egyptians continued moving about just beyond range. Reports that Arabi was attempting to treat for surrender were probably circulated to lull the vigilance of the British. The rifles and native poffice to-day surrounded the village of Carmuss beyond Pompey's pillar where there is a regular market for loot. A few cart loads were seized. London, July 26.—The Times says that neither as sovereign suzarain nor under any other title will there be room for the influence of the sultan in Egypt after the responsibilities of sovereignty have been cynically thrown aside in the hour of trial.

THE SULTAN MAY HAVE AMUSED himself by forming new alliances and complimenting new allies with decorations but it remains to be seen what help these sympathizes will give the porte. We must plainly show the sultan and the powers that we intend to work thoroughly to retain control. When that is done Gladstone and his colleagues must yield to the compulsion of events.

ARABI RECEIVES DAILY FROM LONDON accurate accounts of the measures organized to oppose him. An Egyptian vessel left this morning to take aboard the garrison at Abouker numbering 2000 men which declared loyalty to the khedive. The steamer has not yet returned. Ismail Pasha has just returned from Arabi's camp. The latter's proposals are preposterous. He seeks to have his offences condoned and on this condition consents to disarm a portion of the rebels. CONSTANTINOPLE, July 26.—It is stated that the first detachment of Turkish troops sent to Egypt will number 16 b tatalions. Arrangements are making to send 64 bat talions if necessary. The governor of Damasacus has ordered the arrest of several sheiks who arrived from Egypt. The ported denies rioting at Symrna.

O'Hara and Chief Officer Tedmarsh. It appears that the officers have had much reason for some time past to suspect that several firms had been defrauding the Customs of the 'fifty cents per barrel duty on American flour, which has been charged under the tariff. Careful watch having been set it was learned that in many quarters flour had been entered for ware-house, but was allowed to go into consumption, atterwards to be replaced by Canadian flour, which was exported, and the ware-house bond thus cancelled. Last night the officers mentioned seized 1,400 barrels of flour belonging to Major & Munn, and detained several other consignments which are to be seized. The seized goods amount to some ten thousand dollars in value.

BEV. OSCULATE WILL-A-GIRL'S

To kiss, or not to kiss, that is the question : will Whether 'tis prudent in a man to suffer {
The strong, deep longing for those rose-bud lips,
Or take into these arms their sweet possessor, And, by imposing them, press them? To kiss to

No more; and by a kiss, to say we end The heart-ache and a dozen other pangs That preacters suffer—'tis a consummation Devoutly to be wished. To kiss—to smask— For in that little kiss what trials may lie.

If chance I should be given dead away,
Make one feel sick, and 'tis the only thought
That makes me hesitate a little now.
For who would bear the laugh, and scorn and snee
Of writers in The World and Telegram. Her papa's anger and a blast from Star; Besides the censure of the conference, When he himself could well avoid it all When he himself could well avoid it all By keeping far from his, her rosy lips? I would myself endure all these and more, For osculation is my steple food, Peaches and cream it always seems to me. To steal a kiss, that's fair, the saying goes, And ministers should always do what's fair, And fairly I must act, and do for her Quinquisculation suits my nature well.

What reverend man would hesitate like this, The dread of that young man of Winnipeg.

That new-discovered country from whose bourner
Some travelers return when they have cleared Their "pile" on corner lots, puzzles the Will-Oughby, and almost makes me feel 'twere safe To steal not kisses that are not for me? The confer nee doth make cowards of most all, But not of me, just bet your last year's boots. The conference I'll bamboozle, buildoze Star, and make them think I never kissed at all; Or, if I did, that 'twas a holy kiss, And such as ladies in the church should have.

ABOUTTHOSE STOLEN DESPATCHES A consequential body who does city correspond ence for country newspapers had an interview on King street yesterday with the manazing editor of the Globe on the alleged theft by that journal of the Mail's war despatches.

"Is it t-true Mr. Brown," he asked, "what the M-Mail says, that you are st stealing its dispatches from the seat of war? The people out in the c-counfrom the seat of war? The people out in the c-councountry want to know about it you know."

"You and the people out in the country better mind your own business," the managing editor said, giving at the same time one of those quick, sharp snorts that show his blood is up. "The Globe never plays second fiddle to the Mail in anything, and when it gives news at a special dispatch it is a special dispatch. it is a special dispatch, and there's nothing bogus or stolen about it. So now put that in your pipe and smoke it, and don't interrupt me on the street again with your impertinence."

"W-w-well there's no use getting mad, is there?"

"W-w-well there's no use getting mad, is there?" the correspondent stammered after the retreating managing editor. "I j just wanted to know you knew, and there's no h-harm about that I'm sure. "I t-t-tell you G-G-Gordon was awful mad about it," the consequential body said afterwards in relating the affair. "W-why he got m-mad I'm sure I d-d don't know. I d-didn't say anything to r-rile him so. B-but blamed if I d-don't get even with him yet, b-b-blast him if I d-d-don't." "I guess he'll not talk stolen despatches to me again, Gordon said.

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

COL. GILMOUR'S HOLIDAY DREAM. See the member with his bills, Merry bills.
O what appropriations now the Lengthy parchment fills. In the hopper how they pour,
More and more, And the quarrels they beget On the floor, And the people that pay taxes, When they see him grind his axes,

All declare they'll not allow him In Toronto any more. For the bills, bils, byils, bhills, byhls, Bilghs, biyhhls. And the much-enduring Reading

Clerk they kills. THE WORLD WOULD LIKE TO KNOW. Why the Globe hasn't a good word for Mr. Mowat

If it is at Mr. Mowat's special request? Who made up the Catho'ic Syndicate that put is bill for the Toronto harbor works. And what Patrick Boyle, Echris, Shiel, John Bronale M. O'Conno: and the rest of the syndicate

If they though, they had done something entity ling them to the job.
