Their policy was short-sighted; the law left the matter in their hands and they had no right to call upon the taxpayers to vote on the matter but should have settled it themselves. It was idle to talk of con-fiscation, as the Crooks' act under which the grocers held their licenses expressly provided that they were liable to have them taken away any year on receiving three months notice. Inspector Dexter had stated to some temperance people who waited on him, that if the grocers license were abolished more would be done for the temperance cause than by reducing the tavern licenses.

Nature, in this stage of exhaustion, cannot be resoured of itself, but requires some stimulat-ing tonic to strengthen and keep the system in regular order, and in Northrop & Lyman's Quinine Wine we have the exact remedy re-quired. The peculiar operation of this medi-cine, in cases of general debility and nervous prostration, has undergone long and close ob-servation, and it is believed it will never fail, if properly and judiciously administered.
