Waldorf stock gossip to R. R. Bonsard:
The week's stock exchange developments have weakened sentiment. A world-wide decline and discounts excellent traffic statements, continued activity in trade, these things were counted on to infuse life and strength into the stock markst. The fact that the markst ruled weak in the face of such favorable features gives the impression that influences of an adverse nature as yet not visible are shaping the course of values. There is, for example, a theory that, despite the confidence connected of the connect

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close of the market:

The market to day has developed considerable strength with London buyer of 15,000 shares on balance and aggressive biding by local interests. Many rumors of bullish nature circulated with reference to Union Pacific, including that of a coming charge in presidency of the road and of a holding company for securities owned by the corporation. The real basis, nowever, for the changed sentiment regarding the stock seems to be conviction that the 10 per cent. dividend rate will be maintained. Paris and London divided the gold arriving at the latter point to-day and in view of great expansion of credit facilities in this country it is recalled that our own mines are producing $8,000,000 in gold this month, affording basis for a loan expansion of three times that amount in so far as the metal is not hoarded or used in the arts and manufactures. There has been talk of gold exports from this side but London advices suggest that later on we shall be able to secure gold at that contre. Washington advices are that government deposits in the banks need not be disturbed in process of completing rethrement of the 4 per cent, bonds of 1907. There is much satisfaction over the fact that the local banks have apparently concluded transfers of loans previously carried by trust companies and interior and foreign interests. Aside from this gratifying position of the money market a resume of other ordinary factors warrants optimism. From and copper prices are firm to strong, labor fe quiescent, boom conditions exist in the southwest, heavy stocks of wheat are still unmarketed from the crop of 1906, crop prospects in the northwest are good and are improving in southwestern sections, high class bonds are in demand and stocks are abnormally low in scant supply in the market with the short interest large and becoming apprehansive. Most of the bear points now circulating refer more to remote events than to the presp

Marshall, Spader & Co. had the following at the close of the market:

The first private estimate of acreage indicates a possible increase of about five per cent. over last year, but even this is largely a matter of intention on the part of the farmers, as it is well known that a very large replanting will be necessary, o say nothing of the fact that original acreage has not yet been planted. Very favorable conditions will now be required to relieve the loss the crop has already sustained in delayed growth and cultivation, to say nothing of the fact that late development will expose the plant to a greater porcentage of possible damage from insects and other causes. We look to see all percentage and acreage reports both ali percentage and acreage reports, both private and official, confirm the general estimate that the crop will on May 1 have less promise than on the corresponding date last year.
