

A LOVING EPISTLE.

The Endearing Terms in Which the Widow of F. D. Conger Addressed Her Second Husband.

Dr. William Cox Allen, collector of customs at Fort Mead, N.W.T., writes defending himself from the charges made against him by his wife in her suit for alimony. Mrs. Allen, it will be remembered, was the widow of the late F. D. Conger of this city when she married Dr. Allen in 1886. She is 46 years of age, has written to many New York papers under the nom de plume of "Marian," and is the author of "A Daughter of St. Peter's." In his defense Dr. Allen says: "The greater part of my alleged vice conduct committed against my wife prior to July, 1890, and to prove to you from her own pen and her own handwriting the falsity of charges made, I shall in justice to my friends, the public, and myself, take the liberty of herewith giving you a verbatim copy of one among many other similar letters written to me by my wife prior to the month of July, 1890, and long after my alleged brutality is said to have been committed, and the publication of which under present circumstances, I feel perfectly justified and pardonable.

RANF, July 18, 1890.

My Darling Sweetheart Howard—You will consider yourself deluged with letters from me, but I think so much about you and wish so much you were here that I cannot resist dropping you a line tonight, my darling old daddie every hour. I have been thinking of writing to you but just a message of true love from me to you from their mother, who is all the world to his true and loving wife.

FIRE AND EXPLOSION.

That Causes Much Excitement and About $800 Worth of Damage.

HAMILTON, Feb. 24.—What promised to be a very serious fire took place shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, and only the hard and efficient work and good management of the firemen prevented serious loss.

Mrs. Harte, a widow residing at No. 200, Park-street north, left her house to visit for a few minutes and give a helping hand to a sick neighbor.

When she returned she found her house on fire. Her son, Mr. Fred Harte, driver of the Royal Mail omnibus, after his night's work, was sleeping and was the only person in the house when the fire broke out.

Wild excitement prevailed for a time, and the shrieks of women and children could be heard. The firemen hurried around, and finding that the explosion had done no harm, got down to work again.

The kitchen and summer kitchen of Mrs. Harte's house were destroyed and the walls of the main building scorched, besides the roof being burned so that a portion had to be cut away. Too great praise cannot be given the firemen for their work.

They also saved a lot of Mrs. Harte's furniture. Her loss, though not more than $100, will be very heavy for a woman in her circumstances. She had no insurance. The total loss will be from $600 to $800. The building is insured by Mr. F. W. Pearson and is insured.

In two of the other houses of the row were sick women, both of whom had to be carried to the dwellings of friends.

A HEAVY ACT.

Mr. Joe Gillett Takes Chances and Stops a Runaway Team.

HAMILTON, Feb. 24.—A few minutes before 1 o'clock this afternoon a quantity of snow slid off a roof in King-street, near Mary, and a spirited pair of horses belonging to a farmer were frightened by the falling mass.

The horses were frightened by the falling mass. They started to run, and had not given half a dozen jumps before the driver was thrown off. A trolley car was coming down King-street and the maddened team were keeping the track. The hundreds of pedestrians expected to see a collision.

Mr. Joe Gillett, an employee of McPherson & Co.'s factory, took in the situation. By a quick move he swung himself on to the hay rack, crawled forward on his hands and knees, seized the reins that were dragging at the horses' heads, got control of them and pulled the team up in front of the Ladies' College. The act was a daring one and in its perpetration, Gillett took considerable risk. He was rewarded by a hearty burst of cheering from the spectators.

MILLERS' COMBINE.

A Cutting of Rates Subjects Offenders to a Heavy Fine.

New York, Minn., Feb. 24.—A special from Mankato, Minn., says: The Spring Wheat Millers' Association is now in operation. It has at present a membership of several hundred millers, representing a daily output of flour reaching into the hundreds of thousands of barrels. The states covered are: Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Northern Illinois and the spring wheat mills of New York State at Buffalo, Rochester and Niagara Falls.

The conception of a combine dates from the organization of the Southern Minnesota Millers' Association here three or four years ago. The principal object of this association was to fix the minimum price at which flour should be sold. So successful were its workings that the majority of the great mills of Minneapolis needed little solicitation to fall into line.

Then agents were sent all over the country to work up the trust interests. Three meetings were held in December, two of them in Chicago, which finally got nearly every mill from Duluth to Boston in the combine, including the big concerns at Buffalo, Rochester, and other New York State centres. T. A. Sammis of Minneapolis was made president.

The headquarters of the association are in Corn Exchange, Minneapolis. Minimum rates for flour have already been established. A cutting of rate subjects the offender to a heavy fine. Efforts are being made now to induce New York and Brooklyn millers to join the combine.

Should the spring wheat dealers combine prove a success there is little doubt that the winter wheat dealers, who constitute an equally powerful branch of milling, would organize in like manner.

The regulation of the output, if found practical, will doubtless be the second step taken by the organization. With the minimum price of the product fixed and the output regulated, the maximum price of the flour would regulate itself in a way that would prove eminently satisfactory to the miller.

Consumptives, Cheer Up!

You are not going to die if you will but exercise a little common sense and spend a paltry sum. You may be very feeble now, sitting bolted up in the arm chair, but you may now throw up your hat or bonnet and shout for joy! Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil will save you if you take it according to directions. What you need is good new blood and rebuilt tissue. If you take Miller's Emulsion you will gain from five to ten pounds of flesh with each bottle. There is no use wasting words. A hint should be enough to a consumptive of the fact that Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil SAVES. In big bottles, 50c, and 1c, at all Drug Stores.

DULL TIMES.

Why is it? The Reason Why.

Why is it that one merchant is complaining of dull times while another is rubbing his hands in glee as he sees the crowds flocking in to purchase his goods?

Why is it that in one store everything is at a negative character—no life, no excitement, no customers, nothing positive but cobwebs and high-priced goods, left on the shelves, moulding, rusting, fading and drying, to be eventually eaten up by rats, moths or creditors, while the much-to-be-pitied proprietor walks the floor wondering why so many buyers pass his door and devoting some scheme to meet his next need? A few doors further on what a contrast! Everything about this store is positive—life, animation, energy, push and go.

Why are people, big and little, rich and poor, great and small, trying to force their way in, anxious to be in time that they, too, may get some of the offered bargains and looking eagerly at the smiling and happy faces of those coming out? Here one can be served, get what one wants and have no need to carry a heavy burden home. Oh, no! Leave your address and your goods are home almost before you can tell of the great bargains you have made, before you can enjoy the surprise and expectation pictured in the eyes of your loving family.

Why is it, then, that with apparently the same advantages two stores in the same trade will give such different results? Guinane Bros., 214 Yonge-street, have long known the why, and that is why they succeed, that is why their trade is so enormous, that is why they do the largest shoe business in the Dominion. During their present alteration also they are clearing out over $20,000 worth of boots, shoes, overalls and rubbers at one-half the net wholesale cost, selling ladies' rubbers as low as 5c, ladies' skating boots, flannel lined, 75c, and gentlemen's felt-buckled overalls, Canadian Rubber Company's, for 50c per pair, ladies' $2.50 red Morocco shoes, 75c; ladies' white kid slippers, 75c; ladies' carnival overalls, Canadian Rubber Company's manufacture, 50c; boys' overalls, 25c. The Monetary Times said Guinane's systematically undersold everybody; they broke the secret of retaining their customers, and of constantly adding to the number. No one leaves without buying, and no one buys without buying again.
