LECTURE IN TORONTO

and the second second

- islind 612 hm 212 [FROM A CORRESPONDENT.]

I had the pleasure of attending on Wed-nesday evening last a grand entertainment given by the pupils of the LaSalle Institute. The ecclesiastical and civic dignitarles were pupils and their teachers ; but the chief feaoration on the Venerable LaSalle, delivered knows. Yet such things were all to be. with fine oratorical effect by Master J. P. Dunne, of Ottawa, a student in one of the advanced classes of the Institute. I obtained a copy of the manuscript, and herewith enclose it to you, hoping you may find it worthy of a place in your columns.

ORATION ON VEN. DE LASALLE.

I feel it necessary to say a few words prefatory to certain references in my oration on the Ven. De LaSalle. If any references therein should give offence to any one here or elsewhere, I beg to say most emphatically that the fault and the responsibility are mine, and mine only. It might readily be supposed that the Christian Brothers, with that mod-esty which is one of their brightest ornaments, would shrink from appearing, upon an occasion like the present, as the panegyrists of their sainly founder; therefore, not a single Brother, not a single person, saw a sentence, or even a letter of my manuscript, until it was completed. Such as it was then, it is now.

REVERENED SIRS, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,-We cannot fail, when perusing the pages of that majestic volume, the Holy Scriptures, to be struck with the marvellously beautiful and simple manner in which the spirit of God describes men and things. There was once a magnificent saint, Patron of the Universal Church, spouse of the peerless and Immaculate Mother of God, guardian of the Messiah, a man so blessed by the Almighty that the mind can never grasp even the faint conception of the happiness enjoyed by the humble carpenter of Nazareth. Yet how does the Holy Spirit speak of such a one? O pompous inscriptions over sinful dust! O lying hypocrites who fawn upon the great ones of earth with fulsome flattery! O "whited sepulches full of dead men's bones;" blush, blush at this reply: "He was a just man." Nothing more. What simplicity, truth, marvellous brevity; ; still what perfection of descriptive Down, John Bartiet De LeSalla welled in power, John Baptist De LaSalle walked in the stops of Joseph of Nazareth and of Jesus, a greater name; and so he, too, was a just man and one after God's own heart.

In the middle of the seventeenth century the fair face of France was very sad and blotted o'er with tears; in sooth good cause had she for all her woo. Her boys, the most precious portion of her flock, were growing up in all her cities to become a curse to the mother that bore them, a word of reproach among the nations, a scandal to the Church of God. Even already she could discern the storm-clouds looming in a lowering sky, and faintly hear the roll of the thunder, that was, at no very distant date, to shake all Europe with its mighty voice. Nor could these things be hidden from the Eye nor inaudible to the Ear that had ever looked on France with love. despite her wayward humours, that had always listened to her prayers, imperfect though they were. Thus in all the joy of Heaven, and amid the sweet music of its countless choirs, was heard a wail of pain; it was the moan of France's Gaurdian Angel, "whose heart-strings were a lute and who had the sweetest voice of all God's the Most High that he would raise up for the sunny land of Clovis and Charlemagne a shepherd for the poor lambs that went astray and priest of priests, a teacher of teachers, a guide of guides. The angel's prayer was heard, for, in the city of Rheims, in the year of grace 1651, was born John Baptist De LaSalle. This child of grace and vessel of election him? But he was born not for the world, but for God ; not for the coronet of a peer, but for the Cross and Crown of Christ's soldiery. He was born to trample on the world, to overcome the flesh, to worst the devil, and, to such a one, what were the paltry honors, the socalled pleasures, the Dead Sea fruit, for which millions have sold their souls? Less than nothing. As the prophet Isaiah, in hoar antiquity, had his lips cleansed with the burning coal, so I-even I-cry aloud to the Eternal Father, the Good, the Wise, to purify my lips, that the former may conceive, the latter utter, thoughts worthy of this great servant of God.

