n; the take it, if he could; you had a chance to fight eive it. him, if you had courage enough to do so. osed to the banks have taken a sneaking way of getting day or your money; they tickle you with a straw on the quite cheek, and put their hands into your pockets, or he side the next thing to it; they have deceived you in an stop every way. Emigrants, and friends of emigrants, ad half I would advise you when you come into this law on country at first, to put all your spare cash into the money post-office savings bank; it will be safe, and drawided he ing a little interest — four per cent.; but ars the it is in a safe place until you want it; expects you will have to give three months' notice t never of withdrawal; but before you deposit your money money the postmaster will give you all the proper e bank and correct information as to what way you must e made proceed. Then you have plenty of time to look ie row around, now that your money is in a safe place, do not and you leave it there on interest; and if you esident have a very large sum that you do not want at le law: present you can deposit a thousand dollars in o; you your own name, another in you wife's name, ut you and a thousand dollars to each of your children, er the even if you have twenty-five; that would give he re-$27,000 at four per cent. per annum, which ," and equals one thousand and eighty dollars ($1,080) broad interest, and that is a very good "nest egg" to lled or fall back on. Of course, before the year is up you at any have moved on to your little farm, your crops e two. are all in, and you are preparing for our long id not winter, the interest comes in very handy. As at he you have only come out in the spring, and if v and you have taken up a bush farm, your fuel costs
