Verily, 'Tis Love's Young Dream.

When a Boy of 13 Loves a Maid of 11 and Worships Her Tho She's an Angel From Heaven.

To the young, life is said to be all ; A young street boy of 13, with imathe top gallery of the theatre, and ours of eager perusal of five-cen-hrillers, chanced a short time ago to eet a girl of 11. With him it was a clear case of love at first sight, and his wooing became most persistent. He was at last informed that the little girl was a ward of J. J. Kelso, superintendent of neglected children, and that if he did not let up, his destiny would be the Industrial School. Not at all deterred by this threat, he enquired the address of Mr. Kelso, and wrote as follows: J. J. Kelso, Parliament Buildings

Toronto:

Dear Sir.—I am well and happy, but for one thing, which you can put rights. I am in pure, honest, deep, unmoved love with a girl, who lives with old Mr. ——; her name is Laura. I have been worrying about her, and have passed nights of no sleep. I want you to say yes or no to this question. I hope you will say yes. Will you please send her to me, and I will be a happy and contented boy. But if you say no, I will be a heartbroken desprate boy. I hope eyou will send her to me. I can keep

To the girl he wrote as follows:

Dear Laura, -I hope you are well and happy I am keepeing my promise to you. I am also trying hard to get you home with me. Be a good girl love I will come and see you soo as I can. When you are tempted to do rong remember your loving sweet-heart darling and think of promise to him. That is the way I do I am always thinking about you. I have a good home and everything I want or need if I can get you love I will. Tell me if any one trys or harms you. I will shurly wreck vengence on them with my life. I am writing to Mr. Kelso to get you. Write soon.
