Year's THIS is but a fragment of a very interesting letter received by the Zam-Buk Co. from Mrs. E. Cossett, of Joggin Bridge, Digby Co., N.S. The letter continues : When the sores first broke out I called in a doctor ; but his treatment did mo good. I tried salves and lotions and washes of all kinds, but the sores till spread. The disease finally became so bad that the child's face and houlder were completely covered with sores. Imagine the pain the poor child houlder were to suffer 1

"One day a friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I did not have much faith at that time that Zam-Buk would be able to work a cure, but as there could be no harm in trying it, I obtained a supply. At that time the disease had defied all remedies I had tried for over a year. By the time I had tried one box of Zam-Buk there was a marked improvement. I continued the Zam-Buk treatment and day by day the sores showed signs of improvement, until the eczema was confined to the child's shoulder, one sore on which had been particularly deep. By degrees this, also, was healed, and finally Zam-Buk banished every trace of the disease. "I have waited several months before mentioning this Hazel, the little daughter of Duncan McLean, Rodney, was found eating a pie which was filled with "Rough on Rats" and had been set out as bait for the rodents. A doctor was summoned in time to save her life.

Preparations are being made by John Fraser, a retired lumber and coal dealer, of Amherstburg, his son, Kenueth Fraser, and Arthur Healy, also of that place, to build a large dredge this winter and have it ready to launch in the spring.

E. S. D. Gustin, of Bosanquet, who is the agent tor the Co-Operative Apple Association of East Lambton, had to pay $200 for a Transient Traders' License to sell apples by retail in Brandon, Man. He has sold five carloads in that city.

Thursday evening Robert Burnison, a farmer, living south of Glenrae, in the township of Enniskillen, retired as usual. During the night other members of the family heard strange noises in their room, and upon investigating found Mrs. Burni-son unconscious, and her husband nearly so, from the effects of coal gas. Help was called for, and they were carried out of the house. After a time they revived, and are now considered ont of danger. It was found that the coal gas came from a chimney which had become obstructed.

Do NOT DELAY .- Do not let a cold or cough fasten upon you as it will if neg-lected. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will break up a cold and cure a cough, and should be resorted to at once when the first symptons appear. It can be dis-guised so that any unpleasant taste it may have will be imperceptible to the delicate. Try it and be convinced. m

Hogs have taken a slump of 90c per hundred in the past few weeks. They are not worth any less, but the packers are getting ready for Christmas presents and must make the cost out of somebody, and as this is about the farmer's selling time, it's a good time to strike the price. The farmer gets $7.50 per hundred, and and the consumer pays 25° per pound for ham and about 18c for bacon, or an average of about three times what the packers pay the farmer. Seems to us the middle men get the fat off the pork deal, and the farmer and consumer get it where he chicken gets the axe.-Ex

FOR CONSTIPATION

A Medicine that Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredients of Rex-all Orderlies, which is odorless, tasteless and colorless, is an entirely new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strength-ener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeable ness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagree-able effect or inconvenience. Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxa-tives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

DOULTRY owners will make money during the winter if they ob-serve a few plain rules of management. Indifferent methods of work result in failure. Fowls must be kept healthy, feed bills must not be allowed to equal the income, and there should be a constant weeding out of old and poor stock. Every summer and fall it is necessary to select the most vigorous and promising pullets for winter egg production, and these fowls need to be fed and managed with that end in view.

At this time of the year all cockerels and old hens that are not intended for breeding purposes should be fattened and marketed. The best way of doing this is to put them in clean pens and feed regularly a well balanced ration. The main part of the food should be ground corn and oats, to which may be added bran or shorts, boiled pota-toes or almost any other vegetable. Dry food ought to be softened with skimmilk or buttermilk.

If a landowner has wheat, barley or rye these grains may be substituted for corn and oats, but when it can be done without great expense or trouble ground corn and oats should be the staples for fattening as well as for egg production. Do not feed whole oats at any time. After the fowls that are to be marketed are placed in the fattening pens it is essential to feed them regularly and abundantly three should be constantly supplied. To the diet of grain and vegetables it is well to add a little scrap meat, with some fat.

A greater variety of food is required for egg production. In addition to the grain rations mentioned, it is well to give such articles as millet seed and sunflower seed, with a regular supply of meat scraps and ground bone. Clo ver, cabbage and boiled vegetables of all kinds are valuable. Hens make use of old mortar and oyster shells, and it is not difficult to supply such articles. Where a good deal of the food has to be purchased it is feasible to procure stale bread at city bakeries. This is sold at a low figure. Table refuse obtained from hotels and restaurants makes a good diet in itself, but is improved by the addition of grain. Laying hens need exercise and should be let out on every dry day, but never when it is wet. Their housing must be managed with intelligence and care. It is ruinous to have fowls on damp floors or in drafty rooms. Filth is equally dangerous.

Many flocks of hens are totally ruined by lice and disease. To keep them free of vermin it is necessary to have dusting corners to which they can have access at any time, winter or summer. By using insect powders on the birds and washing roosts and walls with kerosene lice can be conquered.
