

on the icefields so as to get your men safely aboard your ship or the nearest ship to you?

Answer 9--

Question 10--If you got caught on the ice in bad weather and ice in poor condition and could not get on board your ship or some other what would you do?

Answer 10--I would immediately get my men together and begin to build shelter with the ice pinnacles for the comfort of the batsmen and if any seal-pelts or carcasses around I would immediately get to work and get fires in if possible but always try to keep my men moving to keep them warm.

Question 11 -- What instructions would you give your watch crew before parting from the ship to kill seals on ice?