a manhood of youth, vigor, beauty, learning, given to God and Holy Church? Does he know that there is a young priest in Rheims, of whom men say great things? Such things are. Does he behold himself a Lord Bishop or Cardinal, beloved by his flock, and high in favor with the Holy See, a man received with honor in the ante-chambers of Kings, a spiritual peer, and worthy rival of Fencion well represented; the hall of the Institute | and Bellarmine? Such a thing is never to being filled by a select and appreciative be. But schools for neglected infancy and and/ence. The occasion was the fostival of boyhood springing up, as if by magic, all over the Venerable De LaSalle, founder of the his native land; the art of teaching turned order of Christian Brothers. There were 16 into the science of saints; a band of holy men items on the programme, comprising, as ever growing larger and larger to carry on usual, literature, art and song. The efficient this work of God for all succeeding genera-orchestra and glee club of the Institute tions; an Institute so magnificently organrendered several pieces in fine style. Out of ized that it survived the horrors of that six literary pieces on the programme four monstrous horror, the French revolution; were original, and creditable alike to the and a name and a fame for the House of De LaSalle that should endure "till the last ture of the evening's entertainment was an sun is o'er." Did he see all these? God

> The hand of Omnipotence lifted up the youthful priest of Rheims to be the most prominent figure of his era. The great Order which he founded is as Catholic as the Church of which it is so bright an ornament. From "the rising of the sun to the going down thereof" the Brothers of the Christian Schools, treading in the steps of their saintly founder, combat the enemies of the Cross in all the countries of the world. And even as the Venerable De LaSalle-so like his Divine. Master in this respect-was reviled and scorned by perverse and wicked enemics, so also do his spiritual children in various places experience the malice of blinded and criminal partisans and supporters of godless schools. I take upon myself to say that nowhere, in the British dominions, in recent years, have the Christian Brothers been so reviled and calumniated as in the city of Toronto. And as the persecutors of this saintly Father were all the worse for being traitors in the camp, Jansenists, and bad Catholics, so here, too, the most cruel and treacherous stabs at religion are dealt by renegade Catholics. These are the men who continue to vomit out had charges, couched in worse grammar, and with the worst intentions against a band of religious who are working nobly, gallantly, unselfishly, for God, to whom their enemies will one day sorely account, and for the Church of Canada, which those enemies have so grievously scandalized.

John Baptist De LaSalle lived long enough to see his darling works well nigh completed. From the height of felicity this very moment. leaning on the bosom of his God, he beholds far grander sights in that most beautiful spectacle under Heaven-the Catholic Churchthan his own Institute of the Brothers of the Christian schools.

Quis sicut Dominus Deus noster ? (" Who was the Lord our God who dwelt on high ?") What other lord, what other king, can point to such a servant as the venerable De LaSalle? Yes; truly, the Most High is glorified in his saints; and, of this saint especially, one may say, with love and wonder,

"The pages of thy life I read, And as I closed each one My heart, responding, ever said-"Servant of God, well dons!" JOHN P. DUNNE,

DEATH OF DR. ISAAC BUTT,

May 6.

Our telegraphic despatches of yesterday bring us news of the death in Dublin, of the leader of the Home Rule party in the Imperial House of Commons, Dr. Isaac Butt, M.P., for the city of Limerick. #### Special Notice.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in another column, of the Em-pire Agricultural Works, 27. Dalhousie street, Montreal. This is a new venture in Canada, brought about by the National Policy of the Government. Mr. C. B. Mahan, the manager, has had great experience with all kinds of agricultural implements in the United States, and we have no doubt but that his venture in Canada will be profitable alike to himself and our agricultural community. The Province of Quebec unfortunately is somewhat backword in the maunfacture of farming implements, and this venture of Mr. Mahan's should receive every encouragement from our farmers.

