

XXXIII.

From JOHN TROWBRIDGE, S. D., Professor of Physics, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass., Corresponding Member of the British Association, etc.

MY DEAR PROFESSOR MACGREGOR:

I sincerely trust that you may obtain the chair of Experimental Physics in McGill University. I have always read your papers with great interest; and I feel sure that you would build up the department of Experimental Physics, and would contribute to the scientific reputation of the University at Montreal.

I have no objection to your showing this note, if in your opinion, it will further your claims to be considered a candidate for the position.

Very truly yours,

JOHN TROWBRIDGE.
