BIRD'S PAROID
The World's Best Roll Roofing

has earned its enviable reputation during a quarter century because

1. It pays big dividends in wear and satisfaction for years and years!
2. It is distinctive—comes in three colors, slate red, slate green and bright gray.
3. It is extra heavy and pliable—will not crack in cold weather.
4. It is waterproof and sparkproof—gives complete protection.

Paroid Roofing is made by Bird & Son, Limited (Est. 1795), manufacturers of Neponset and Canadian Twin Shingles, Bird's Art Craft Roll Roofing, Neponset Black Building Paper and Combination Wall Board. There's a Bird product for every sort of building.

We are headquarters for Bird's roofings, building papers, and wall board.

"Squibographs"

On a hot spring day a young man's fancy lightly turns to the season's models in straw hats.

Duplicate or unused Christmas gifts come in handy as wedding presents for June brides.

There will be no Maypole dances in the Doukhobor colony. The poles have been seized for taxes.

It is up to some mechanical genius to discover a process for converting a flivver into an airplane.

Having heard so much about it, a local angler is said to have applied at a sporting goods house for a "Hindenburg line."

Cheap passenger airplanes may never be as artistic as flivvers. They have no windshield on which to paste stickers.

A trade pact has been signed between Canada and Spain. The terms do not apply to bull-throwing in either country.

The first shirt collar is said to have been made by a laundress in Troy, N. Y., in 1825. It is one article that has experienced more washdays than birthdays.

The Montreal City Council has arranged to visit Toronto in a body next month. The Toronto solons are practising how to say "Oui, Oui, monsieur."

A Hollywood screen star has adopted a boy baby. The kid may have several foster-fathers before he is old enough to vote.

Parliament is not likely to dissolve till summer, but many of the members may if the work of the session is not completed before July.

If a bootlegger's revenue from his trade is exempt from income tax, his customers may demand a rebate for money contributed for the support of a "dependent."

With the lengthening days it is now possible for amateur gardeners to complete their daily gardening activities before breakfast.

There is no demand for alarm clocks in the Algerian town that has experienced forty-nine earthquakes during the past four months.

Over thirteen thousand babies from all over America are entered in the Chicago baby show. The judges are advised to increase their accident insurance.

Ontario's new beer and gasoline laws come into effect this month. Both liquids contain a certain percentage of gas, one being used as a generator and the other as a lubricator.

Windsor policemen are establishing a summer resort exclusively for members of the force and their families on one of the beaches near that city. The club house may be known as the "station" and the streets called "beats."

Thieves stripped the pews of a Los Angeles church of 150 hymn books, valued at $225. When they are committed to prison the warden may ask them to join in singing "Abide With Me."

In the case of the death of a California man who was crushed by the saving in of a warehouse bin containing onions, the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of "smothered in onions."

An Indian chief in Oklahoma is said to receive a income of $1000 a day from his interests in oil property. He can afford to have a radio set and a player piano installed in his tepee.

A Chicago genius reports the invention of an electric screen that is "rough" on flies and other insect pests that come in contact with it. Many gardeners would appreciate a device that would electrocute neighbors' chickens trespassing on forbidden ground.

The Business of Agriculture

FARMING is more than an occupation; it is a highly commercialized business which requires careful planning and thoughtful execution. Bountiful production is necessary but much effort is wasted unless the business of disposing of the year's output is properly managed. In conducting the business of the farm the Standard Bank can play a prominent and useful part. Consult the manager to learn how true co-operation between banking and agriculture builds a more prosperous community.

H&D SHOCK ABSORBERS
"A Necessity with Balloons"

The Easiest Riding Car is a Ford H&D Equipped

With H&D's the body of your Ford is still while the wheels and axles follow the contour of the road. Sudden jars are turned into undulations. 30% more tire mileage due to absence of hard road shocks. Racking body blows are absorbed—now passed to the chassis.

H&D's are a necessity with balloon tires. "Balloons" are not a substitute for shock absorbers—they are too "bouncy" on rough roads. But balloons and H&D's are the last word in easy riding.

The Vibragraph (a machine for registering vibrations) has demonstrated that a Ford equipped with H&D's is the easiest riding car on the market.

H&D's make the car ride so remarkably easy that after you have used them a week you will not ride without them at ten times their cost.
