

CHAPTER XXIII.

INDUCEMENTS OFFERED BY PRAIRIE LANDS TO SETTLERS.

Saving of the time and labor lost in clearing land of timber stumps and stones.—Cost of that estimated.—Great scope for cultivation, and unlimited hay and pasture at commencement to settlers.—Open for extension of settlement everywhere without the heavy cost of grubbing roads through woods necessary in Canada. .... 95

CHAPTER XXIV.

WHY WE REQUIRE THE NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES.

Because our own vacant lands are inadequate in quantity and quality to receive continued immigration on a large scale.—To give us prairie lands for those who prefer them.—To save our timber forests from unnecessary rapid destruction.—To extend our commerce and manufactures, and give increased employment for shipping.—Interest of the Maritime Provinces in this. .... 98

CHAPTER XXV.

OUR VACANT TERRITORIES AND SETTLING REGIONS IN CANADA, CONSIDERED.

1. The Ottawa Country and Ottawa and Huron Territory, considered in detail.
2. The North Shore of Lake Huron. 3. St. Maurice Territory. 4. Saguenay Territory. 5. Eastern Townships. 6. South Shore below Quebec. 7. Bonaventure, Gaspé and Restigouche, including part in New Brunswick.—Unsuitable to attract and receive extensive immigration.—Value for native enterprise, from mineral and other resources. .... 99

CHAPTER XXVI.

VALUE OF TIMBER FORESTS AND LUMBER TRADE TO THE PROVINCES, CONSIDERED.

Estimated annual outlay in lumber trade in Upper and Lower Canada.—Great expenditure for farm produce and labor.—Encourages settlement by great demand and high prices.—Gives employment and trade in shipping ports, and much freight for shipping.—Forms chief remittance to Europe.—Exceeds in value all other real products of Canada exported. .... 111

CHAPTER XXVII.

ROUTES TO THE RED RIVER COUNTRY CONSIDERED AND COMPARED.

Route by Sea and Hudson's Bay.—Dog Lake and Hudson's Bay Company.—Canoe Route now being opened and improved, described in detail. .... 117