ADVERTISING itself wherever it goes by its wonderous and gratifying effects which it produces, that sterling medicinal preparation, THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL, is winning "golden opinions" in all parts of the United States. Festimonials constantly pour in demonstrating its superlative efficacy, in a manner as pleasing to its proprietors as it must be convincing to those who read it in the public prints, those evidences of its popularity and genuine worth. Never was there a remedy which received ampler or more satisfactory endorsements; never was there one which better deserved it. IT IS A TRIED REMEDY. Experience has demonstrated that it not only relieves but eradicates the most obstinate coughs, sore throat of a malignant type, catarrh of long standing, rheumatism, neuralgia, stiffness and lameness of the back, muscles and joints, piles and kidney troubles, external hurts and sores, and other bodily troubles, as well as many of the disorders peculiar to horses and cattle. That it cures in every instance is not pretended, but that, if systematically used, and the malady susceptible of being remedied, it will remedy it is a fact amply established. Sold by all dealers. Weber Planos are the favorite in-struments of every Prima Donna, every Singer, every Planist of renown, in fact every Musician of note. In their matchless tones, their extra-ordinary power and endurance, they have no equal. Read the following extracts from the leading musicians of the day:-CENTENNIAL JUDGE, on Planos.-" The Weber Planos are undoubtedly the best in America, probably in the world, to-day. The Weber Grand was the most wonderful Plano I ever touched or heard." HER MAJESTY'S OPERA CO.-" For purily and richness of tone, with greatest power and singing duality, we know of no Plano which equals them; certainly, for sustaining the voice, dr cultivating it, the Wober is superior to any Plano known to us." ITALIAN OPERA CO., NEW YORK.-" The tone of the Weber Planos is so pure and pro-longed, and of such inexhaustible depth, that they sustain the voice in a wonderful degree. The action is elastic, they have great strength, and stand remarkably long in tune. We not only commend them in the highest degree, but think them the best Planos in the world." THERENA CARRENO.-"My use of the Weber Planos, at over one hundred concerts, proves how highly I esteem them. They have a tone and touch which meets every require-ment of the most exacting artists, and I am not surprised that every great musician 'prefers' a tone and touch which meets every require-ment of the most exacting artists, and I am not surprised that every great musician' prefers them." JULIA RIVE-KING.—"The finest Plano I ever placed my fingers on." EXMAA C. THURSHY.—"The tones of the Weber Planos are so sweet, rich, sympathetic, yet so full, that I shall always rank him as the greatest manufacturer of the day." NILSSON.—I shall take every opportunity to recommend and praise your instruments. KELLOGG.—For the last six years your Planos have been my choice for the concert room and my own house. ALBANI.—I am thoroughly satisfied with your splendid Planos. They deservedly merit the high distinction they have obtained. LUUCA.—Your Uprights are extraordinary in-struments, and deserve their great success. PATTI.—I have used the Planos of every cele-brated maker, but give yours the preference over all others. See the youthful canon near the venerable prelate. His eyes are on the altar where his heart has been offered up, glowing with love, many a year ago. Yes, since the thrice happy day of First Communion, this second beloved disciple has been all, all for Jesus. No shade of sin has fallen on the whiteness of this virginal soul; no yearning after a hollow world has filled his heart with bitterness; no inordinate love of creatures has come between John Baptist De LaSalle and his Creator.

Follow the youthful priest out into the sunlight, and see him going down the quaint French street; going down to his modest home; going down to a life beautiful with virtue, perfumed with heavenly flowers ; going down to be a father to his fatherless brothers, and a comfort to all within the sphere of his gentle influence. Follow him still. Follow him into his simple room and watch him as he kneels in prayer. What does he see that brings so bright a twinkle to his eye and mantle to his cheek? Does he see a childhood replete with grace and beauty? a little figure often kneeling in angelic prayer before the "Prisoner of Love?" a boyhood, the wonder of Rheims and the glory of his loving and pious parents? and a youth to

May 1, 1879. A largo number of cattle attended the above market to-day and business looks brisker. Quo-tations unaitered. Of the different live stockr about 70 cows are exposed for sale, 60 lambs and 30 sheep. The demand for cows stendily in-creases and a fair business is done in lambs, 200 calves are at the market the prices of which ranging from $1 to $5. The quotations are:-Beef, first quality, $4.50 to $5; second quality, at $3 and $4. Calves, first quality. from $7 to $8; accond quality, selling at $4 and $5. Sheep. first quality, from $6 to $5; second quality, at $4 to $5. Lambs, first quality, $4 to $4.50; second quality, $250 to $3.50.

The man who first utilized medical properties of the bean from which Castor Oll is extracted was undoubtedly a great public benefactor, though millions of young people have mentally anathematized him, as they have had to gulp a big dose of the nauseous stuff. But none of this shadow need rest upon his memory hereafter, for the disgusting taste and smell which had so long made the oil a household horror, have been -The Rev. J. W. he following will explain why we can sell wool Twilled Beiges, at 25c, equal in quality rhat other stores sell at 33c or 35c; also why spent in our store is equal to $1 spent in it other stores; is a fact that Canadian importers buy more eas goods from wholesale houses in England ead of from the manufacturers. These Eng- wholesalers buy largely from London or nechester agents instead of direct from the is. And numbers of Canadian importers pay ill further profit by buying through commils in ouses. Thus retailers who buy in this sket havo to pay five profits, namely, the uufacturers', the commission men's and the adian wholesalers'. We don't say that this is ays the case, as it is well known there are a wholesale importers who can buy equal to firm in Europe, excepting in quantity. But build easily beproved that a large part of the goods men who are consider a denial to those into a firm on a fir profit. If we do sell elting without a fair profit.
